Poor Mother Beaten to Death With a Flat-iron by Drunken and Jealous Husband With an Infant in Her Arms—Story of the Tragedy—Murder Predicted by Deputy Redmond Welch Last July

"This man will murder this little woman yet, your honor," was the gruesome prediction made by Deputy Welch in police court, on July 29, last, when Lawrence Chickloss or Cziglis was charged with drunkenness and it was testified that every time he got drunk he invariably abused his wife, a delicate, wan, little woman, the mother at that time of two small children.

The ominous words of the deputy pronounced five months ago yesterday were proven to be prophetic when in a quarrel with his wife in their squalid little tenement in an alley off Winter street, Cziglis, as he spells his name, beat his wife to death with a large flatiron while she held a four-weeks-old infant in her arms, committing one of the most distressingly brutal murders in local criminal annals.

An idea of the cold-blooded brutality of the husband, who fortunately was captured a few hours after the discovery of the crime, can be gained by his statement to the police when informed that his wife was going to die, which was: "No she won't. She'll be all right. I've done that to her before," while at no time did he express any remorse or even regret for his murderous act.

The murderer was arraigned in police court this morning and was held without bail but the police are of the opinion that he will be adjudged insane and sent to the insane institution at Bridgewater eventually, for he was once before sent to the city farm as insane, only to be released upon the pleading of the faithful woman whose life he took.

STORY OF THE CRIME.

Cziglis, with his family, consisting of his wife and three children, aged four years, one year and four weeks, occupied an ill-furnished, squalid three room tenement at No. 4 in the rear of 26 Winter street. Their principal furniture consisted of a small bed, an old lounge, a crib, a table and two common chairs, the entire place having a poverty-stricken aspect. Yet on last Sunday this pinched abode was the scene of revelry and drunken hilarity, for on that day the baby, born on Dec. 2, was christened and friends to the number of 20 crowded into the limited apartments and made merry around three kegs of beer furnished for their entertainment.

During the festivities two of the kegs were used up, while the guests departed, leaving the third untouched. While this keg remained in the house Cziglis refused to work and spent his time disposing of the contents of the keg. In his drunkenness he displayed insane jealousy of his wife, and visited his rage upon the innocent infant, who he claimed was not his child. The patient wife, who had become used to such accusations, said nothing in reply but went about her household duties, only occasionally reminding her husband of their dire necessity and advising him to go to work. Her advice each time brought down the vials of his wrath upon her together with the statement that he would work no more but would remain at home and find out who her callers were.

THE TERRIBLE CRIME.

And thus his jealous rage grew until yesterday afternoon, when the terrible climax came. Cziglis entered the house, drunk and in his customary choleric mood. His wife upon his entrance stood by the kitchen range attending to the fire with the infant in her arms, while nearby in the crib lay the one-year-old child, who owing to some deformity, is hardly bigger or stronger than the infant. Both children had the appearance of being half starved. The four-year-old girl was asleep on the lounge.

Cziglis roughly pushed his wife away from the fire complaining of the low temperature of the room. Then he raked over the fire himself and put on more coal, meanwhile abusing his wife with all the invectives he could command.

Then he faced his wife and accused her of infidelity and she denied the

IN POLICE COURT

Fred M. Haskell Was Fined $25

FOR PEDDLING WITHOUT LICENSE

Gravel Sent to Jail for Larceny

Fred M. Haskell, charged with illegally peddling jewelry, inasmuch as he had no license so to do, pleaded guilty and was fined $25. Haskell hails from the Pine Tree state and had only been in this state two days and in Lowell about two hours when he was arrested.

When Haskell was taken to the police station it was found that he had enough cheap jewelry upon his person to supply half the establishments of Lowell.

When he wanted to sell a ring he put it on his finger and then representing himself as "broke" offered it for a dollar to take him out of town. He said he was from Bangor, Me., and was fined $25.

John F. Byrne was fined $2 for drunkenness.

Patrick Monyhan said he had a few drinks but was not drunk. Patrolman Joseph Noye testified that both he and Lieutenant Brosnahan were called to the house of the defendant on Union street. The defendant was very drunk, and his wife was all covered with blood. Monyhan had been assaulting his wife.

His wife testified that he was very drunk and had abused her repeatedly.

Monyhan was placed under bonds to keep the peace for six months.

Michael Sweeney, a chum of Monyhan, was arrested at the same time. He pleaded not guilty, but it did not go and Michael will be found at the state farm for some time to come.

William Black was up for the third offence and sentenced to two months in jail.

Patrick McDermott was fined $6.

GRAVEL SENT TO JAIL.

Alfred C. Gravel pleaded guilty this morning in police court of the larceny of two coats, two vests, three pairs of pants, a pair of shoes and a watch chain, the property of James L. Wentworth of Queen street, and received a sentence of six months in the Lowell jail. All the stuff with the exception of the watch chain has been recovered. This, Gravel said, he gave to his brother in Somerville.

SPECIAL SESSION

Juvenile Cases Heard in Library

Immediately after the adjournment of the regular session of the police court yesterday Judge Hadley took up the docket of complaints against juvenile offenders. This session was held in the court library and was not strictly open to the public. Formerly these young folks were heard before the special session, but better results are being made by the holding of the special session.

Two morning there were four boys to be charged with being stubborn children. They were allowed to go on probation, after receiving some good advice from his honor.

WOMEN'S EIDERDOWN ROBES AT $2.95.

They're the kinds that were $3.75 at Christmas, but are soiled from handling and display. All sizes left if you come today. The Merrimack Clothing company.

LIQUOR OFFICERS' REPORT.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 5. The first report submitted by the liquor enforcement commissioners of Maine shows the total expenses for the nine months the commission has been in existence to be $10,974. The amount received in fines and fees of officers was $1938, making the cost to the state $8,986. The appropriation was $2500 per annum. The salary of each of the three commissioners is $1070.

WOMEN'S DRESSING SACQUES 79c.

We're closing out these lines. There is a special value in fine ripple elderdown, nicely made and finished. Sold at 98c. The Merrimack Women's Department.

CITY HALL NOTES

HEARING ORDER SIGNED BY THE MAYOR

The petition of Paul Butler, Butler Ames, Charles L. Bennington and Alfred Adamson, for a majority of the directors of the Boston & Lowell Interurban Street Railway Co., for a hearing before the board of aldermen, was signed by Mayor Casey this morning.

The purpose of the company in asking for the hearing before the board of aldermen is for the purpose of securing a franchise to lay tracks in this city.

The hearing will be held in the aldermen's chamber on Tuesday night January 23d at eight o'clock.

CITY CLERK SWORN IN

Mayor Casey this morning swore in Girard P. Dadman as city clerk for the ensuing year. City Clerk Dadman will later swear in the other heads of departments at city hall.

ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE

The committee on accounts, consisting of Alderman Crosby, chairman, Councilmen Cheney and Hogan will meet this evening at eight o'clock at city hall for the purpose of organizing.

The principal business of the meeting will be the appointing of an auditor to examine the books of the city treasurer, and all the books of other departments which receive money including those of the city clerk's office, city cemeteries, board of health, police department, sealer of weights and measures and city weigher.

The auditor will begin his duties as soon as possible after his appointment and it will take about two months to go through the books in that office. The examination of the books in the other departments is not such a long task.

IT'S SPOTTED FEVER

Rox Martin, of 14 Whipple street, whose case was diagnosed by one doctor as that of cerebro-spinal meningitis, while another physician stated the boy was suffering from a cold, has been removed to the Lowell hospital.

The board of health authorities feel positive that he is suffering from spotted fever.

Both Martin and the Mahoney boy, who was also removed to the hospital, are resting comfortable.

DID YOU HEAR ABOUT THE WAIST SALE?

Come to the Merrimack today if you want to get in on that sale of Women's Winter Waists, when $3, $4 and $5 waists are offered at 95c. Don't take too long to think it over. Act quickly.

AGAINST HARPER

A VERDICT OF $5,280,313 IS AFFIRMED.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—A verdict for $5,280,313 against Edward L. Harper, once vice-president of the Fidelity National bank of Cincinnati, was affirmed yesterday by Judge Cox in the United States circuit court. Eighteen years ago Mr. Harper was convicted of causing the failure of the Fidelity bank, and served six years in prison. Today's verdict grew out of this failure. The amount sued for in 1888 was $2,000,000, to which was added interest which has accrued to it. Mr. Harper is at present vice president and general manager of the United Iron & Steel company, with offices in this city.

APPRAISAL OFF

The Committee Chosen Gave Up the Job

Messrs. Dow, H. Varnum, George L. Fowler and John J. Burns, who were appointed to appraise the property at the city farm have given up the idea of continuing the work.

As stated in yesterday's issue of The Sun, the appraisers threatened to make matters hot and were going to appraise the property, no matter what objections were offered. Yesterday they grew very hot and sarcastical, but a good night's rest last night served to cool their ambition for the work.

Upon leaving the farm last night Chairman Varnum inquired if it would be impossible to start work at 8.30 o'clock this morning. He was informed by Clerk Mahoney that he could commence operations any time after 6 o'clock in the morning.

George L. Fowler stated to a representative of The Sun that the committee had decided not to tackle the work, as after a careful survey of the work to be performed, they would not have time to complete the work and submit a report before the overseers of the poor's terms of office closed.

DEATHS

OWENS—Miss Mary Owens, aged 51 years and 5 months, died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Martin Hansbury, 17 Stromquist avenue, yesterday. Besides Mrs. Hansbury she leaves another sister, Mrs. Maurice Owens, who lives in Ireland, and one brother, Andrew of this city.

OWENS—Mary Owens, aged 51 years, died this morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. Martin Hansbury, 17 Stromquist avenue. She is survived by a brother Andrew and two sisters, Mrs. Hansbury of this city and Mrs. Maurice Owens in Ireland.

JORDAN—Mrs. Mary C. Jordan, aged 50 years, died yesterday at her home in Greenville, N. J. The deceased was formerly a resident of this city and a prominent member of the First Baptist church.

The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at two o'clock from the home of her niece, Mrs. James A. Spiers, 23 Phillips street. Friends invited.

FUNERALS

STETSON—The funeral of Mary C. Stetson was held Wednesday from the home of her nephew, Mr. Albert S. Guild, 26 Arlington street. Services were conducted by Rev. Smith Baker, D. D., of Portland, Me. The bearers were A. S. Baker, D. R. Boynton, Justin Kimball and Andrew Liddell. Deacon A. D. Carter had charge of the funeral arrangements and burial was in the Lowell cemetery under direction of Undertaker G. W. Healey.

BRITISH DOCTOR

Was Eaten Up By Cannibals

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 5. The steamer Obuasi of the Elder-Dempster line, which arrived here yesterday, brought a horrible story of cannibalism in Nigeria, Africa, of which Dr. Stewart of the southern Nigeria government was the victim.

The doctor accompanied an expedition to the interior, but was separated from the main body. With only a few carriers he proceeded to Calabar river. He was riding a bicycle and being outstripped by the carriers, missed the main road and ran into the village of a ... tribe.

The carriers returning found Dr. Stewart's bicycle and later parts of his body. Joining the main force they gave information as to their discovery. The investigation which followed showed that the body had been horribly mutilated, and there was evidence that it had been partially eaten.

It is stated that the village is only two days' march from Calabar river. It is known that the natives often indulge in cannibal feasts.

BIG INCREASE

IN THE EXPORTS OF AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Manufacturers participated to the extent of more than [illegible] dollars in the $[illegible] worth of [illegible] of the United States during [illegible] months ending with November [illegible] statistics announced by the department of commerce and labor show that the value of manufacturers' materials imported was $[illegible] during these eleven months and of manufactures exported $[illegible], against $[illegible] the previous year. The value of crude [illegible] for use in manufacturing imported in this time was $389,000,000 against $[illegible] in the same months of the previous year. During those months there was a remarkable increase in the exports of agricultural products especially of corn, the value of which rose from $[illegible] in the previous year to $[illegible] during the first eleven months of this year.

SENATOR GALLINGER INJURED.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Senator and Mrs. Jacob H. Gallinger of New Hampshire who were knocked down by a street car last night, are not suffering any serious effects today. Both were bruised and their faces cut slightly, but they sustained no other injuries. The senator was able to go to the capitol today.

Mr. G. W. Knowlton, president of the Wamesit bank, and Mrs. Knowlton, have gone to Clifton Springs, N. Y., and will probably be away for some time, as Mr. Knowlton has been out of health for the past year or more.

FROM YESTERDAY'S LATE EDITION

WILL NOT BE PAID

"Riot Act" Read to City Farm Appraisers

Mayor Casey, Supt. Donlan of the [illegible] farm and Messrs. David H. Varnum, Geo. L. Fowler and John J. [illegible], who were appointed appraisers of the property of the city farm by the overseers of the poor at the meeting held Monday night, had a series of heated arguments this morning.

It will be remembered that the four members of the dying board of overseers of the poor appointed the three above named men to appraise the property of the farm and submit a report, for which work they were to be paid.

Owing to the fact that the board will be out of existence in less than two weeks and as the new board of charities to be appointed will have to make a new appraisal of the property, Mayor Casey and Supt. Donlan did not see the necessity of wasting the money to pay the appraisers appointed by the board.

This morning about 9.30 o'clock the three appraisers put in an appearance at the farm and called on Dr. Charles E. Donlan and stated their business.

They had not uttered many words however before typewritten letters were handed to each one, each letter reading as follows:

"Dear Sir: I have the honor to say that as a private citizen you have my permission to examine any and every part of this institution if done without remuneration.

"But, I shall not recognize any act you may perform as official and hereby give notice that I will not approve any claim for compensation.

"DR. CHARLES E. DONLAN."

[illegible] to us that we cannot go through the institution?" asked Mr. Varnum, who appeared to be the spokesman for the [illegible].

"No I do not. You [illegible] any place you wish to in the [illegible], as will any other citizen of Lowell," was the doctor's answer.

"Well we are going to and are going to appraise the property."

"Well if you do it will be without compensation, for I will refuse to approve any bill which [illegible] send in."

A hot controversy then ensued and Mr. Varnum called Mayor Casey on the telephone and some exchange of words was in order. Mayor Casey instructed Mr. Varnum not to make an appraisal of the property, stating to that gentleman that it was an unnecessary expense owing to the fact that the board of charities would have to perform the same duties in several weeks, and that he didn't intend to put the city to any unnecessary expense to please the whims of [illegible] outgoing board.

He also informed them that he would refuse to approve any bill which they might render. As to entering the institution, he agreed with Dr. Donlan, that the men could inspect the place, but if they intended to make any appraisal that they would do so at their own expense and that it would be a mere loss of time.

Nevertheless the three appraisers started on their duties and went through a portion of the institution and left shortly before eleven o'clock for dinner.

In the afternoon Messrs. Varnum and Fowler returned but Mr. Burns was missing. Mr. Burns is not anxious for the work, and [illegible], anticipating trouble, and [illegible] will not assist any further in the appraisal of the property.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

Will be Served on Property Owners

Four temporary clerks are busily engaged in the assessors' office copying off the list of names of owners of property through [illegible] the city and stating the amount of valuation of the property together with other details. The men are making out the list in compliance with the request of the Massachusetts Gypsy Moth commission.

As soon as the list of names of the owners of property is copied from the assessors' books printed notices will be sent out to the different property owners, notifying them to remove all gypsy moth nests from the trees on their property.

According to the law the property owners are obliged to do this and in case no action is taken by the owners who have trees infested with the moths they will be summoned before the commission and action taken.

ANNUAL REPORT

Work of Lands and Buildings Dept.

Supt. John J. O'Connor of the lands and buildings department is busily engaged preparing his annual report. This year the head of this department will have his report in printed form, which will be a departure from the methods of former superintendents. The last printed report of the lands and buildings departments was issued in 1893 when Richard Bray was superintendent.

A resume of the building work of the year 1905 shows that there was a decided increase in operations over any previous year.

During the year 1905, 165 new buildings were erected. Of this number fourteen were of brick and 151 of wood. One permit issued by the superintendent was cancelled.

Eighty-six permits for making alterations and additions were granted, and of this number nine were for brick buildings and 77 for wooden buildings, making a grand total of 251 permits issued during the year.

The total valuation of the buildings erected was $[illegible] and of the alterations made $51,[illegible], making a grand total of $[illegible] as against the total of $[illegible] for the year previous.

ARLINGTON MILLS

MAY NOT REMAIN AT ATHERTON.

It is possible that the Arlington mills may abandon the plant which they are now occupying at Atherton. When they took the lease last April it was stipulated that if they desired to lease the premises for a further period they would notify the owner, Edward Cawley, of this city, by the first of January. Mr. Cawley has not as yet received any notice. He says, however, that he expects to hear from the company in a day or two and that if the Atherton company moves away a new industry will take its place.

HOSPITAL GUILD

GAVE A TEA AT MRS. PARKER'S ON WILDER STREET.

The first of a series of teas to be given under the auspices of the Young Women's Hospital Guild was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter L. Parker on Wilder street. The members of the guild assisted at the tea.

Mrs. Parker with the president of the guild, Miss [illegible] W. Stevens, received and other members assisted. In the dining room Mrs. Harvey B. Greene had general charge and she was assisted by a corps of young ladies who alternated in presiding at the tea table. Mrs. F. H. Putnam had charge of the cake table, and Miss Edith Richardson of the candy table.

From 4 to 5 there was a short program of music. Mde. C. M. Williams sang charmingly, Miss Williams accompanying. Her selections were "Dear Love" by Chadwick, "[illegible] Song," Godard, and "Elegie," Massenet. Miss Agnes Williams, whose violin solos are always thoroughly enjoyed, played "Romance" by Wieniawski, Miss Alice Perham, harpist, accompanying. Mrs. Robert Thompson, a singer whose sweet voice, once heard, will be always in demand at such gatherings, gave two numbers, "With You, Dear," by Scott, and "I Wonder," by Sybil Palmer.

The second tea of the series is at the house of Mrs. J. A. Meigs, Beech and Teele streets, Wednesday, January 24.

TEXTILE WON

ELITE SKATERS DEFEATED IN EXCITING CONTEST.

At the Elite skating rink last night there was a race between the Elite skating relay team and a picked team from the Textile school. The race was a particularly exciting one and was easily captured by the Textile team, who lapped the skaters in the 14th lap.

Several mishaps occurred to the skaters, as they did not seem able to keep their feet at the pace set for them. Textile won by about a lap and a quarter. The teams were as follows:

Textile W. Whitman, W. Macdonnell, W. Baker, W. Lee, C. Keat.

Elite T. McDermott, G. Andrews, T. Hannafin, A. Grey, J. Grey.

FUNERALS

DEVINE The funeral of the late Michael Devine took place this morning at 8.30 o'clock from his home 410 Adams street, and was largely attended by sorrowing friends and relatives, including a number from out of town. The cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church where at 9 o'clock a mass of requiem was celebrated Rev. Fr. Walsh officiated. The choir, under the direction of Michael J. Johnson, sang Schmidt's mass, and during services appropriate selections were rendered by members of the choir. Mr. Johnson presided at the organ. The bearers were James [illegible], Haverhill, Cornelius O'Keefe, Maurice Hannafin, Thomas Sheehan, Patrick Thomas and John Maher.

At the grave Rev. Fr. James Walsh conducted the final obsequies and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

FINNEGAN The funeral of the late Mrs. Maria Finnegan took place this morning from [illegible] late residence, 56 Kinsman street at 8.30 o'clock and was very largely attended by sorrowing friends and relatives, including a number from Lawrence. The cortege proceeded to the Sacred Heart church on Moore street where a high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I. The choir under the direction of Mrs. Muldoon sang the Gregorian chant and fitting selections were rendered by members of the choir during the service. The bearers were Messrs. Timothy Clifford, Michael [illegible], Patrick Sullivan, Timothy [illegible] and William Mulligan. There were many beautiful floral offerings showing the esteem in which she was held by her many friends. The interment was in St. Patrick's cemetery. Rev. John P. Flynn, O. M. I. officiated at the grave. Funeral directors John J. O'Connell & Co. had charge of the arrangements.

BILLERICA

The Weymesit [illegible] met with Miss Ethelle Fordham, Wednesday evening, and a fine entertainment program was carried out. Several mandolin and banjo duets were rendered by Mrs. Harry Wright and Miss Ethelle Fordham, after which there was a debate.

The new plate issued by the Billerica Historical society consists of a fine picture of the soldiers' monument on the common in the centre village. On the back of the plate is the following inscription:

SOLDIER'S MONUMENT

Ruth, secretary; Mrs. Charlotte Smith, conductor; Mrs. [illegible] Morgan, assistant conductor; Mrs. [illegible] Queen, guard; Mrs. Edith [illegible], assistant guard.

The circle voted to support Mrs. Mary Kimball as department president by a unanimous vote.

DEATHS

KILCOYNE Annie V. Kilcoyne, a well-known resident died last night at 61 Summer street, aged 43 years. The remains were taken to the chapel of J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

DOHERTY Thomas Doherty, aged four years, child of Michael and Nora, died this morning at the home of his parents, 3 rear of 382 Suffolk street.

MATRIMONIAL

At St. Patrick's parochial residence last Wednesday evening Mr. William Riley and Miss Catherine Rynne were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. Gilday. The bride was attended by Miss Julia Talbot and the best man was Mr. James Riley. At the conclusion of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 366 Market street. The young couple left on a wedding trip to New York and Philadelphia. They were the recipients of numerous presents. Friends from Manchester and Haverhill attended the reception and joined with their many Lowell friends in wishing the young couple all prosperity.

BOOK-A-MONTH CLUB.

The Book-a-Month club was very charmingly entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. George Mansur, 61 Bellevue street.

Mrs. J. Clark Glidden presided over the meeting, during which a very entertaining program was given. A paper on France, covering its political evolution from 1848 to 1905, and written by Mrs. Arthur Ferguson, was read by Miss Eva Magoon. A talk on Paris was given by Miss Yvonne Lemaitre and Miss Alice Reese spoke in an entertaining way on "Fetichism in Africa." A discussion of the latest books and magazines was then held before adjourning till the next meeting.

A dainty lunch was served after the meeting, Mrs. George L. Fowler, Sr., and Mrs. George L. Fowler, Jr., assisting Mrs. Mansur in the dining room.

UNION BANK OFFICIALS.

The annual meeting of the Union National bank was held yesterday at the banking rooms and considerable routine business was transacted. The following officers and directors were elected, there being no change made from last year's list: Arthur G. Pollard, president; George S. Motley and Walter L. Parker, vice presidents. The directors are Joseph L. Chalifoux, Frederic C. Church, Thos. Costello, Frank E. Dunbar, John Lennon, Charles S. Lilley, Frederick P. Marble, George S. Motley, Walter L. Parker, Arthur G. Pollard, Artisa Pratt and Patrick F. Sullivan.

The bank has had a successful year, having paid on Jan. 1 the regular semi-annual dividend of $4 per share.

LADIES' BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

The Ladies' Benevolent society of the First Congregational church held a pleasant supper, social and entertainment in the church vestry last night. The entertainment included the following numbers: Piano duets, Miss Ivah Connell and Miss Alice Cochrane, readings, Miss Crystal Deane; violin solos, Mrs. Young; readings, Miss Edith Maker; trio, the Misses Richburg. Cornet accompaniment by Mr. Bodreau; piano solo, Miss Ella Martel; cornet solo, Mr. Bodreau.

CENTRALVILLE SOCIAL CLUB.

A smoke talk was held by the members of Club Social of Centralville last night in conjunction with the installation of the recently elected officers. The following were the officers installed: President, J. A. Mallec; vice president, R[illegible] Lassier; secretary-treasurer, J. A. [illegible]; assistant secretary-treasurer, M. D. Chenevert; auditors, Fred Lussier, Joseph Jinnotte, Albert Marcotte; sergeant-at-arms, Hector Monette.

Mrs. R. A. Geoffroy of Arctic Centre, R. I., is visiting her sisters, Mrs. A. Trinque and Miss Ellen Precourt.

A SERVANT GIRL

Says She Heard Three Shots Fired

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 4.—Until the autopsy is held upon the body of Charles A. Edwards, the New York business man who was fatally shot in a mysterious manner while the guest of his brother-in-law, Charles A. Hiller, on College street, early yesterday, no special developments are looked for in this singular case. The autopsy will be performed by Medical Examiner Bartlett and he will be assisted by several prominent surgeons of the city. After the autopsy Coroner Mix is expected to reopen the inquest which was held for many hours last night. Over night there were no clews brought to light. A servant girl in a neighboring house had told of hearing three pistol shots during Tuesday night and scrutiny was made of the walls and ceilings of several rooms to see if any stray bullets could be located but the search was unsuccessful.

Mr. Edwards' death has caused a greater stir in the university sections of the city than any incident in many years. It seems to be generally known that there were disagreements between Mrs. Edwards and her brothers, Charles A. and Maxey Hiller over the settlement of the estate of her mother, Mrs. Abigail Hiller, who died six weeks ago. Mr. Edwards recently consulted counsel preliminary to what was expected to be a contest in the courts over the division of the estate which is said to be worth $100,000.

PURE FOOD FAIR

More Firms Have Engaged Floor Space

The work of setting up the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Exposition, Pure Food Fair and Military Carnival is well under way at the armory. A force of electricians, carpenters and decorators have started to work and will work from January 2 until the opening of the fair, the 11th at 1.30 p. m. Several more large firms have closed contracts for space in the last few days. One of the largest of these is the local firm of George E. Putnam & Son, who will have one of the most beautifully decorated booths in the armory, occupying a floor space of about 500 square feet where they will exhibit and demonstrate [illegible] their Flour with an electric oven made of glass so that the public can look into it and see the biscuit or cake going through the process of baking. This booth will be on the right hand side of the armory going in. It will be decorated with red, white and black bunting and will be one of the most attractive booths in the armory. Free samples and souvenirs will be given away at the booth.

Another local firm that has taken a large space is the Thompson Hardware Co., who will demonstrate a line of patent roofing, house paints and hardware. All of the grange societies from the surrounding towns have been invited to attend and most of them will visit the exposition on Friday afternoon and evening, January the 12th, which is Grangers Day. The New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. have started to set up their exhibit and the same will be in readiness for the free long distance service when the fair opens. Following is a list of some of the exhibitors that have signed to exhibit up to January 1st: New England Telephone and Telegraph Co., Genesee Pure Food Co., H. R. Barker Co., Hecker Jones Jewell Milling Co., Tuke & Parker Co., Northwestern Milling Co., Salt-O-Nut Co., Smith & Lawrence Co., Dwinnel-Wright Co., Williams Furniture Co., Allen Bros. Glass Manufacturers, Sulpho Napthol Co., D-Zerta Food Co., Jersey Ice Cream Co., Armour Co., Sterling Range, Ceresota Flour, Simpson & Rowland, Woodward Novelty Co., Duffy's Non-Alcoholic Cider, Occident Flour, Hires Golden Cream, Jell-O, Welch Grape Juice Co., Worcester Salt, Egg-O-See, Rumford Baking Powder, Mansfield & Whitam, and the Fattest Babies in the whole world. The management reports to the executive committee that there are four more desirable spaces for exhibitors and the prospects are that Lowell will have a very grand industrial exposition and pure food fair from January 11th to the 21st, 1906.

CYCLE NOTES

Some of the English prints speak rather mournfully of the future of motorcycles. While there are more of them in use than of automobiles, the progress has not been all that fancy painted. Fancy ever was a fickle jade, but if the motor bicycle has halted in the "tight little isle," it is not at all surprising.

Viewed from this distance, the average foreign motor bicycle is, if not a monstrosity, at least, close to it. It is not unlike the types that were in favor in this country three years ago. They repel rather than attract the eye. They are big, heavy, ungainly appearing creations that fairly bristle with little levers. Some of the English critics themselves admit that the machines have been overweighted and overpowered, and point to France also as an indication that too much power has had a deterring effect. They think that from four to six horsepower is amply sufficient and should be the limits of the future, but if to develop that power it will still require the big, bulky motors in common use, and also the abundance of machinery and operating levers, it is doubtful if the British trade or the French trade will show very marked improvement.

It is the clean-cut simplicity of the pedal propelled bicycle that is one of its chief attractions and the popularity of the motor bicycle will be measured not a little by its approach to that simplicity. The more it is loaded with levers and paraphernalia and made to look like a miniature automobile or a machine shop on wheels, the less it will attract and interest the public. To American eyes, the average foreign motor bicycle appears a shop of that sort.

Happily, the American makers, generally speaking, seem to have grasped these facts, and the good results are plainly apparent. Instead of motorcycles being in the "doldrums," they are but just entering on their era of prosperity.

The Europeans pointed the way to these good results by adopting a record weight limit of 110 pounds. Except in England, it served to keep weights within reasonable bounds. But the foreigners overlooked the limitation of power, and the result was a crop of impractical and repelling and dangerous monstrosities that it is now freely admitted have done more harm than good. They are now endeavoring to repair the damage, but it is proving no easy task.

Whatever may be said, the Federation of American Motorcyclists served the American industry and the American public a good turn when it adopted not only the 110-pound weight limit for record performances, but set a limit of 3 horsepower on such machines as may be used in competitions of whatever sort. It discouraged the "freak" just as it encouraged the practical machine. Its effect is well illustrated in the case of the most vociferous and rampant opponent of the 110-pound rule. The remark of a rider when he viewed the new model of this concern exactly stated the case: "Well, at last they've commenced to build a decent machine!"

COURT MARTIAL

CASE OF MISHDIPMAN FOSTER TAKEN UP.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 4.—The court-martial which has been in session for several days trying the cases of alleged hazers, reassembled today. The court then took up the case of Midshipman Worth W. Foster of New Albany, Ind., who is charged with hazing Midshipman Chester S. Roberts. Mr. Theall, Foster's counsel, objected to the indefinite nature of the time alleged for the commission of the acts and asked that the judge advocate be compelled to specify more exactly. The court was cleared to consider his request.

GOING TO GREECE

GREEKS TO GIVE $150 TO AMERICAN TEAM

D. N. Botassi the Greek consul-general, notified James E. Sullivan, secretary-treasurer of the A. A. U. yesterday that the committee of the Olympic games at Athens [illegible] will [illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] defraying the expenses of an American team of athletes to Athens. It is stated that the team will consist of about twenty men, and they will leave here early in March and have a full month in the Grecian capital to prepare for the contests which are scheduled from April 22 to May 2 inclusive. A meeting of the American committee has been called for the Waldorf-Astoria on January 31 on the strength of the contribution, when the details of the trip will be outlined.

In connection with the representation of American athletes at Greece a finance committee has been appointed of which Julian W. Curtiss of Yale has been selected chairman. This committee will receive extra contributions, as the sum donated by the Greeks will not be sufficient for the full cost of the team. In writing to Mr. Sullivan, Consul Botassi says:

"I have the pleasure to inform you that the committee of the Olympic games at Athens, taking into consideration the very heavy expense which will be incurred by the athletes who propose to take part in the said games, has decided to come partly to their assistance by disposing a certain amount of money to each of the foreign committees. To this effect I am instructed to inform you that the Greek committee places at the disposition of the American committee the sum of 750 francs, about $150.

"Besides this the Greek committee offers its brotherly hospitality to twenty of the American athletes during their stay in Athens, and moreover, being desirous to facilitate the athletes and also to encourage a greater number of American athletes or visitors to the games, the committee offers to provide board and lodging to the American visitors, who may so desire, at the rate of 7 francs and upward per diem, provided due notice be given in advance, of such purpose to the committee.

"In bringing to your knowledge the above decisions of the Greek committee, I beg you to communicate them to your president, Mr. Caspar Whitney, and to the other members of the American committee and to express the hope that, having received such a handsome start from Athens, they will now proceed vigorously to work and make the American representation to the games a brilliant success."

It has been stated that at the Waldorf-Astoria meeting the team for Greece will be selected, but it is not generally known what lines will be pursued in picking the men, but it was unofficially learned yesterday that holders of national championships, that is, the winners at the A. A. U. meet at Portland, Ore., last August, would have pride of place. After that list has been exhausted the crack men of the eastern college and a couple of first rate clubs like the New York A. C. and Irish A. A. C., would be considered. The swimmers, gymnasts, shooters, fencers, oarsmen and cyclists will be selected in pretty much the same style.

The program is not a very extensive one, but it embraces a lot of popular events. The flat racing events are five in number, 100, 400, 800, 1500 metres and the race of 42 kilometres from Marathon to Athens, and contestants in this latter event must have attained the age of 21 years. Only one hurdle race is included, and that is 110 metres, high obstacles. There are five jumping events, standing and running long jumps, running high jump, hop, step and jump and pole vault. Weight throwers will be rather limited. The discus will be thrown both in Grecian and free styles, the latter meaning from a seven foot circle. Putting the 42 pound stone, one of the oldest forms of heavy weight exercise, will be introduced, and the later day form of putting the 16 pound shot will be used. An all round program of five events entitled the Pentathlum has been arranged, the events being 192 metres, broad jump, discus, Greek style, hurling the javelin and wrestling. Besides these there will be tug-of-war, walking 1500 metres and rope climbing. Odd events will consist of lawn tennis, association football and diving.

To help out the fund Joseph B. Maccabe, president of the A. A. U., has stated that every associate member of the national body will be asked for a contribution, and as several have already signified their intention of subscribing there is no doubt a large sum will be collected.

TARIFF DEBATE

The House Takes Up Philippine Measure

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—More than the average attendance of members were in their places when the house met for its first session after the holiday recess today.

Regarding as serious an editorial statement in a local paper that members of the house abuse the franking privilege to the extent of sending cows, farm animals, furniture and kitchen utensils free through the mails, Mr. Sherley (Dem.) of Kentucky asked leave to assert that an investigation should be made and presented a resolution for an investigation by the committee on post-offices and post roads. The resolution was agreed to.

On motion of Mr. Payne the house resumed consideration of the president's message making reference to it by topic to the various committees. Mr. Payne withdrew the amendment which had occasioned the seven days' discussion before the holiday recess, the reference of that part relating to insurance to the ways and means committee.

Mr. Hepburn at once submitted an amendment referring the whole question of the control of corporations other than railways to the judiciary committee with instructions "to report fully at an early day their views as to the power of the federal government by legislation to regulate or control said corporations in the management or control of their business and business matters and if said power exists then the extent of such power and under what provisions of the constitution it is conferred upon congress."

This amendment was agreed to without objection and as there was no discussion of other items the reference of the entire message was made according to the terms of the resolution.

The Philippine tariff bill was then taken up for consideration. Consideration of the bill was conducted in committee of the whole with Mr. Olmsted (Penn.) in the chair. After the bill had been read Mr. Payne in charge of the measure took the floor. The debate he said would continue at the pleasure of the house and opportunity would be given to all.

THE SENATE

ROBERT M. LaFOLLETTE TAKES THE OATH.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Robert M. LaFollette was sworn in today as a senator from Wisconsin. Ten minutes before the session began the doors of the republican cloak room opened and Senator Spooner and his new colleague entered the chamber. This caused a mild sensation for it was known that there had been a bitter political feeling existing between them. It was not known up to within a short time whether or not Mr. Spooner would escort his colleague to the desk to take the oath or that Mr. LaFollette would accept the escort, but all this was arranged in the cloak room.

A few minutes before the senate was called to order, Mr. Spooner invited Mr. LaFollette to a seat beside himself in the second row on the republican side of the chamber just off the centre aisle.

The reading of the journal had not progressed far when Mr. Spooner moved that this formality be dispensed with. This motion prevailed and Mr. Spooner announced the presence of his colleague. He then proffered his arm to Mr. LaFollette and the two Wisconsin men walked to the vacant space in front of the vice-president's desk. They were the objects of general observation.

The ceremony at the desk was brief. The new senator was received by the vice-president who greeted him with a cordial shake of the hand. After Mr. LaFollette had signed the oath which he had taken he was again joined by Mr. Spooner and escorted to the seat assigned him.

FOUND DEAD

CAPT. HOPKINS WAS MENTIONED IN CONNECTION WITH WAR STORES SCANDALS.

PRETORIA, Transvaal Colony, Jan. 4. Capt. Hopkins, quartermaster of the Second Dragoon Guards, whose name had been mentioned in connection with the war stores scandal in the South African war, was found dead today under circumstances pointing to suicide.

GRANTED PRINTERS DEMANDS

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The publishing office of Harper and Bros. acceded today to the demands of their striking printers for the 48 hour week and the closed shop. More than 100 printers employed by the house will return to work at once.

VESSEL ASHORE

Was Grounded in the Dense Fog

BOSTON, Jan. 4. The British steamer Aranmore, inward bound from Halifax, N. S., went ashore in Black Rock channel between Bug light and Lovell's Island while coming up the harbor today. The 12 passengers were taken off by the tug Confidence and conveyed to the city. The steamer grounded in the dense fog which prevailed at the time. It was believed that she would be floated at high tide this afternoon and arrangements were made for several tugs to assist in clearing the Aranmore. W. H. [illegible], one of the owners of the steamer, who was a passenger, said that the Aranmore was lying easily on a soft bottom and apparently was not seriously damaged.

He expressed the belief that the steamer would be pulled off on a rising tide. The water ballast tanks of the vessel were pumped out to lighten her.

When the accident happened the Aranmore was moving slowly up the harbor. It was due to misjudgment of the location of the steamer in the thick fog which prevented officers from seeing their position.

The steamer Aranmore was chartered by the Plant line two months ago to run between this port, Halifax and other ports of the Province. The steamer took the place of the steamer Halifax which was withdrawn and placed in the southern service of the line. During the summer she plied between ports of the St. Lawrence river, Labrador and the Provinces. She is a steel hull vessel, staunchly built and considered a very seaworthy vessel.

THE TAX INVALID

Michael O'Keefe Wins His Case

BOSTON, Jan. 4.—The excise tax upon the business of merchants done with trading stamps was held unconstitutional by the full bench of the supreme court today in the case of Michael O'Keefe vs. the city of Somerville.

The tax was provided by Chapter 473 of the year 1902 and was fixed at 3 per cent. of the gross receipts of sales of articles made by merchants in connection with the delivery of trading stamps to their customers. They were required to make semi-annual returns of the amount of such business to the city clerk for the sake of having the tax computed.

O'Keefe sued to recover back such a tax he paid the city of Somerville, claiming the statute was unconstitutional and the tax invalid. The court so decides.

The court holds the tax cannot be justified as an excise on commodities within the meaning of the state constitution but it is an unlawful discrimination against the natural right of merchants to deliver stamps or other devices of property right to their customers in connection with the sale of articles. Such methods of doing business are lawful so long as there is no lottery or gambling about it as being founded, declares the court, upon the principle of constitutional liberty that "the right of one to use his faculties in all lawful ways to live and work where he will to earn his livelihood in any lawful calling and to pursue any lawful trade or a vocation."

No reason is held to appear for the imposition of an excise tax upon the business of selling articles with an accompaniment of stamps which entitle the customer to other property.

MAY BE FINED

BRITISH FISHING SCHOONER ARRIVED WITHOUT A MANIFEST.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Jan. 4. The U. S. treasury department agents from Boston were here today investigating the case of the British fishing schooner St. Helena which arrived yesterday from the Bay of Islands, N. F., with salt herring. According to officials here the Helena arrived without a manifest. She is therefore liable to a fine of $500. Capt. Pike of the fishing vessel explained that he had no intention of violating the law and that he was about to make out a manifest when the customs' officer boarded his schooner.

BARGE LOST

STORY TOLD BY THE CREW OF TUG RAMBLER

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 4. The story of the loss of barge No. 61 off Duck Island, Conn., on last Tuesday night, is graphically told by the crew of the tug Resolute, which arrived here with barge Morris H. from New York today. The Resolute with another tug, the Rambler, was towing five coal barges at the time, four of them bound for New London when suddenly the hawser connecting No. 61 with the preceding barge parted. The succeeding barge next in line ran into No. 61 crashing into her bow, first smashing the entire forward portion of the craft. The Rambler immediately cast loose from the tow and picked off Captain Olsen and his wife on No. 61 which sank rapidly. The [illegible] barge was the third in the string and meanwhile the two other barges drifted rapidly away before the gale. While chasing these barges the Rambler was impeded in her efforts by a hawser which got in her wheel but finally succeeded in catching the barges and bringing them to New London. The Resolute had taken the two laden barges of the tow to the same port in safety, later bringing one to this port.

SAILOR LOST

WAS DROWNED WHILE FISHING IN THE MIDDLE BANKS.

BOSTON, Jan. 4. The fishing schooner Mary Edith which came into T wharf today reported the loss of one of her crew, Augustus Hubbard, 30 years old, a native of Yarmouth, N. S., while fishing Wednesday on the Middle Banks. Hubbard leaves a widow and three children in East Boston.

Forty-two fishing schooners, the largest number in several months, were at T wharf today.

JUDGE QUARLES

SAYS GRANTING OF RESTRAINING ORDERS IS WRONG.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4. A dispatch from Milwaukee says:

Judge Joseph V. Quarles of the United States district court for the eastern district of Wisconsin yesterday announced his belief that the practice of granting restraining orders, which in effect are temporary injunctions, on ex parte statements is all wrong.

"Hereafter I shall not grant any restraining orders which act as temporary injunctions until I have called in both sides and come into possession of all the facts," said Judge Quarles to lawyers gathered in his court room. The declaration was not delivered as a formal opinion, but was brought [illegible] information between the court and the attorneys.

HELD IN $2000.

READING, Mass., Jan. 4.—When arraigned in the Reading court today on the charge of attempting to wreck trains of the Boston & Maine railroad in this town, E. H. Willard of Revere pleaded not guilty and his case was continued to Jan. 9. In default of $2,000 bail he was committed to jail. Willard's arrest was brought about through an anonymous postal card alleged to have been sent by him to the local police in connection with the attempted train wrecking.

Stubborn fighting followed during which many men were killed or wounded on both sides, resulting in the defeat of the Morales forces, who were dispersed by the Caceres troops. Among the killed was General Demetrio Rodriguez, former governor of Monte Cristi, who as reported in Monte Cristi had announced that if his attack on Puerto Plata was successful, he would proclaim himself a candidate for the residency of Santo Domingo.

The streets of Puerto Plata are almost deserted, the stores are closed and business is at a standstill.

The Dominican exiles who have been authorized by the Morales party to return to Santo Domingo, are landing at Monte Cristi not far from Puerto Plata.

TO CURE LEPROSY

Boy Made Soup of Human Flesh

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 4. News was received from Tokio by the Empress of India yesterday that the Japanese police have solved a strange crime when proving the murder of the celebrated Japanese poet, Nezei Noguchi by Osaburo Noguchi, an adopted son. It was found that some years ago Osaburo murdered a boy and cut a piece of flesh from his victim to make soup, which he fed to his foster parents who were lepers. He did so because he read that soup made from human flesh would cure leprosy.

ATTEMPT TO KILL

Weapon Was Wrenched From Curtis' Hand

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 4. Daniel J. Curtis of Springfield, Mass., is alleged to have attempted to shoot Gilbert C. Houldin, a prominent hotel man of this city, today in Houldin's office on Trumbull street. The weapon, it is said, was knocked aside by the intended victim and the bullet went through the floor. Curtis was placed under arrest.

It is understood that the attempted shooting was due to ill feeling resulting from litigation over an estate on which Houldin held a mortgage.

When Curtis entered the office he had a paper in his hand which he held out to Mr. Houldin. The latter says he observed the barrel of a revolver under Curtis' coat and immediately grappled with him. A struggle took place during which the pistol went off, the bullet going through the floor. With the assistance of a traveling man Curtis was overcome and was turned over to the police. He is 45 years old, resides in Springfield and runs a brick yard in that city.

BOSTON, Jan. 4. Dr. Robert Thompson, who is under an eight-year sentence for counterfeiting, was before Judge Dodge in the United States district court today and pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with depositing unmailable mail matter in the United States mails. Sentence will not be passed upon this case until there is a decision by the court of appeals before which body the exceptions in the counterfeiting case were argued a few weeks ago. Dr. Thompson is at liberty on $5000 bail on the counterfeiting case and he was not required to furnish additional bail on the other.

IS NOT SERIOUS.

LONDON, Jan. 4. Official and unofficial circles in Great Britain do not consider the Franco-German situation as serious. CORNWALL ARRESTED ON LARCENY CHARGE MAY BE RELEASED

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Jan. 4. It was the recommendation of prosecuting attorney John S. Pullman, in the city court today that a nolle prosse be entered in the case of George W. Cornwall, the former treasurer of the Wheeler & Wilson Mfg. Company, who was arrested a few days ago on the charge of theft of bonds and jewelry from Mrs. Gilbert A. Lumpkin, wife of a former partner in the firm of Arnold & Company of St. Louis, which was prosecuted by the federal government because of alleged "get rich quick" methods of business. Mr. Pullman went on to say in support of his motion that he was morally certain that no convincing evidence of guilt could be brought against the defendant.

The court ordered a continuance of the hearing until tomorrow when it is expected that Cornwall will be released.

ANNEX THE TOWN OF TEWKSBURY

THE MUTUAL INTERESTS OF TEWKSBURY AND LOWELL DEMAND THE ANNEXATION OF THE ENTIRE TOWN OF TEWKSBURY. THE TOWN WANTS CITY PRIVILEGES AND LOWELL WANTS ROOM FOR FUTURE EXPANSION. WE HAVE BUILT UP TO THE TEWKSBURY LINE SO THAT OUR GROWTH IN THAT DIRECTION MUST STOP UNLESS WE ANNEX NEW TERRITORY. WITHOUT NEW TERRITORY CONGESTION WILL FOLLOW TO THE INJURY OF OUR CITY AND OUR PEOPLE.

ANNEXATION WOULD START A BOOM THAT WOULD GREATLY ADVANCE THE PRICE OF REAL ESTATE IN TEWKSBURY AND IN TIME FORM A SOURCE OF REVENUE THAT WOULD FULLY COMPENSATE US FOR SUPPLYING THE TOWN WITH OUR WATER SERVICE, WITH POLICE AND FIRE PROTECTION, SCHOOLS, SEWERS AND STREET IMPROVEMENTS. WERE TEWKSBURY ANNEXED THE GROWTH IN THAT DIRECTION WOULD BE SO RAPID THAT ATHERTON AND WIGGINVILLE WOULD SOON BE THE CENTRES OF THRIVING RESIDENTIAL DISTRICTS IN WHICH NEW INDUSTRIES WOULD RISE TO GIVE READY EMPLOYMENT TO THE PEOPLE IN THE VICINITY. IT SEEMS, THEREFORE, THAT THE PUBLIC SPIRITED MEN OF BOTH CITY AND TOWN SHOULD PUSH THE MOVEMENT TO MAKE TEWKSBURY PART AND PARCEL OF OUR CITY.

The Boston Herald decides against Justice Gaynor of New York in the Royal Arcanum rate controversy but it remains to be seen whether the supreme court will express a like opinion.

The National League of Women's clubs has resumed its crusade against the presence of Senator Reed Smoot in the senate on the ground that he is still a Mormon, that he practices polygamy in violation of the law and the covenants given when statehood was granted to Utah. The Women League appeals to interested citizens to write letters to the senators appealing to them to vote for the exclusion of Reed Smoot from the senate. The women are right but congress will not view the matter in that light.

THE BUILDING OUTLOOK.

The prospects for extensive building operations in Lowell this year are very encouraging. The contractors fear but one obstacle—strikes. It would be well for the contractors to reach agreements so far as they can in advance with the building trades so that there may be no strike to hold up the operations upon any building.

NEW SCHOOL LAW USELESS

Judging from the effects of the new school law regarding minors, we believe it will do more harm than good in Lowell at least. About 200 boys between 14 and 16 have dropped out of the evening schools as a result of the new law, but they have not applied for admission to the day schools. Many of them were born in Canada and have gone back to their homes while others have gone to New Hampshire, New York or other states where the laws will not operate against their getting employment. It was supposed that when the new law drove them out of the mills it would drive them into the schools, but it has done nothing of the kind, only a very small number of those who left the mills having applied for admission to the day schools.

MILKING BILLS AND THE LOBBY

The governor of Ohio in his inaugural message has called attention to a species of legislative tactics which it appears have been resorted to in Ohio as a means of extorting money from corporations.

It is that of introducing what is known as "milking bills," or measures threatening established interests with detrimental changes and therefore inducing them to employ lobbyists and distribute enough money to secure the defeat of the objectionable measures.

This is certainly a very grave abuse of the legislative power and one which cannot be too severely condemned. That it has been practised in Ohio appears quite certain from the governor's condemnation of the evil and there is no doubt whatever that it has been resorted to by some unscrupulous members of other legislatures, including that of Massachusetts.

It has to do with railroads, and other quasi public bodies which, when threatened with inimical legislation, hasten to the legislature to secure a majority to defeat the measures. To do this may cost money but rather than take the chances of letting the measures become law, the corporations interested naturally agree to pay.

It usually happens that the promoters of such measures are able to muster considerable support for these "milking" measures. Whether they give any inkling of the real intent of the bills is not known, or it may be the other members lend their support instinctively through the expectation of being "seen" or "fixed," as the term goes, by the agents of the corporation affected. Occasionally honest men are unwittingly led to support such measures, and even newspapers are gulled by the slick promoters of the "milking" bills. Of course the press has great power to spread alarm among the affected interests and sometimes, unfortunately, it is too easily gulled.

While milking bills are to be condemned in the most emphatic manner, it is just possible that this same epithet may be thrown in the face of honest men who initiate necessary reforms.

It is a well-known fact that corporations are frequently the instigators of legislative measures and that they use the lobby to secure the passage of such measures. In this way, perhaps, they themselves, may have suggested the "milking" bills, and if so, they are not deserving of much sympathy.

Hence, it is, that the "milking" bills are but one of several abuses that may be found in connection with various state legislatures in this country. All are alike deserving of public condemnation and the guilty parties should be punished whenever and wherever they can be convicted of such an abuse of power.

UNIQUE MEETING.

The Sam Walter Foss club held a unique meeting on Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs W E Hatch of South Loring street. The subject being "Home Cooking." Samples and Recipes. The members each brought samples of cooking to be tested by the club, giving recipes for the same, proving that there were good cooks in the club. The recipes are to be typewritten and given as souvenirs to those present. The hostess gave a talk on modern improvements in conveniences for domestic science as compared with "ye olden time," and there were other papers on the food question. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Van Hise, 195 Gates street.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

Mrs Arvilla H. Fuller observed in a quiet manner her 85th birthday anniversary, yesterday, at her home in High street. Though there was no formal reception, friends were received throughout the day, many of them from the High street church, of which Mrs. Fuller is one of the oldest members. Plants and a wealth of flowers and other thoughtful tokens will remain as reminders of the happy day. Miss Emma J. Fuller, her daughter, and her granddaughter, Mrs. S. G. Mack, assisted the hostess in receiving her many callers. Tea was served in the afternoon.

GOLD SHIPMENT

$1,500,000 to be Exported This Week

NEW YORK, Jan. 5. The first gold shipment of the year will be made this week, but the coin will not go to Europe. In the first week in January, 1905, $1,474,806 in gold bars and $250,000 in gold coin were sent to Europe from New York, our gold being needed over there because of the exigencies created by the war between Russia and Japan. France had just drawn large sums from London, having loaned an immense amount of money to the government of the czar, which had enormous expenses to meet.

At this time the gold is going south to Mexico and Argentina. There has been withdrawn from the United States sub treasury here $1,500,000 in gold coin; $1,000,000 of which is known to be for Argentina. It is thought the remaining $500,000 is for Mexico. George O. Gordon, agent of the London & River Plate bank, will ship $500,000 to Buenos Ayres tomorrow, and it was stated that another bank withdrew the same amount for shipment to South America.

It is said that three private banking houses are largely interested in the present movement, and had to do with the negotiations for the coming shipment. None of the interests referred to was willing to give out any information in connection with the destination of the $1,500,000, but in banking circles the report was current that at least some of the gold had been taken to Mexico, and would be sent at once to the capital of that republic.

Some banking interests in Wall street which have been in close touch with the financial plans of the Mexican government and the negotiations previously made for the shipment of gold to that country said that so far as they knew, very little of the gold taken yesterday would go to Mexico, as the bankers there did not at present favor the movement. In fact, one particular which has a great deal to do with the movement of Mexican exchange, declared yesterday that only a comparatively small portion of the $1,500,000 shipment was intended for Mexico.

The last gold shipments from New York in 1905 were during the first week in December, when $1,750,000 was sent to Mexico. This movement was attributed solely to the sharp rise in silver, which reached 65¾ here. With silver at this price the Mexican bankers bought gold here, shipped its equivalent to China by way of San Francisco and made a reasonable profit, although not by any means a large one, when all the trouble in connection with the transaction was taken into consideration.

It was said yesterday that the Merchants National bank had drawn $500,000 in gold coin for shipment to South America, and a cablegram from London stated that gold was going from there to Argentina and perhaps to Mexico. It was also averred that Germany had lent Peru £3,000,000—$15,000,000—sterling. London reported that soon it would have £370,000 in gold available. Money rates are expected to harden there next week.

HE FAVORS BLACK

ROOSEVELT OUT FOR NEW YORKER.

TROY, N. Y., Jan. 5.—Ex-Gov. Black has the indorsement of President Roosevelt for the presidential nomination in 1908. This is the gist of an not interesting announcement by Mr. Black's close friends.

President Roosevelt is quoted as saying that he considers Mr. Black the most available man, that he would unite the discordant elements in New York state and be acceptable to republicans in other states, and that without harmony in New York state the national republican party cannot win.

A MAN'S WILL

IS HIS OWN, SAYS THE SUPREME COURT.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The appellate division of the supreme court has reversed the verdict of a jury upsetting the will of Charles H. Heyzer, a custom house employe, who died in February [illegible]. By that will, which was drawn by his friend, Magistrate Ommen, Mrs. Ann Morris, known as Polly Heyzer, who had lived with him as his wife for many years in his flat on Sixth avenue, while his actual wife, Elizabeth H. Heyzer, and his children who were all grown up, lived a few blocks up the avenue.

It was contended on the trial before Justice [illegible] that Heyzer was not in his right mind when he made his will a couple of days before his death. The jury so found.

Justice [illegible], writing the unanimous opinion of the appellate division says that nowhere in the record is there any proof that Heyzer's mind was affected. On the contrary, he says, much evidence that he preserved his faculties to the last. The opinion continues:

"Nor do the provisions of the will itself shock the mind so as to lend color to the suggestion of mental infirmity. The will, while it diverts the property from what may be called its natural channel, his lawful family, and bestows it upon the woman with whom for many years he had been living without the sanction of law, yet cannot be said to be unreasonable.

"He had been entirely separated from his wife for many years. The youngest of his children was 40 years of age. His daughter he never saw, his sons but seldom. This woman had been recognized by his world as his wife; she had been true and loyal, he said, for 34 years; she had devoted her life to him and had been accepted by his parents. His last care was for his life companion, illicit though the relation was.

"We are not called upon to approve his morals or sanction his mode of life. The law, which alone we are to expound, is that a man, irrespective of his moral character, being of sound and disposing mind, not moved by undue influence and not under restraint, may, if he observe the formalities of the law governing the execution of a last will and testament, dispose of his property as he will."

A new trial is ordered on the ground that the verdict is against the weight of evidence.

GRACE CHURCH

HELD ITS MONTHLY COFFEE PARTY.

The regular monthly coffee party at the Grace Universalist church in Princeton street was held last night and the entertainment which followed the supper consisted of a three-act drama entitled "Between the Acts," which was given by the Merry Septet of Chelmsford Centre. Among those in the cast were Miss Rachel Marshall, Roland Black, Stuart Redmond, Miss Madeline Wehr, Sidney Dupee and Mrs. A. A. Stewart.

At the supper table everything went off fine, every table receiving its share of the large number of hungry folks present. The matrons were Mrs. W. R. Kew, Mrs. L. D. Knowlton, assisted by a large number of the ladies of the church. The dining room was ably directed by Mrs. Chas. E. Frost, who was assisted by many of the charming young ladies connected with the church. The candy table was well taken care of by Mrs. Laport, Miss Addie Hawes, and Miss Ivy Kew, and the sales table was in charge of Mrs. Buckminster and Mrs. Eliza Conner.

FAMILY REUNION.

A delightful family reunion was that which occurred at the home of Mr. Nee Brunelle, 27 Pond st., last evening.

Those present were, besides Mr. and Mrs. Nee Brunelle and their children, Dr. and Mrs. Pierre Brunelle, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harvey, Miss Malvina Brunelle, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Rickard, Mr. A. Brunelle, Miss Eugenie Brunelle and Miss A. Mercure. A charming program of music was given by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Rickard and Mr. A. Brunelle.

HOW TO SUCCEED

First Requirement of College Graduate

The first [illegible] of the college graduate is [illegible] not matter how [illegible] how much [illegible] cannot transmute [illegible] practical power, [illegible]. This is a very [illegible] commencement [illegible]. The world [illegible] you know, but "What [illegible] Can you make use of [illegible] know?" It wants [illegible] things, not dream [illegible] about them.

If you [illegible] in practical terms [illegible] your college as a gymnasium [illegible] give edge to your faculties and [illegible] open your mental powers. If you [illegible] used it as a gymnasium [illegible] may carry away the weights and pulleys and other apparatus, but [illegible] develop your native force. If your education has been a drawing out, an expansion of the forces within you and not a mere stuffing and cramming process, the world will not long keep you waiting for a place. If your college has increased your power to do, and not merely polished you up a little, you will have no difficulty in winning your way. The world wants action, men who can step out from the crowd and lead instead of following.

The first years after graduation mark the dangerous period in a young man's life. In the majority of cases the graduate is openhearted, generous and susceptible. He has faith in men and institutions, he is optimistic, and does not realize how quickly contact with hard facts and actual conditions will tend to harden him, to lower his standard, to dwarf his ideal. He does not appreciate the demoralizing, brutalizing influence of a mere money-making career, which strangles all the finer instincts for the good, the beautiful and the true, dries up the sympathies and dwarfs the growth of the higher self, marbleizes the affections and crushes out all that makes life strong, serene, sweet and noble. He does not realize that the highest character cannot be developed under a low sordid aim.

The young man leaving college feels that he has spent a great deal of time in preparation, that his education has been expensive and he is anxious to get into something as quickly as possible that will give him the best return in money, says Success. And so, unconsciously, he often chooses an occupation which calls into play his inferior qualities, which develops cunning, shrewdness, deception, and, for want of activity, permits his finer instincts to shrivel and die.

One of the greatest questions a human being is ever called upon to decide is the choice of a career. It affects one's entire character and destiny. No graduate can afford to choose an occupation merely because there is money in it, and he must learn that to look upon a vocation as only a means of getting a living is contemptible. He must learn that the highest success is not living-making, money-making or fame-making, but man-making, woman-making, character-making. Manhood and womanhood overtop position, wealth, vocations and titles, and are grander than any career.

Don't go out in life with false standards of success, but whatever you decide to do choose upward. There is no more pitiable sight in the world than that of a promising young graduate selecting a career simply because there is money or possible fame in it. Don't measure everything by the standard of wealth or fame. Don't start out with the idea that poor or obscure men or women are necessarily failures. The brother or sister or mother who remained at home to earn money to send you to college that you might have a career, and who may never be heard from, while your name is blazoned over the earth, may, in reality, be a far greater success than you can possibly be considered.

If you look upon your college course as simply a means of raising your commercial value, it will not help you to real success. To have one's mentality stirred by the passion for expansion, to be dragged out of the narrow rut of ignorance, to feel one's life grow larger, wider and fuller, that is success. Whatever you do choose an occupation that has expansiveness in it, which will keep you out of a rut, which will develop you along your larger manhood, which will call out your largest and noblest qualities. In other words, select a vocation which will make you more of a man or woman, whether there is money in it or not.

SEIZE OPPORTUNITY.

How can we cast out the ill spirit which renders so many lives ineffective? The obvious answer is, Cultivate an interest in other lives than your own. It tends to keep alive and responsive the sympathies of the heart. It detaches some part of time and thought from the pursuit of self-interest. Care in the formation of habits is a powerful engine of self-cultivation. We become what we make ourselves. But more potent than merely watching habits in the direction of the disposition. If the evil spirit be in us we need to get rid of the spirit which directs our dispositions. Whatever can be done by habit, desires and dispositions will be powerful in the choice, which, being repeated, forms habits. It is the change of the wish which is the hope and the despair of philosophers. The hope, because if that were accomplished all else would follow; the despair, because, though we can do all else, the change of the desire and of the disposition eludes us.—Bishop of Ripon.

GENIUSES DON'T COUNT

It is not spectacular achievement that tells; the work of the world is done by toilsome plodding. Geniuses, in the ordinarily accepted sense of the term, are so rare that it is safe to eliminate them as factors in human progress; the men that do things are those that have a genius for work.

CAPT. HURLEY

HAS NOT RECOVERED FROM HIS INJURY.

CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 5.—Captain Daniel J. Hurley of the Harvard 'varsity eleven has returned to his home from his sojourn in the mountains. Captain Hurley is not a well man by any means, and it looks now as though he would have to give up his cherished ambition to become a surgeon, owing to the severity of the injury received on the gridiron. He has failed to recover his old time strength and must exercise the greatest of care in the future to prevent insanity. His family has been very anxious to put Dan through the Harvard medical school, but the surgeons at the hospital will not consent to his returning to the medical school until a more complete examination is made of his injury.

SEEN AND HEARD

"How long have you known the defendant?" asked a lawyer of a witness in police court the other day.

The reply came: "I do not know him only from 9 o'clock last Monday morning when he licked me several times."

When father [illegible] to shovel snow makes an awful row
He says "Well, goodness [illegible]
[illegible] that shovel [illegible]"
And then he [illegible] feel [illegible]
some words I don't just say
And [illegible] gets the [illegible]
[illegible]
Then [illegible] pale [illegible]
rubber [illegible] his hat
And [illegible] more [illegible]
[illegible] "Don't say that"
And then he buttons up [illegible]
goes and slams the door
And [illegible] hopes to goodness [illegible]
[illegible] no more
Then in [illegible] she just rocks and [illegible] and sings a little song
And says "[illegible] the man [illegible] now I [illegible]
[illegible] not be long
Then [illegible] argues with the man and [illegible] a dollar,
And [illegible] tired of [illegible] robbed at [illegible] half a dollar
But [illegible] stands there looking [illegible] and [illegible] on the steps
Till [illegible] out and says to [illegible]
"[illegible] you'll get the croup"
Then [illegible] swears some dreadful words and says "I wish you'd know
I am [illegible] to catch my death a-shovelling this snow!"

BURMESE LOVE SONG

The moon beamed on the lotus in the night,
From their embrace was born my heart's delight
The blossom opened for her coming forth
The petals moved, that she might thence alight.

What blossom is so beautiful as she?
What dusk more downey than her face could be?
As nightfall on the hills, so is her hair,
Her skin as bright as diamond's brilliance.

So full of health, no sickness can come near
And yet so light, so graceful, that I fear
And tremble at the breeze, lest the south wind
Or evening breath should waft away my dear.

Her robes are rich of silk, with golden hem,
Fine gold her armlet, and a precious gem
Wears she to deck each lovely ear, but oh!
Her eyes, what jewels can compare with them?

Proud is my mistress, proud as she is fair;
Men tremble at her pride and beauty rare
Nowhere in all the wide world can it be
That any other can with her compare.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

ITS UNFORTUNATE LIMITATION.

New Haven Union: Secretary Shaw's elastic currency proposition would receive popular approval if more of it would find its way into ordinary pocketbooks.

FINAL JUDGMENTS.

Atchison Globe: If you are right your enemies will think you are wrong, and if you are wrong your friends will think you right, but the cold, calculating world will get at the facts.

A MIDWINTER HARVEST.

New York World: Lilacs are budding on Long Island and Russell Sage got 100 per cent. This is a fine winter for some people.

THE OLD FRIGATE.

New York Sun: Sink her deep in salt water if there is no longer room for the ship within the jurisdiction of Mr. Bonparte's department, but let her go down with flag flying and all the honors due to her glorious memory, and unwounded. No American gunpowder should ever be burnt to send a shot into the heart of Old Ironsides.

SICKEST MAN IN EUROPE.

Columbia State: The "Sick Man of Europe" may be at Constantinople, but the sickest man in Europe is unquestionably abed near St. Petersburg.

ARMY OF TEACHERS.

Exchange: The army of education in the United States is made up of 450,000 teachers, of whom 120,000 are men and 330,000 women. The overwhelming majority of the teachers are natives of the United States, less than 30,000 having been born abroad—one in fifteen. Most of the men teachers are between [illegible] years of twenty-five and thirty-[illegible]. The majority of the women [illegible] are between fifteen and twenty-[illegible]. There are 2300 men teachers [illegible] sixty-five. There are less than [illegible] women teachers over sixty-five. [illegible] times as many women as men [illegible] are put down as age unknown.

ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE

George H. Wood has started his clearance sale, which he holds annually to get rid of his surplus stock left over from Christmas. The prices have been cut on every line of surplus left in the store. Watches, diamonds, clocks, umbrellas, bric-a-brac are all included in the sale. A good idea of the bargains may be gained from a glance at the windows. See adv.

CANTON PAWTUCKET

Canton Pawtucket, No. 9, P. M., I. O. O. F., held its monthly meeting last evening at their headquarters in Centralville, which was well attended. The installation ceremonies were deferred until the first meeting in February. A committee reported that the next whist party would occur on the 19th of January. Major George H. Stevens, the commandant-elect, will entertain the Canton members at his home some evening of the present month, and will be assisted by the officers and by Col. M. D. Brown.

A collation will be served at the next regular meeting in February.

Commandant C. J. Willetead was given a vote of thanks for services rendered during his term of office.

Speeches were made by Major Stevens, Col. M. D. Brown, Capt. T. E. Boucher, Capt. A. E. Lyford, Lieuts. F. G. Baldwin, Elliott Morgan, F. H. Gauther, Chevaliers, Chas. A. Parker, Chas. J. Morse and others.

Turkish Officers Report 1032 Casualties

SALONICA, European Turkey, Jan. 5. A return issued by the Turkish authorities shows that 1032 casualties resulted from the fighting in Macedonia between Turkish troops and Bulgarian, Greek and Servian revolutionary bands during 1905. Altogether 119 encounters took place in the Vilayets of Salonica, Monastir and Uskub, in which the insurgents lost [illegible] men killed and 20 wounded. In addition the troops captured 225 prisoners. The troops lost 1[illegible] killed and 1[illegible] wounded. A comparison of the number of men killed with the number wounded shows that no quarter was given.

Clean Talk No. 3

After telling you what we have, in our last talk, you ask if EASY WASH COMPOUND will wash woolens without shrinking them. It will, and that is only one of its many good qualities. The only kind of washing preparations you ever heard of were either in powder or liquid condition. EASY WASH is vastly more convenient than either of these other forms. It comes in a white, clean cake. Costs ten cents per cake and contains enough for three washings. Ask your grocer.

CITY COMMITTEE

Elected New Officers for the Year

The democratic city committee for the year 1906 met in Waman's [illegible] last evening, and organized by the choice of the following officers: President, Thomas J. Mulligan of ward 5; first vice president, Michael J. Brady, ward 7; second vice president, Henry [illegible], ward 7; secretary, William J. McCluskey; treasurer, Owen J. McNally, ward [illegible]. The meeting was largely attended and extremely harmonious in every respect.

Outside the election of officers perhaps the most important business transacted was the passing of a motion to the effect that the secretary and treasurer hereafter furnish bonds to the amount of [illegible]. J. Edward Gallagher of ward [illegible] proposed the motion and after a spirited debate the motion prevailed and [illegible] committee has put itself on record as being strictly in favor of business principles in the transaction of its business. Mr. Gallagher [illegible] the motion said he had every confidence in the honesty and integrity of the secretary and treasurer [illegible] wanted the [illegible] [illegible] right and to keep [illegible]. Mr. McCluskey, the newly elected secretary, also favored the motion. Several other gentlemen thought the amount of the bond too large, but thought the idea a very good one.

The candidates for election were Thomas J. Mulligan of ward 5 and Peter [illegible] Brady of ward 7. Mr. Mulligan received [illegible] votes to [illegible] Mr. Brady. The real contest of the evening was for the office of secretary. Under the [illegible] law this is a very important position. [illegible] the contest [illegible] was William J. McCluskey [illegible] John B. Kiggins [illegible]. The other positions were uncontested and the meeting at 9.15 p. m. adjourned to the call of the new chairman.

LINCOLN CLUB

At a meeting of the house committee of the Lincoln club held last night it was voted to hold a series of smoke talks, the first to be held on Saturday night. It was also voted to get up a bowling team with Fred N. Tilton as manager. The committee intends to keep things lively during the remainder of the winter.

IT WAS LOADED

Boy Dropped Cruller and It Exploded

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—When Antonio Castiguello, the seven-year-old son of a baker of the same name living in East 115th street, dropped a cruller which he had been playing with in his father's shop yesterday, there was a loud explosion and the boy fell to the floor writhing in pain. It transpired that a cartridge of large calibre had been baked in the cruller, which exploded when it was dropped to the floor.

Antonio is in the Harlem hospital with the bullet in his stomach and his condition is serious. Carmela Ca[illegible], 18 years old, assistant baker, is locked up pending an investigation of the accident.

A BONFIRE

WEAK-MINDED WOMAN MADE ONE OUT OF HERSELF

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 5.—Mary Narsiss, a weak-minded woman who had been an inmate of the almshouse for two years, poured the contents of an oil stove over her head last night and set fire to herself with a match. When she started by her keeper, a young woman, she was enveloped in flames. The attendant wrapped her in a blanket and attempted to extinguish the flames, but she died soon after in terrible agony.

GRAND JURY.

TWO FORMER SENATORS CALLED TO TESTIFY.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—Former State Senators Harry [illegible] Foster of Gloucester and W. [illegible] N[illegible] of the Cape district testified yesterday afternoon before the Suffolk county grand jury. They had been summoned by District Attorney John B. Moran and it was understood that their testimony related to the charges which had been made against Mayor Fitzgerald by Congressman Wm. S. McNary previous to the last municipal election.

WEDS DIVORCEE

AGED CLERGYMAN TAKES A SECOND WIFE

RUTLAND, Vt., Jan. 5.—The Rev. Dr. [illegible] Seaver of this city, aged [illegible], one of the most influential clergymen in Vermont, and Mrs. Ellen S. Pond, 5[illegible], divorced, were married yesterday afternoon by the Rev. George W. Phillips on the first anniversary of the clergyman's first wife's death.

Dr. Seaver was born in Boston April [illegible], 1831, and graduated from Williams college. He was ordained at the Congregational church in this city Aug. [illegible], 1860, and was its pastor for eight years. He afterwards held pastorates in other parts of Vermont and in the west, but is now retired. Mrs. Seaver has three sons and a daughter.

NEW CARS

HAVE BEEN ORDERED BY B. & M. ROAD

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 5.—The Boston & Maine will make an addition to the equipment of its trains to the summer resorts of New Hampshire and Maine in the shape of a baggage car, especially designed for the accommodation of horses, carriages and automobiles.

Doors of the cars heretofore in use were not large enough for the admission of automobiles. Inside the new cars will be stalls for 16 horses. An employe of the railroad will travel with the car, and a private coachman or chauffeur for each vehicle will have access to it.

SARAH ROBINSON

The Noted Female Convict is Dead

WAS 18 YEARS IN SOLITARY

Committed Murder for Insurance Money

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—Mrs. Sarah J. Robinson, one of the most noted female convicts in the country, died in the Middlesex county jail in East Cambridge last night. Recently Mrs. Robinson had a serious attack of heart failure and her condition continued weak up to the time of her death. Mrs. Robinson was [illegible] years of age and had been in solitary confinement for 18 years. The arrest and conviction of Mrs. Robinson followed an investigation by the authorities into the mysterious deaths of five persons in Somerville where she lived, were the most sensational developments in many years in connection with crime in this state.

THE LATE MRS. SARAH JANE ROBINSON.

She was convicted in 1887 of the murder of Prince Arthur Freeman, her brother-in-law, but it was established at the trial that she had also murdered her son William, 23 years of age; her daughter Elizabeth, 22 years of age, her husband, and her nephew, Thomas Arthur Freeman.

The victims were all killed by poison. It was disclosed that the object of the murders was the possession of money on insurance policies on their lives.

Mrs. Robinson was sentenced to be hanged, but recognizing the widespread clamor against the execution of a woman, Gov. George D. Robinson commuted the sentence to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Robinson was the only woman in solitary confinement in a Massachusetts prison. With the exception of Jane Toppan, the Lowell poisoner, she had the worst record of any woman prisoner in the commonwealth.

From one year's end to another she was not allowed to speak to any person except the prison attendants, the prison chaplain and her only surviving son was permitted to visit her once a month.

Mrs. Robinson was allowed to walk in the prison yards occasionally for exercise after the other prisoners had retired. She was well educated and spent much of her time in reading magazines and books.

FOUGHT DUEL

MAJOR DRIANT TWICE WOUNDED GENERAL PEROIN.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—During a duel with swords yesterday Major Driant twice wounded General Perdu, disabling his right arm. The duel lasted for an hour and consisted of thirteen bouts.

The combat was brought about by an article published by Major Driant condemning General Peroin, who was chief of staff under former Minister of War Andre, for connection with the secret reports made against army officers during Andre's ministry.

Peroin is the general whose salute General Brugere, former commander of the army, recently refused to acknowledge in the Bois De Boulogne. Explanations before the minister of war led to an adjustment of this incident, but Gen. Brugere made public the details of his conference with the minister regarding it and was sentenced by the council of ministers to fifteen days' arrest.

FATAL FALL

MAN FELL DOWN AN ELEVATOR WELL.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—Found lying at the bottom of the freight elevator well of the Trade building, 77-79 Washington street north, where he had probably lain for some time, Edmond Sisk of 38 Tremont street, Charlestown, died at the relief hospital last evening without regaining consciousness.

How Sisk met with the accident is a mystery. The building had been closed some time when Engineer Hadlock heard groans, and, upon investigating, discovered him.

At the hospital it was found that he was suffering from a compound fracture of the right leg, a lacerated wound of the left leg, and a fractured skull, from the effects of which he died about three hours later.

FRENCH PASTOR

REV. T. S. ST. AUBIN TO RETIRE.

The members of the French Congregational church on [illegible] street are to lose their pastor, Rev. T. S. St. Aubin. Last Sunday he delivered his farewell sermon. Mr. St. Aubin has been pastor of the church for the past 15 months.

At the annual meeting the following officers were chosen: Secretary, Paul Mertrud; treasurer, A. Bouette; church committee, Albert Mertrud, president; Paul Mertrud, A. [illegible], Emile Paige[illegible], Frank Tucker, [illegible], G. A. Cote, J. C. Martel. The deacons chosen were Messrs. A. Mertrud, E. Pakenon, Pouliot and J. C. Martel.

Trimmed Hats Reduced

It seems that a great many people had their old hats remade this year. That must be the reason we have so many beautiful pattern hats in stock now. We say NOW for next week the odd number we have will be gone. We've cut all our high price $8.00 and $9.00 hats to $3.98

Men's Suits and Overcoats

We are not considering profits now, we are only anxious to offer you the greatest inducements to buy your overcoat or suit here.

The Suits in This Lot Have All Sold For $12.75 and $14.75

They are very desirable patterns in Scotch cheviots, but the sizes are broken. In some lines we have but one suit. But with the many lots we have put in this one price, we have given you a good selection. Price $9.75

Our Mistake Gives You $5

It's this way. We thought this was to be a good suit season, so we bought an extra large stock of suits. The patterns were tempting, too. Well, it wasn't. We had the biggest overcoat season in the life of this store. So we now have too many suits on hand. This reduced line, formerly $17.75, comprises full sizes from 34 to 44 in. mixtures and a few hard finished worsteds. Price $12.75

$18.00 Suits Reduced to $14.75

The same story of too many is your gain. Suits that in the height of the season were selling for $18.00, now cut to $14.75

Hard finished worsted, hand tailored, collars hand felled. About 25 suits in this lot. Price $14.75

If you are at all interested in furs, these prices will bring your trade to us.

NO MORE SMOKING

Cigarettes Barred by Cigarmaker's Union

WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 5.—An unprecedented step [illegible] of smoking was taken last night by the local cigar makers' union. According to a vote passed by the [illegible] last night any member of the organization found guilty of smoking a cigarette will be fined $5 for each offense.

The new rule of the union was taken, it was said, to protect the sick benefit fund.

An investigation by the sick committee showed that of the members who drew sick benefits the cigarette smokers were found to be in the majority, and it was also argued that more death claims were paid to the families of cigarette smokers than to the families of men who had not been addicted to the habit.

The members of the union are permitted to smoke pipes or cigars, the rule applying only to paper cigarettes.

WOULD KILL THEM

Dr. Norton Would Help Insane and Diseased to Die

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5.—Dr. Charles E. [illegible] Norton of Cambridge has joined forces with Miss Anna S. Hall of Cincinnati, and with Mrs. M[illegible] Ballington [illegible] their campaign for the killing of the hopelessly insane, hopelessly diseased and victims of accidents. His views are expressed in a letter written to Miss Hall and made public [illegible].

Dr. Norton was formerly professor of literature at Harvard. He was a friend of Longfellow and Low and with them made the famous translation of the "Divine Comedy." He heads his letter "A[illegible]" and addressed Miss Hall and writes:

"The principle that it is a duty to prolong every human life as long as possible, at whatever cost, has little to been generally accepted.

"Its main support has been the doctrine of the sacredness of human life.

"The doctrine and the practice have both been pressed too far.

"There is no ground to hold every human life as inviolably sacred and to be preserved no matter with what results to the individual or to others. On the contrary there are cases in which every reasonable consideration urges that the end should be put, setting aside all doubtful cases, no right thinking man would hesitate to give a dose of laudanum [illegible] to end suffering [illegible] to the victim of an accident [illegible] torturing effects of which [illegible] impossible, however [illegible] might be [illegible] by stimulants or surgical [illegible].

"Nor should a [illegible] hesitate to [illegible] case of a mortal [illegible] example, as cancer when it has [illegible] the stage of [illegible] pain [illegible] when the patient [illegible].

"The [illegible] such a case by [illegible] mere criminal cruelty.

[illegible] that of an [illegible] become a [illegible] in view of constant distress [illegible] to the sufferer but to all who [illegible] and attend him. The plain duty [illegible] a case is not to prolong but to shorten life.

"It is not to be [illegible] that a superstition so deeply rooted in tradition as that of the duty of prolonging life at any cost will readily yield to the arguments of reason or the pleadings of compassion but the discussion of the subject in its various aspects may lead gradually to a more enlightened public opinion and to the consequent relief of much misery."

REFUSE HEARING

Derby Audience Turned Down Chamberlain

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The political campaign is now warming up. Already a number of disorderly meetings have been reported and last night when Joseph Chamberlain attempted to address a mass meeting at Derby in support of the unionist candidates, he was howled down and was unable to secure a hearing.

Sir Henry Bellrose, a prominent citizen of Derby, appealed to the audience to give Mr. Chamberlain an opportunity to outline his views. Mr. Chamberlain, who was evidently enraged, again arose and said he was mistaken in appealing to the intelligence of the people of Derby. This caused renewed uproar, and though Mr. Chamberlain fought hard he was unable to overcome the opposition and he retired amid continued uproar.

Winston Spencer Churchill, speaking at Manchester last night, said that the first act of the liberal government, should it be returned to power, would be to notify the colonial government that no conference could consider a preferential scheme based on the protective taxation of foodstuffs, and that as soon as possible the government would give the Transvaal a representative democratic demonstration.

Herbert Henry Asquith, chancellor of the exchequer, speaking at Sheffield, said that no attempt to utilize a majority obtained on the free trade issue to pass a home rule bill would be dishonest.

Gerald Balfour, president of the board of trade in the Balfour cabinet, addressing a meeting in the Jewish quarter of Leeds, which he represents in parliament, faced a storm of opposition and was roughly questioned regarding the aliens' act. After two stormy hours a proposition to give him a vote of confidence was negatived by a large majority.

MAY BE TROUBLE

Senator McLaurin Gets After Governor

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 5.—A dispatch from Jackson, Miss., says:

In a statement given out last night by Senator A. J. MacLaurin, Governor Vardaman is handled in rather vigorous language, being denounced as a "vile slanderer and despicable creature."

It is feared the senator's statement will lead to trouble between the two men.

DR. LOEB

HAS MADE A NEW DISCOVERY.

BERKLEY, Calif., Jan. 5.—That the phenomena underlying the electrotonic effects of the galvanic current upon the nerve and muscle tissues of animal matter are due to physical causes is the latest discovery of Dr. Jacques Loeb. In previous researches Dr. Loeb found that sodium and potassium ions in solution stimulated muscle and nerve fibres and that calcium and magnesium ions acted antagonistically to the sodium and potassium ions. In his last set of experiments Dr. Loeb has found that this phenomenon is due to the migration and concentration in the region of the electrodes of chemical substances contained in the tissues.

He has found that oleates, palmitates and stearates, all of which are found in the tissues concerned precipitate calcium and that it is in this way got out of the solution preventing its inhibitory effect upon the sodium and potassium ions of which are left free to act.

ARRESTS MADE

Several Offenders Were Taken by Police

Patrolman Peter Cawley arrested Fred Haskell at the northern station yesterday afternoon. Haskell at the time of his arrest was loaded down with jewelry of all kinds. The man was placed under arrest on suspicion, and the matter will be investigated today by the police.

CHARGE OF LARCENY.

George Anagonstopoulos was arrested last night charged with the larceny of $50 from George Paulapos. The arrest was made by Warrant Officer William G. Bumps and Special Officer Regis. It seems the two Georges were great friends until Sunday afternoon, when the first George, it is alleged by Paulakos, astutely separated him from an even half hundred dollars. George the first indignantly denies the allegation.

The charge of larceny against George Anagonstopulos was continued until next Tuesday. Judge Hadley ordered the defendant in $200 bonds.

HARRY POORE ASSAULTED.

Harry Poore came down to the police station last night and said he had been assaulted by two men. According to Harry who resides on Smith street, he was going home last evening when he was attacked by two men, and had one eye closed. He says that the only reason for the assault was that he formerly kept company with the sister of one of the fellows who hit him. He was advised to see Judge Hadley.

TWO MISSING

Explosion on Board a British Steamer

SAIGON, French Indo China, Jan. 5.—The British steamer Carlisle sank in the Saigon river yesterday after a conflagration on board, following an explosion of powder, due to spontaneous combustion. Two of her crew, an engineer and a sailor, are missing. Many physicians were injured during the excitement attending the rescue of the remainder of the crew.

TO BE DEPORTED

Woman Had Suffered From Seasickness

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The after effect of seasickness was the unusual cause for a sentence of deportation which the immigration authorities imposed today. Mrs. Lydia M. Thompson, wife of an English country gentleman and cabin passenger on the steamer Minneapolis, was the sufferer from this sentence. She was deathly seasick in the storm during the Minneapolis' passage to this country and this illness left her mind temporarily deranged. Although her friends in this country have offered to deposit a large sum of money as a guarantee to the immigration authorities that she will not be left to become a dependent charge in the care of the United States during her contemplated visit here, Immigration Commissioner Watchorn has ruled that as an insane alien she must be deported.

Mrs. Thompson arrived here last Tuesday to visit a cousin. Her visit was planned partly as a rest after the illness of her husband, whom she nursed to recovery. She is 65 years old and the strain which she has previously been under, together with the storm at sea made her very ill. Although not delirious she is still extremely weak and her mind is subject to queer fancies.

ACTION DELAYED

On the Question of Bank Receivership

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—Action upon the receivership petition [illegible] the [illegible] bank's examiner against the Provident [illegible] and Banking Company of [illegible] which was filed yesterday was continued to next Wednesday by Judge [illegible] of the Massachusetts supreme [illegible] day. [illegible] came up first on [illegible] of [illegible] K. Hamlin, representing the bank, [illegible] that the institution was [illegible] permitted to go over until January [illegible]. A temporary injunction restraining the company from [illegible] pending a hearing, granted [illegible] the [illegible] remained in force.

[illegible] raised by Attorney Hamlin was whether the power legally conferred upon the savings bank examiner extended beyond that of making examination and his request for a postponement was based on his desire to consult authorities on this part.

The office of the bank on Franklin street was closed today. There was no note or announcement in sight to satisfy the anxiety of a score or more of depositors who were in the corridors at the bank's usual opening hour. The doors were locked. After waiting a while [illegible] of the depositors withdrew though some remained for nearly an hour.

In connection with the case before Judge Braley, Asst. Atty. General De Courcy presented the information that the company had total assets of a par value of $[illegible], of which about $[illegible] or $[illegible] was in cash, and the remainder securities of doubtful value. The company had between 800 and 900 depositors he said who had placed with the company cash to the amount of about $182,000.

No Wrinkles on "Tailorville" Dress Clothes.

MEN'S EVENING DRESS CLOTHES

There have been such radical changes in the cut of Evening Clothes that last season's suit is conspicuously old.

We have recognized this condition by providing new full lines of Dress Suits and Tuxedos, Dress Vests, Etc., which constitute a feature of our new "Tailorville" Department of Fine Clothes.

Are you acquainted with "Tailorville"? Every coat is kept hung up, pressed, ready for immediate service—custom tailor results embodied in ready-for-service clothes.

"Tailorville" Dress Coats will appeal to the most critical. The country's best designing skill and highest paid tailors have contributed to their construction—Few tailors in the country can equal them—You'll see nothing like them ready-to-wear outside this store.

There is a full complement of sizes for regular, stout or very tall men. Should any alteration be necessary our "jour" tailors attend to it promptly and guarantee perfect satisfaction.

Action Against Provident Banking Co.

"ITS AFFAIRS IN BAD SHAPE"

Question of Receiver Taken Up

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—The savings bank commissioners of Massachusetts yesterday afternoon secured an injunction from Judge Lathrop of the supreme court restraining the Provident securities and banking company of [illegible] Franklin street from doing further business until the court decides at a hearing to be held this morning whether a receiver shall be appointed for the concern and the injunction continued.

The attorney general's office presented the petition for the injunction on the strength of an investigation made into the books and affairs of the company by H. A. Wyman [illegible] State street, on behalf of the commissioners of savings banks.

It was on the complaint of [illegible] Reynolds, a broker in the State Mutual Insurance building, that the bank commissioners undertook the investigation.

The worst feature of the trouble is that the small savings of some [illegible] depositors, amounting to about [illegible], are involved and tied up, with little hope for them in future whichever way the court may decide to act. Besides these there are other investors in the stock of the company who will get a bad shock when they learn the present state of affairs.

This is the company which for the past few years has been receiving deposits in little metal banks, which were sold to the depositors for the sum of $1 by canvassers, with the understanding that the purchase of the bank was practically the opening of a savings bank account with the "auxiliary department" of the Provident securities and banking company.

The depositor kept the little metal bank and put whatever amounts he desired into it day by day or week by week, then took it to the head office, where the key to it was held. Here the little metal box was unlocked and the amount it contained entered as a deposit to the credit of the depositor and also an account book which was given the depositor.

The box was then locked up and returned to the depositor, who took it home, saved more pennies and dimes for 30 days, when he was called upon again to bring the box and its contents to the bank, where the same performance was gone through with again and again.

The depositors were assured that if at any time they wished to deliver the little metal box to the auxiliary department of the company and close the account the original dollar [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] the company, where they were [illegible] their money would draw [illegible] per cent of interest.

[illegible]

such a bank.

The company was organized under the laws of South Dakota [illegible] charter to do all kinds of business including a sort of savings bank business. This latter feature was not developed, however, until about three years ago.

$50,000 ESTATE

HAS BEEN ATTACHED BY THE HEIRS.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—Two attachments, one for $30,000 in a bill of equity and the other for $20,000 in an action of contract, have been filed in the Middlesex registry of deeds by Phelo H. Slocum of New Bedford, Alice C. H. Judkins of New York city, Nathan Hayward of Brookline and Walter S. Hayward of Rochester, N. H., against Malcolm McLeod [illegible] city, and Charles D. Lyford of Watertown, as trustees of the Hayward trust.

The plaintiffs are the heirs of [illegible] Hayward, who died several years ago, having an estate of [illegible], including a number of parcels of Newton and Boston real estate.

Both parties to the suit maintain the utmost secrecy as to the purposes of the attachments, but it is known that the differences between the heirs and the trustees centre [illegible] parcels of real estate situated near the Chestnut Hill reservoir.

The land in question is one of the most valuable assets of the estate, according to one of the heirs, and they desire to retain it. The trustees have had numerous opportunities to dispose of it, and it is to stay the transfer of the property by the trustees against the wishes of the heirs that the attachments have been filed.

MURDERED HIS WIFE

Continued

[illegible]

Down with [illegible]

After [illegible] fortunate [illegible] drunkenness [illegible] escaped without injury.

Cziglis stood gazing at his wife and then realizing what he had done lifted her on to the bed nearby, placed the infant beside her and went out of the house.

MAMIE CANDIA'S AWFUL DISCOVERY.

The murder was committed in a minute's time [illegible] the drunken mutterings of the murderer was spoken. The two children asleep in the next room were not disturbed in their slumbers and continued to sleep after their father had left the house. It was then about five o'clock as he had been seen to enter the house shortly before that hour. In leaving the house Cziglis forgot to lock the door of the tenement after him and hence the discovery of the murder shortly afterward. About 5.30 o'clock the infant lying beside the unconscious woman began to wail but there was no one to answer its cry. The baby continued wailing until it awakened the sickly child which also began to cry. Finally the oldest child awoke and becoming frightened in the darkness began to call lustily for her mother. Receiving no answer she too began to cry.

In the tenement above lives a Portuguese family named Candia and the only one at home was little Mamie Candia, aged 10 years, a bright pretty little girl. There had never been any intercourse between the two families and when Mamie first heard the cries through the open door she paid no attention to them. But as they continued her sympathetic little heart was touched and she quietly stole down stairs to see what the matter might be. She peered into the darkness of the room but was unable to see any signs of life and she heard no noise except the crying of the children. Being afraid to enter the room alone she went into the court and there met Mrs. Susan Marshall, who lives in the lower half of the house down stairs. In broken English she told Mrs. Marshall about the children, expressing the fear that something was wrong in the tenement.

THE POLICE ARRIVE.

Mrs. Marshall entered the darkened tenement and called out, only to hear the cries of the children in response to her call. She then entered the bedroom and there was just light enough through the window for her to discern the outlines of a human form on the bed. Going over she placed her hand on the woman's shoulder to awaken her and quickly withdrew it. The upper part of the woman's body was soaking wet. She then called aloud: "Are you sick?" but the form on the bed never moved.

A great fear then took possession of her and she called to the little girl to get a match. Little Mamie, who had followed her into the tenement, ran upstairs and procured a light. The sight that met their eyes as they stood in the dim light of that little room completely unnerved both of them. The unfortunate woman, just barely alive, lay bathed in blood on the bed with the infant also completely besmeared with blood, at her side. On the floor was a great pool of blood in the corner where the crime was committed, while nearby a blood-covered flatiron told the remainder of the tragic story. To add to the horror of the scene the children wailed at the tops of their voices.

Dropping the light on the table Mrs. Marshall ran screaming from the house, followed by the little girl.

THE POLICE ARRIVE.

Mrs. Marshall ran to Gorham street where she pointed to the house and cried: "Murder" to every one she met. She ran into Morgen's saloon and told them in an incoherent manner what she had seen, and a telephone message was immediately sent to the police station. Meanwhile the Candia girl had told another girl who ran to the store of Bornstein & Quinn nearby and another telephone message was sent to the police station.

William Harrigan of the Harvard brewery who was driving down Gorham street at the time heard of the tragedy and started off in his team to find a policeman. In a few minutes he returned with Sergt. Martin Connors and Officer William J. O'Brien, and they were closely followed by Warrant Officer Dumas, Inspectors LaFlamme and Maher and officer Wesley Wilson.

The ambulance meanwhile had been summoned and the dying woman was hurried to St. John's hospital. The three children who kept up a pitiful crying were taken temporarily in charge by a Polish woman living in the neighborhood and later were taken to the Day Nursery.

The husband was well known to several of the officers, having been in court on several occasions for drunkenness. At roll call a description of the murderer was given out and Inspectors LaFlamme, Maher and Walsh were detailed on the case while Officers Dooley, O'Brien, Cawley, Flanagan and Breault who knew Cziglis were detailed on the case in plain clothes.

AT THE HOSPITAL.

Upon the arrival of the ambulance at the hospital the unfortunate woman was placed on the operating table and an examination of her wounds made by Drs. J. F. Loughran and Frank O'Sullivan. It was found that she had a compound fracture at the base of the skull which in itself was sufficient to cause death. The cheek bone on the left side was fractured while the small bones under the eye were broken. The woman had lost a great amount of blood during the time she had lain unattended and the surgeons pronounced her case fatal although an operation was performed in the hope of saving her. She died at 7.15 and was unconscious most of the time.

CZIGLIS CAPTURED.

A description of Cziglis was given to every officer on a beat and one point about the description by which the police were confident that they would get

The man was the fact that he is unusually tall [illegible]

[illegible]

When [illegible] admitted [illegible] ing, "I [illegible] remember [illegible] her."

Cziglis then told the story of the assault [illegible] says he doesn't remember whether he placed his wife on the bed or whether she crawled there herself after he went out. It is most improbable that she got there any other way than with his assistance. He did not seem to realize that his assault was anything out of the ordinary and refused to believe that she was dead.

THE HUSBAND'S RECORD

It is passing strange, yet a matter of police records that the conditions which existed between husband and wife in this case are not even unusual except in the fatal result which followed in this particular case. Every time Cziglis got drunk he would abuse his wife frightfully and yet every time he has been arrested his wife has appeared in court in his behalf and has complained of the action of the police in arresting him, and hardly a week passes but some similar case is heard in police court.

On May 13 last, Cziglis was taken from his tenement for drunkenness by Officers Dooley and Dwyer while in a drunken rage he was beating his wife whose screams disturbed the neighborhood. The following day in court Mrs. Cziglis appeared and asked that he be let go, stating that he was a good man when not drinking and her sole support. He was placed on probation. On June 24 last he was arrested, this time by Officers Dooley and Flanagan from a tenement in Middlesex street where the screams of his wife, whom he was beating, and his own drunken outcries, had been making the night hideous. The next day the wife appeared in court again and begged that he be left off, using a similar story as before and even denying that he was as abusive as the officers said he was. He received a suspended sentence of five months.

On July 29th, his last appearance in court having been arrested under similar conditions by Officer Breault, the wife appeared in court carrying her two children. Once more she pleaded that he was a good man when not drinking, and asked that he be let go in order to provide support for her and her children. On this occasion Deputy Welch cried out, "This man will kill this little woman yet, your honor." The court seemed impressed with the earnestness of the [illegible] officer, and [illegible] sentenced him to jail for ten days [illegible].

The next appearance of Cziglis at the police station was last Sunday night when somewhat the worse for liquor he appeared with a [illegible] and accused one Simon Kodoky with having stolen a ring while a guest at the christening above referred to. Kodoky was arrested Monday and fined $10 for the theft.

In the neighborhood the murdered woman bore a good reputation and the husband of the husband was [illegible] foreman. It is believed that he was subject to insane periods and some time ago was sent to the city farm. Here again his faithful wife went to his assistance and [illegible] only to take up a life of fear and death culminating in the tragic fate recorded above.

CLIGLIS IN COURT

ADMITTED GUILT AND WAS SENT TO JAIL.

"I am guilty. I hit her twice," was the awful admission made by Cziglis in police court this morning, when the complaint charging him with the murder of his wife was read to him.

With a bar filled with lawyers and the gallery thronged with spectators, all anxious to get a look at the murderer who occupied a seat in the dock, Judge Hadley opened the police court session.

Lawrence Cziglis was called upon to plead to a complaint charging him with murder. Through his counsel, Dennis J. Murphy, Esq., he waived the reading of the complaint, but Judge Hadley thought it was necessary to read the entire complaint and it was read by Clerk Savage. At the conclusion of this reading of the complaint the entire document was explained to the defendant by Interpreter Stein.

At the conclusion of the explanation Cziglis was asked: "Are you guilty or not guilty?"

In a firm voice Cziglis replied, "I am guilty. I hit her twice."

Of course the court could not re-

HELLO GIRLS

HELD ANNUAL SOCIABLE AT PRESCOTT HALL.

The telephone girls at the local exchange of the New England Telegraph and Telephone Co. held their annual social and dance at Prescott hall last night. The affair was a select one and while the attendance was limited a general good time was enjoyed.

There were 16 numbers on the dance order with extras and the orchestra which furnished music for the dancing was completely hidden from view by rows of potted plants on the stage.

Those in charge of the affair were Misses J. Florence Ramsay and H. Mabel Colburn, managers, assisted by Misses Florence M. Ingalls, Ethel W. Ripley, Lilla E. Piper, Olga Wegander, Gulla Hahn, Maude Harris and Ella Tuttle, who acted as aids.

The matrons were Mrs. J. H. Colburn, Mrs. J. P. Ramsay, Mrs. J. Nelson Dennis and Mrs. John W. Foster.

MONEY MATTERS

Caused the Trouble in the Hiller Family

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 5.—With a uniformed officer of the police force on duty at his house, A. Maxey Hiller, who was detained temporarily as a witness last evening during the coroner's investigation of the death of his brother-in-law, Charles A. Edwards of New York, was allowed to pass the night at his own residence on Temple street. The long examination to which both Mr. Hiller and his brother, Judge Charles A. Hiller, were subjected by the coroner yesterday told on both men, but was particularly evident in the case of A. Maxey Hiller. When early in the evening the coroner ordered an adjournment of the inquest for dinner, Judge Hiller was permitted to return to the family homestead on College street where the tragedy occurred, while A. Maxey Hiller was sent to police headquarters. The latter then nearly broke down from nervous excitement but two hours later had recovered his composure to a great extent.

The detention of Mr. Hiller was followed by an explanation from Coroner Mix to the effect that the former was only held as a witness and that there was no charge against him. When about midnight Mr. Hiller was sent home accompanied by two detectives and a policeman Coroner Mix again declared that he was not under arrest.

It was expected this morning that the inquest would be resumed today.

The coroner refused to give any intimation as to what evidence developed during yesterday's proceedings, but it is understood that the inquiry was largely into the family financial affairs and the relations existing between A. Maxey Hiller and his brother-in-law.

The reported desire of Mr. Hiller to be administrator of the estate of his mother, the late Mrs. Abigail Hiller, and the alleged opposition of Charles Hiller and of Mr. and Mrs. Edwards to his appointment were especially touched upon, it is said.

A. Maxey Hiller acted as legal and financial adviser of his mother. He said yesterday that he believed that she left a will but he declared that he did not draw up the document. Mr. Hiller expressed the opinion that the will would be found in an old safe at the Hiller homestead. The key of this safe he said had been missing since the death of his mother two months ago, but as it was thought very probable that it might be found any day no attempt had been made to open the safe by other means. Judge Charles A. Hiller, who lives at the Hiller homestead is a resident of Kansas where his wife and children now are, but he has been here for more than a year, having remained at his mother's side during the closing days of her life.

Although the report of the medical examiner, Dr. C. L. Bartlett, who conducted the autopsy yesterday has not been given out, it is understood that the examination of the body did not in itself throw light upon the question whether the case was one of murder or suicide. The course of the bullet which entered the head through the upper part of the left ear and stopped just beneath the top of the skull, showed that it was fired at an angle, and from a point near the shoulder, probably. It was possible, it was said, for a man to have inflicted such a wound upon himself but the continued failure to find the weapon with which the shooting was done, seems to do away with the suicide theory. The floors of the Hiller homestead have been ripped up, the drainage pipes examined and the ground under and around the house dug up without yielding any results in the search for the pistol. The autopsy showed that it was a 22-calibre weapon. Shortly after nine o'clock this morning Coroner Mix arrived at his office and announced that he would immediately resume the inquest.

A BIG SENSATION.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 5.—Allan Maxey Hiller, brother-in-law of Charles A. Edwards, the New York man who was shot to death in a mysterious manner Tuesday night, while at the home of Charles A. Hiller, another brother-in-law, at 117 College street, last night for a short time was locked up at police headquarters by order of Coroner Mix. It was later explained by the latter official that he wanted to have Mr. Hiller handy on the resumption of the inquest later in the evening and that Mr. Hiller was simply held as a witness and at the time in no other connection with the case.

This action was taken at the end of a sitting of the coroner's inquest of about five hours. Mr. Hiller was in the coroner's office when the order was given and Detective Ward at once conducted him to the station house. At the same time Charles Hiller, the brother was allowed to go home for supper. Maxey Hiller had a telephone message sent to his counsel, E. P. Arvine, and the latter quickly responded and accompanied Mr. Hiller to the station house.

The news of the coroner's action spread like wildfire and the general supposition was reached that Mr. Hiller had been placed under arrest. For this reason Coroner Mix made the definite announcement that Maxey Hiller's detention was simply temporary as far as he could determine at the time and it was also stated that later in the evening the inquest would be resumed in the coroner's office. This proved to be the case for at nine o'clock the inquest was resumed and among the witnesses called were Mrs. Maxey Hiller, Charles Hiller and Maxey Hiller, the latter being conducted from the station house about 10.30 o'clock.

Among those who were with the coroner at the time was Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Hoyt of the city court. The examination of Mrs. Hiller proved a somewhat difficult task owing to the fact that she is extremely hard of hearing. Maxey Hiller was also further examined. It is understood that the examination of witnesses did not develop any special features. The questioning was mostly as to family affairs of the Hillers, and it is understood that admissions were made that the disagreements between Maxey Hiller and his sister, Mrs. Edwards, were very bitter and that the alleged enmity of the former extended to Mr. Edwards. It is understood that the coroner in the course of his all-day inquiry has found that Mr. Edwards had often told his friends that Maxey Hiller had made threats against him.

No little sensation was created by the detention of Maxey Hiller as a witness at this stage of the inquiry, while his brother was permitted to return home. The inquest was opened shortly after the noon hour and was a resumption of that opened Wednesday by Deputy Coroner Pond in the absence of Mr. Mix. Another long drawn out proceeding was the autopsy on the body of Mr. Edwards, which was begun at ten o'clock yesterday morning and completed at 11 o'clock last night. Medical Examiner Bartlett, who was in charge, then began the preparation of his report which will go to the coroner.

It is stated that the report will show that Mr. Edwards was killed by a bullet of 22-calibre, which entered the left side of the head behind the ear and ranged upwards until it almost protruded on the top of the cranium. The weapon used must have been held very close to the head. The point whether the pistol was held by Mr. Edwards or by another person is not yet made clear, as the coroner has not announced the medical examiner's verbal report, but it is understood that an opinion has been expressed that such a wound might have been self-inflicted but in this instance it was unlikely.

A PANEL WORKER

Ollie Roberts Has Made a Confession

ABOUT $1,000,000 WAS STOLEN

Police Got Big End, She Says

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 4.—Police Commissioner Andrew C. Maroney of St. Louis, formerly assistant district attorney under Folk, yesterday listened to the most astounding tale of police corruption and graft that probably ever was told in America.

Ollie Roberts, a notorious panel worker of St. Louis, who is serving a sentence of 10 years for killing John Kelley in one of her Chestnut street houses, made a full confession to Maroney of all her crimes and gave in detail the history of the police graft that proceeded uninterruptedly for five years to her knowledge, during which time $1,000,000 was stolen from men who frequented the three houses run by the Roberts woman, and a few other houses run by other women, also engaged in the panel working business.

Of this $1,000,000 Ollie Roberts says two-thirds went to the police. She gave from memory dates, names and amounts, but for positive details she referred Maroney to her now famous book on "Graft," which is now in St. Louis, and which Maroney will secure immediately on his return from Jefferson City.

This little book, of which so much has been written during the last two weeks, is a complete, business like record of all the crimes committed by the Roberts woman and her associates and the amounts paid for police protection.

The confession made by the Roberts woman implicates 51 women, 6 police sergeants, 25 uniformed patrolmen, 20 special policemen and 8 detectives of Chief Desmond's staff. The incidents she relates cover a period of five years from 1898.

As to the police share of the plunder she is corroborated by Sam Lears, who is now telling the grand jury all he knows of police graft in the Bad Lands.

Ollie Roberts will tell her story in detail to the grand jury next week.

BOY MURDERED

His Body Found on Railroad Tracks

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—The apparent murder of a boy stirred the Grand Crossing police into sharp action last night. The body of Robert Collier, 17 years old was found on the Nickel Plate railroad tracks with the head lying across the tracks. No train had passed over the spot after the body was placed there and before it was removed.

It is the belief of the police that Collier had been murdered while in the rear of a barn belonging to John Swaggert, a neighbor, and that the body had been carried to the tracks.

The Collier boy lived with his parents and was employed in the Pullman car shops.

The boy evidently had been struck on the back of the head with a club. The skull was found to have been fractured by the blow. The theory of the police that a murder had been committed was further strengthened by signs of a struggle at the rear of Swaggert's barn.

Heel marks were plainly visible in the soft earth for several feet. The police found blood spots in places about the spot and from the varying size of the foot prints made they believe two persons were implicated in the crime. One may have been a woman because of the small imprint of the shoes.

TWO INJURED

BOSTON MEN VICTIMS OF STRANGE ACCIDENT.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—Two men were knocked down about 2.30 yesterday afternoon on Washington street in a very peculiar accident, which further resulted in the breaking of a large plate-glass window in the store of Browning, King & Co., numbered 407 and 411.

A two-horse tipcart heavily loaded and driven by John McKinnon of 117 Union-park street was proceeding up Washington street, and when in front of the Browning, King & Co. store the perch of the cart broke, putting it out of commission.

The driver jumped from his seat, and after waiting for a time decided he couldn't make repairs, so he detached the horses and left them standing by the sidewalk. Then he climbed onto the seat to get blankets for the animals. He tugged somewhat at one of the blankets, which had become caught, and in doing so he tilted the cart just enough to cause the body of it to settle. The weight of the load fell on the front truck, causing the pole to first ascend and then swing around with a bang, knocking two men down and crashing into the glass. The men injured were C. C. Hallidge, 29 years old, of 43 Hewins street, Dorchester, and Thomas Sydney, 25 years old, of 29 Worcester square. An ambulance was called, but neither would go to the hospital.

A NEW LIFE BOAT.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—A life boat of new pattern, 32 feet long with two screw propellers and a 15 horse power gasoline engine was taken to the Fire Island Life Saving station today.

HEALTH BOARD

MAY COLLECT OFFAL FROM MEAT MARKETS.

The board of health held a meeting at city hall yesterday afternoon with all members present.

The butchers' request of some months ago that the board of health collect the refuse from their stores was brought up. It was stated that it would mean an expense of about $45 a week.

Mr. Doherty made a motion to the effect that the agent be instructed to make out an estimate of the cost of the work for the year, and it was voted. This will be included in the estimates to be submitted to the committee on appropriations.

On motion of Dr. Jackson it was voted to adopt the Bertillon system of classification of diseases for the present year.

Owen Queenan of 37 Merrill street expressed a willingness to build a cellar and make sewer connections satisfactory to the board at his barn in Merrill street. The board voted to view the premises this afternoon after 4 o'clock.

Bill to Incorporate Interurban Street Railway Co.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—A bill was introduced in the house today providing for the incorporation of the Massachusetts Interurban with a capital of $5,000,000. The bill provides for a high speed street railway running from Boston to Fall River and New Bedford and Providence. The same petitioners also petitioned for authority to purchase, lease, or take by right of eminent domain certain land needed for the construction of the railway. The incorporators include Thomas J. Nicholl, Daniel J. Tomey, John J. McNamara, James J. Connelly, Bernard McCarron, William S. Haverty and James T. Cox.

The question of granting a charter to a railway between Boston and Providence was before the legislature last year and gave rise to one of the hardest fought contests of the session. No charter was granted.

MILK INSPECTOR

Interesting Facts in Annual Report

Major Thomas O. Allen, inspector of milk, vinegar and oleomargarine, is preparing his annual report and some interesting figures are contained therein. During the year ending Dec. 31, 1905 he analyzed 2570 samples of milk and 282 samples of other liquids, making a total of 2852 analyses.

He issued 174 licenses to milk dealers at $5 cents apiece, receiving $87; 115 licenses to stores, amounting to $57.50 and four oleomargarine licenses, amounting to $2, making a total of $121.50.

A portion of the reports shows that 3339 cans of milk containing 30,051 quarts, are delivered daily in the city of Lowell, the places where the milk comes from and the number of cans being as follows:

Chelmsford, 751; Dracut, 745; Westford, 413; Pelham, 376; Tewksbury, 279; Lowell, 217; Hudson, 192; Billerica, 127; Dunstable, 85; Groton, 51; Andover, 35; Carlisle, 35; Littleton, 55; Nashua, 25; Windham, 20.

Of the above 1037 cans are sold at wholesale and 2302 at retail.

One hundred and sixty cans of skimmed milk and 130 quarts of cream are also delivered daily in this city.

Rep. Clark on Philippine Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Debate on the Philippine tariff bill was continued in the house today. Mr. Clark (Mo.) opened the discussion with a speech devoted in particular to the German tariff situation. He prefaced this with a brief reference to the bill under consideration. Speaking of the area and productiveness of the Philippine Islands Mr. Clark said he had never been so much surprised since a republican beat him for congress in 1904. "You could," he said, "ram the whole islands into the congressional district represented by Stevens of Texas."

Stating the democratic position on the bill, he said, his party would vote for it although in committee the democrats had voted against it simply because the democratic substitute for absolute trade had not been supported by the republicans.

MURDERED HIS WIFE

Most Brutal Crime in the History of Lowell

Poor Mother Beaten to Death With a Flat-iron by Drunken and Jealous Husband With an Infant in Her Arms—Story of the Tragedy—Murder Predicted by Deputy Redmond Welch Last July

"This man will murder this little woman yet, your honor." was the gruesome prediction made by Deputy Welch in police court, on July 19, last, when Lawrence Chickloss or Cziglis was charged with drunkenness and it was testified that every time he got drunk he invariably abused his wife, a delicate, wan, little woman, the mother at that time of two small children.

"No she won't. She'll be all right I've done that to her before," while at no time did he express any concern or even regret for his murderous act.

The murderer was arraigned in police court this morning and was held without bail for the police are of the opinion that he will be adjudged insane and sent to the insane institution at Bridgewater eventually, for he was once before sent to the city farm as insane, only to be released upon the pleading of the faithful woman whose life he took.

The ominous words of the deputy pronounced five months ago yesterday were proven to be prophetic when in a quarrel with his wife in their squalid little tenement in an alley off Winter street, Cziglis, as he spells his name, beat his wife to death with a large flatiron while she held a four-weeks-old infant in her arms, committing one of the most distressingly brutal murders in local criminal annals.

An idea of the cold-blooded brutality of the husband, who fortunately was captured a few hours after the discovery of the crime, can be gained by his statement to the police when informed that his wife was going to die, which was: "No she won't. She'll be all right I've done that to her before," while at no time did he express any concern or even regret for his murderous act.

The murderer was arraigned in police court this morning and was held without bail for the police are of the opinion that he will be adjudged insane and sent to the insane institution at Bridgewater eventually, for he was once before sent to the city farm as insane, only to be released upon the pleading of the faithful woman whose life he took.

STORY OF THE CRIME.

Cziglis, with his family, consisting of his wife and three children, aged four years, one year and four weeks, occupied an ill-furnished, squalid three room tenement at No. 4 in the rear of 26 Winter street. Their principal furniture consisted of a small bed, an old lounge, a crib, a table and two common chairs, the entire place having a poverty-stricken aspect. Yet on last Sunday this pinched abode was the scene of revelry and drunken hilarity, for on that day the baby, born on Dec. 3, was christened and friends to the number of 20 crowded into the limited apartments and made merry around three kegs of beer furnished for their entertainment.

During the festivities two of the kegs were used up, while the guests departed, leaving the third untouched. While this keg remained in the house Cziglis refused to work and spent his time disposing of the contents of the keg. In his drunkenness he displayed insane jealousy of his wife, and visited his rage upon the innocent infant, who he claimed was not his child. The patient wife, who had become used to such accusations, said nothing in reply but went about her household duties, only occasionally reminding her husband of their dire necessity and advising him to go to work. Her advice each time brought down the vials of his wrath upon her together with the statement that he would work no more but would remain at home and find out who her callers were.

THE TERRIBLE CRIME.

And thus his jealous rage grew until yesterday afternoon, when the terrible climax came. Cziglis entered the house, drunk and in his customary choleric mood. His wife upon his entrance stood by the kitchen range attending to the fire with the infant in her arms, while nearby in the crib lay the one-year-old child, who owing to some deformity is hardly bigger or stronger than the infant. Both children had the appearance of being half starved. The four-year-old girl was asleep on the lounge.

Cziglis roughly pushed his wife away from the fire, speaking of the low temperature of the room. Then he raked over the fire and put on more coal, scolding his wife with all the [illegible] could command.

THE MORRIS CASE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Mrs. Minor Morris, who yesterday was ejected from the White House after insisting upon seeing the president, today is in a state of nervous collapse. In response to inquiries she sent word by a friend that although she keenly felt the humiliation to which she had been subjected she proposed to allow the matter to drop. The further information was conveyed that her husband, Dr. Morris, will reach here tomorrow from Ohio.

A statement was made today by Assistant Secretary Barnes at the White House concerning the ejectment of Mrs. Morris yesterday. The scene enacted during the unfortunate proceedings has created much comment on account of its unusual character and the distressing circumstances attending it and it was felt at the White House that an official statement of the incident should be made. The statement follows:

"In view of the inaccurate statements appearing in the press, concerning the [illegible] Minor Morris, Assistant Secretary [illegible] today made the following:

"Mrs. Morris called at the executive office yesterday about 1 o'clock and asked to see the president. Assistant Secretary Loeb informed the president and Mrs. Morris was told that upon inquiry as to her business she stated that [illegible] considerable reluctance had been unjustly dismissed from the department of the war department. She did not propose to have anything [illegible] with the secretary of war [illegible] ing it;

EXTRA

IS CZIGLIS INSANE?

His Counsel Says Alleged Murderer is Demented

"Is Cziglis insane?" That is the question which every one was asking in and about the police station this afternoon, and upon this score there are many opinions.

Lawyer Dennis J. Murphy is strongly of the opinion that his client Cziglis is insane, and he bases his opinion on the fact that Cziglis in the face of all the evidence to contrary still insists that his wife is not dead, but that she is still living. He admits he hit her twice with the flat iron, but under no circumstances would he plead not guilty. Mr. Murphy labored with his client for three hours before court this morning, but all to no avail. Cziglis said, and stoutly maintained it, that he would not plead "not guilty."

This afternoon shortly after two o'clock, Lawrence Cziglis, charged with the crime of murdering his wife, in company with Inspectors Maher and Walsh, went to the studio of Marion, and was photographed in three different positions.

After his picture had been taken he was brought back to the station, and taken to the finger print room, where imprints of his fingers were made by Supt. Moffatt. Cziglis was then removed to the Lowell jail, where he will be incarcerated until the special session of the grand jury convenes.

SEES THE PRISONER.

General Jos Whitney of the state police was in town this afternoon and called at the police station. While in the station he had a long talk with Cziglis. Mr. Whitney would not express any opinion relative to whether or not the prisoner was insane.

Mr. Whitney is not specially detailed upon this case, but is looking up something else in connection with state police work of a very important nature.

TALKED WITH CZIGLIS.

Mr. G. Bernstein, a prominent business man of this city says that last night while he was waiting for an electric car near Plain street he was approached by Lawrence Cziglis the man who is accused of murdering his wife, and was told by him of the crime.

Mr. Bernstein asked him if he meant what he said and Cziglis replied that every word was true, that he had struck his wife with a flatiron and had killed her. Bernstein says that Cziglis told him that he is a Lithuanian and that he came to this country about eight years ago.

WAS IN ASYLUM.

Cziglis, who now stands committed upon the charge of murder, has served time in the insane department of the Tewksbury state farm. According to the reports, and the records of the institution, he was committed to the institution June 11, 1904, and served some few weeks, when he was brought to the police station and ordered discharged. This time he was found wandering about the streets in nude attire. One of his relatives says that Cziglis was sent to an insane asylum in the old country.

CREATED A SCENE

Woman Dragged From the White House

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—A distressing scene was enacted at the White House executive offices yesterday, in which a woman was carried screaming from the building because she refused to leave without resort to force.

About 1 Mrs. Minor Morris, a handsomely attired woman, [illegible] years of age, entered the executive offices and through messenger sent her card to Secretary Loeb.

The secretary was busy at the moment and, not recognizing the name, sent Assistant Secretary B. F. Barnes to interview the caller and ascertain the nature of her business.

While awaiting a response to her card, Mrs. Morris paced up and down the reception room, appearing to be laboring under suppressed excitement.

As soon as Mr. Barnes made himself known to her, she told him that her husband had been discharged from the government service and she wanted to demand from the president his statement, or at least to discuss the matter with him.

Mr. Barnes explained that the president had nothing to do with such subjects, and that she had better take up the matter with the head of the department from which her husband had been discharged, but she was not to be put off in that way.

Mrs. Morris declared in a loud tone that she proposed to see the president even if she had to camp out here for a month. She refused to leave and dared anyone to try to make her.

A White House officer and a secret service officer lifted her from her chair and managed to get her out of the door. They tried to lead her away, but she refused to go, and finally dropped down on the wet and muddy pavement.

The White House servants then carried her, screaming, to the police call box. When the patrol wagon arrived Mrs. Morris refused to enter it, and hysterically begged the by-standers to help her. She was forced to get into the wagon and was taken to the house of detention, where the matron succeeded in calming her. She was later released and went to her hotel.

Mrs. Morris has been a guest at the New Willard hotel for three weeks. She is the wife of Dr. Minor Morris of this city and a sister of Representative Hull of Iowa.

[illegible] Dr. Morris was appointed a clerk in the office of the surgeon general [illegible] 1902. He was discharged [illegible] officially stated in the official record.

THE AMES BILL

Has Been Shown to Pres. Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Representative Butler Ames called at the White House yesterday morning and submitted to the president the first draft of his insurance code which covers to the [illegible] pages of legal cap, typewritten.

Mr. Roosevelt could not of course examine the bill on its merits, but he showed the great interest he takes in the subject and the work that Mr. Ames is doing, and he complimented him highly on the intelligence and industry he has displayed.

[illegible] Mr. Ames [illegible] in getting his code [illegible].

[illegible] Worcester Ames [illegible] Nash.

It will take Mr. Ames a couple of weeks to [illegible] rough draft in final [illegible] the bill will be [illegible] and then Mr. Ames will [illegible] push it.

In the meantime he will consult with Mr. Drake, the insurance commissioner of the District of Columbia, Attorney General Moody and other lawyers to obtain their opinion on some of the [illegible] points involved.

About Feb. 1 there will be a convention of the [illegible] insurance [illegible] in Chicago. Mr. Ames hopes to attend this convention, accompanied by Mr. Nash, and submit his bill to the convention so as to obtain the [illegible] of practical [illegible] of [illegible] upon the merits of his bill.

LEG CUT OFF

BOY DRAGGED 50 YARDS BY TRAIN.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—The people who stood at the [illegible] Cambridge station of the Boston & Maine railroad shortly before [illegible] yesterday afternoon were the witnesses of one of the most [illegible] and terrible sights that probably ever [illegible] met their gaze.

Hanging [illegible] from the [illegible] of one of the cars of a long freight train [illegible] body of Joseph Krantz [illegible] street, East Cambridge.

His left leg had been cut off by the wheels just above the knee and the bleeding stump trailed along the road bed, being dragged over the ends of the sleepers [illegible] as the train went along.

The white face of the unconscious boy showed the [illegible] anguish he had endured before merciful unconsciousness came to ease his pain.

Gate Tender Henry Wentworth was one of those who saw the spectacle. He promptly signalled the train to stop and bystanders lent their aid to [illegible] the lad.

Women who were standing near [illegible] and fainted, and even men turned their faces from the terrible sight.

Fresh flowers for all occasions. As we are growers we can guarantee them. McManmon, 6 Prescott street.

A NEW SEMINARY

Catholics to Have One in Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—The Record-Herald says:

"A move [illegible] for many years by the Roman Catholic church [illegible] of Chicago in a plan by which Chicago becomes the center of the [illegible] Catholic education and culture [illegible] finally [illegible]. With the opening [illegible] of an immense [illegible] the [illegible] have been completed [illegible] to insure the realization of [illegible] project will have been completed.

[illegible] Catholic colleges dedicated [illegible] purpose and an added to [illegible] and [illegible] to become the [illegible] Catholic theological school in the country. The [illegible] cathedral [illegible] and the [illegible] also be one of the centres of religious work of the diocese.

"The idea of the cathedral which [illegible] only been roughly penciled on paper outlines a structure which will be one of the [illegible] church edifices of the country.

Improvements already have been [illegible] on the property. No definite [illegible] can be given of the final amount [illegible] but it probably will not be less than $5,[illegible]"

The seminary grounds [illegible] will be broken in April will be under the direct supervision of Archbishop Quigley.

O'Hare and Patrick McGovern.

GRAND SACRED CONCERT.

By this time it seems unnecessary to say much of the Sunday concerts which are being held every Sunday afternoon and evening at the Academy of Music for at every performance [illegible] have to be turned away owing to the capacity of the house being [illegible] but it might be well to mention [illegible] time that two more of the concerts will be held Sunday afternoon and evening. Of course they will be good. Nothing but the best is scheduled for the Academy of Music and nothing is too good for the patrons of the house.

A fine bill [illegible] arranged for Sunday afternoon and evening, Jan. 7, and includes both [illegible] and realistic pictures.

Daniel J. [illegible], "Our Sully," will be heard in [illegible] tion with illustrated songs, and [illegible] ladies' Orchestra will render [illegible] selections.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

[illegible] Jan. [illegible] that Dave more [illegible] of that magnificent pastoral "The Parish Priest" to be presented at the Academy of Music with [illegible] Sullivan, "Our Sully," in the [illegible] supported by the other members of the Huntington stock company. [illegible] performances will be given this [illegible] tomorrow afternoon and [illegible]. Those who have not witnessed one of the performances this [illegible] should not fail to attend one of [illegible].

[illegible] Mr. Wright Huntington [illegible] leading man of the Huntington stock company, will be seen in [illegible] role of David Belasco's [illegible] "The Girl I Left Behind [illegible]." The story is a military one, [illegible] and heroism, the villain [illegible] some comedy and some tragedy, [illegible] and hostile Indians, and [illegible] sort of thing set in the Indian [illegible] and with all the dramatic [illegible] of frontier life utilized.

[illegible] It is unnecessary to make any [illegible] to the good qualities [illegible] standard of the play for the [illegible] David Belasco had a hand [illegible] that hundreds of people [illegible] have seen the play presented [illegible] sufficient evidence that the [illegible] of merit.

As to the members of the company who will produce the drama, little need be said either for the good qualities of [illegible] are known by this time. Mr. Huntington, who will appear in the [illegible] has played the part on [illegible] occasions and he will portray the [illegible] to which he is adapted in an able manner. Miss Evelyn Vaughn, the new leading lady, has by her grace and [illegible] as well as fine acting, [illegible] very popular with the theatre goers and the public can depend on her [illegible] justice to the part assigned her. The [illegible] may be said of the other members of the company also.

BIG MEETING

PLANNED BY THE FRIENDS OF IRELAND.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—Preparations for the great mass meeting to be held in [illegible] hall next Thursday evening in support of the Irish parliamentary party and the cause of home rule for Ireland are rapidly being completed, and indications point to one of the largest and most enthusiastic gatherings held in connection with the Irish cause in Boston in many years.

Mayor John F. Fitzgerald will preside. [illegible] is coming from his home in [illegible] to speak at the meeting.

The Rt. Rev. Mgr. Denis O'Callaghan, D. D., the Hon. Thomas J. Gargan, the Rev. Philip J. O'Donnell, Representative Patrick J. Duane of Waltham and other gentlemen will also deliver addresses.

BRITISH DOCTOR

Was Eaten Up By Cannibals

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 5.—The steamer [illegible] of the Elder-Dempster line, which arrived here yesterday, brought a horrible story of cannibalism in Nigeria, Africa, of which Dr. Stewart of the southern Nigerian government was the victim.

The doctor accompanied an expedition to the interior, but was separated from the main body. With only a few carriers he proceeded to Calabar river. He was riding a bicycle and being outdistanced by the carriers, missed the [illegible] and ran into the village of [illegible] hostile tribe.

The carriers returning found Dr. Stewart's bicycle and later parts of his body. Joining the main force they gave information as to their discovery. The investigation which followed showed that the body had been horribly mutilated, and there was evidence that it had been partially eaten.

It is stated that the village is only two days' march from Calabar river. It is known that the natives often indulge in cannibal feasts.

NORTH BILLERICA

The installation of the newly elected officers of Asa Pollard lodge, I. O. O. F., M. U., was held in Union hall last night. There was a large attendance during the evening to witness the exercises.

District Deputy George Emsley was the installing officer. Those installed were noble grand, William McBride, worthy vice grand, Joseph Brown, treasurer, Roger Barrington; permanent secretary, Joseph Higson; elective secretary, Arthur McFadyen; lodge physician, Dr. George T. O'Donnell. The meeting was followed by a social hour, during which several addresses were made.

Diphtheria has again made its appearance in the town and one case has been reported to the board of health during the week. A case of scarlet fever has also been reported.

The new officers of the Royal Arcanum will be installed Jan. 17.

Neal E. Mahoney was chosen vice regent of North Billerica council, No. [illegible], R. A., at a meeting held Wednesday evening. The officers elected recently for the year 1906 are to be installed by D. D. G. R. John F. Deegan on Jan. 17.

21 MINERS DEAD

An Explosion of Mine Gas Caused Disaster

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Jan. 5.—Twenty-one miners were killed in an explosion of mine gas in the shaft of the Cooper Mine company at Coaldale, W. Va., at noon yesterday. Up to midnight only one body had been recovered. Immediately following the explosion, which was heard for several miles, rescue parties set to work to explore the wrecked shaft. Coaldale is a mining town situated on the line of the Norfolk & Western railroad and is 15 miles west of Bluefields. Wire facilities are inadequate.

There were three white men and 18 colored men entombed and no hope is held out that any of them escaped death. The explosion was of terrific force and caused intense excitement throughout the surrounding country, many people believing an earthquake had occurred. The fans, mining cars and most of the property used in the mines are supposed to have been blown to pieces. Late yesterday afternoon the body of one of the miners was discovered some distance away from the mine entry. [illegible] Hope of recovering alive the entombed miners is slight as gas is pouring from the entrance. If the 21 men were not all killed instantly by the explosion it is believed that [illegible] the great accumulation of gas following the explosion.

Nashua Printers Give Up Charter

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 5.—The Nashua typographical union, after a successful life of several years, voted yesterday to disband and return its charter to the national body, after distributing its assets.

This action was due to the fact that all local unions have been ordered by the international union to withdraw members from any office or shop where a work-day longer than eight hours was refused on January 1.

The members of Nashua union did not believe that an eight hour day strike could be successfully negotiated in this city, and therefore decided to surrender the charter.

NEGRO SAVED

MOB WAS ABOUT TO LYNCH HIM.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 5.—An unknown negro narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of excited citizens near Barton avenue yesterday. The negro attacked Miss Savannah Cooke, a white deaf mute, Wednesday, but was beaten off by the girl with a club. Yesterday the negro again attacked the young woman but was caught by the citizens. The police arrived in time to save the negro from violence.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

As the struggle between capital and labor looms larger on the industrial horizon, the cry, "Give the workers a show," constantly grows more insistent. That is what Hathaway's is trying to do—give the workers a show—and a good one, where all classes of theatre going public may enjoy together the very best and most popular of vaudeville attractions.

Tom Nawn & Company in "Pat and the Genii," are at the head of the week's program. Mr. Nawn's portrayal of a delightful Irish character type is a masterpiece of skilful acting, his sketch a deliciously fanciful conception which affords an admirable vehicle for his endeavors, and the elaborate scenic embellishments are in keeping with the rest. Another big act is that presented by Ned Nye, the premier comedian, and his bevy of rollicking girls. Six handsome young women perform in this sketch, and the fun, singing and dancing with which it scintillates make it one of the most agreeable vaudeville acts of the season. Trapeze stunts of the most thrilling description are gracefully executed by Miss Blanche Sloan. Miss Sloan is a sister of Tod Sloan, the famous jockey, and has just returned from London, where she has been creating a sensation in the music halls.

LOWELL LAWYER

Defendant in a Case at Saco, Me.

GEORGE W. HOOPER THE COMPLAINANT

Says He Was Struck by an Auto

SACO, Me., Jan. 5.—An automobile case, the first of the kind in York county, was commenced before Judge Henry C. Peabody and a jury in the supreme court yesterday. This is an action in which George W. Hooper, a farmer of Wells, appears as the plaintiff, and Horace S. Bacon, an automobilist of Lowell, Mass., as the defendant. The plaintiff seeks to recover for injuries received in a runaway accident, and assesses damages at $5000.

The plaintiff in his declaration alleges that the accident, which occurred at York beach July 7, 1904, was caused by the carelessness of the defendant, inasmuch as that he was running his car at a high rate of speed and paid no attention to the uplifted hand of the farmer, as a signal that the horse was frightened.

Judge B. F. Cleaves of Biddeford appears for the defendant, and Mathews and Stevens and Pierce for the plaintiff.

The plaintiff testified that after holding up his hand as a signal for the man in the machine to stop, he jumped from the wagon and was running to get his horse by the head when the machine struck him. His leg was broken and he was considerably shaken up. He had been unable to do much work since the accident 18 months ago, he said.

Mrs. Carrie D. Foote, a summer visitor at York beach, testified that the machine went very near to Mr. Hooper, and he fell to the road. She could not swear that the auto struck Mr. Hooper.

Judge Cleaves, in outlining the case for the defendant, said that the defence would show that the automobile was never nearer than eight feet to the plaintiff. He said that Mr. Hooper had a talk with a man on the day of the accident, and upon being asked how the accident occurred he had replied, "I think that my horse kicked me and broke my leg."

Martha Haggerty of Long Sands testified that she had seen the plaintiff step from the carriage to the ground, and fall down.

Dr. John C. Stewart of York village testified that the witness fell to the ground.

Frank Holt, proprietor of the Oceanside hotel, testified that he asked the plaintiff how he was injured. Mr. Hooper told him that he got out to hold his horse, and that the horse reared up and struck him in the knee.

Horace S. Bacon, the defendant, a Lowell lawyer, who has been in the hospital for a long time, testified that he saw the plaintiff get out of the wagon and fall to the ground, the horse moving along at a walk. His auto was not nearer than eight feet of the man at any time, declared Bacon. The case will be finished today.

BASEBALL

George Davis, the crack shortstop of the Chicago Americans, and Clark Griffith indulged in an argument yesterday at local American League headquarters as to who, in their opinion, was the best pitcher they had ever seen on the professional diamond. "It is a toss-up between Rusie and Mathewson," said Davis. "Both have excelled all other boxmen. I have never batted against Matty in a game, but I have met his curves in practice and I wanted to say that he has just as good control of the ball as Rusie. Matty's most effective ball is a straight drop, but his speed is a great factor as well as a wonderfully controlled slow ball. He uses his forearm and elbow and winds up in such a manner that a batsman is sure to be puzzled. Rusie, on the other hand, depended on an out drop, which he controlled with remarkable skill, in addition to his fast ball, but he had very little preliminary motion and used his shoulder almost exclusively. Rusie possibly had the better physique, but in head work and vitality he never outclassed Mathewson." Griffith, while admitting that he had never batted Mathewson's curves, declared that he had seen him pitch often and that he had formed the opinion some time ago that Rusie, in his prime, was the best twirler that ever stepped into the box. "His curves, speed and control were the best assortment I ever looked at," declared Griff, "and no pitcher has ever approached him in class since he made his record in the baseball world."

Edward Barrow, the manager of the Toronto Eastern League club, says the New York Americans have secured a great ball player in Third Baseman Moriarty of Toledo. Barrow saw Moriarty play many games in the American Association last year and says that he is not only a cracking good fielder but that under the tutelage of Jack Doyle he quickly developed remarkable ability as a batsman. Barrow says further that Moriarty, who is a big, husky fellow, with lots of ginger and speed, can play first base and that he hopes to see him fit in at that corner of the Americans' infield so that Hal Chase can be used in the outfield. Barrow says that with Moriarty, Laporte, Elberfeld and Williams in the infield and Conroy, Chase and Keeler in the outfield Griffith would have one of the best ball teams in the country.

Another movement is under way to buy the Boston Nationals from Soden and Conant. It is said that a stock company will be organized in the Hub to take over the club on easy terms. Soden and Conant will sell the outfit for $270,000, of which $50,000 must be in cash. Conant is willing to retain some of the stock, as he is a lover of baseball and does not want to retire from the game permanently.

Major league baseball contracts now contain this new clause: "It is further understood and agreed between both parties to the contract that they will respect all of the provisions and conditions of the national agreement." Judge Thompson of the United States court who tried the M. J. Kelley case, inspired this innovation, which makes it necessary for a player to familiarize himself with the agreement as it stands. If there is a non-reserve agreement between a club and a player it will not be effectual unless it be contained in the contract or indorsed on it."

SUPREME COURT

TO PASS ON COTTON CLOTH CASE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The United States supreme court yesterday granted the petition of the government asking for a writ of certiorari in the so-called fancy cotton cloth case. This action on the part of the court is in the nature of a victory for the government and domestic manufacturers, as it will assume the hearing of the issue by the court of last resort.

The test case stands in the name of George Riggs & Co., of this city, and raises the question whether certain fancy cotton weaves are subject both to a specific and ad valorem duty, or subject to only one of the classes of assessment. The case has had a run through the circuit court and the circuit court of appeals. The last named tribunal sustained the contention of the importers that the treasury department has no right to collect two sets of duties on the cloth.

As a result of this decision domestic manufacturers have represented to the treasury authorities and to the department of justice that, under the court's ruling fancy weaves can be imported at actually lower rates than the assessment provided for plain cloth. Solicitor General Hoyt seemed to think the allegations of the American cotton men well founded for in his brief asking the supreme court to review the lower tribunal's finding, it was set forth that serious injury would result to domestic interests if the decision of the circuit court of appeals were allowed to stand.

W. Wickham Smith, of the law firm of Curie, Smith & Maxwell, counsel for Riggs & Co., said he did not know when the issue would be tried in the supreme court. It may require more than a year to get the case heard. Already there are several thousand importers' protests cases similar to the Riggs issue, on the suspended files of board of appraisers, and if the government is finally defeated, the treasury department will be called upon to make refunds amounting to possibly $500,000.

Moulders Have Not Returned to Work

The ten union moulders of the Chelmsford foundry who went out on strike yesterday morning have not yet returned to work. The management of the foundry believe that the men are getting a fair wage for the work and says there will be no change. It will be remembered that many of the best features of the German insurance statutes, under which insurance companies are absolutely prohibited from investing the funds of policy holders in the stocks of any corporation.

Under such a law it would not only be impossible to insurance companies to hold controlling interest in subsidiary banks and trust companies but they would be cut off from the holding of any proprietary interest in them and thus allied trust companies could no longer be made the tools for speculative investment and financial trickery on the part of insurance officials.

With such a law the Equitable's enormous investments in Mr. Harriman's $70,000,000 holding pool in Union Pacific preferred would have been impossible.

Under the imperial code of Germany full publicity is the keynote of the statutes, under which it is obligatory upon all companies to report in full the purchases and sales of all securities negotiated during the year, together with lists of all outstanding collateral loans and a complete gain and loss exhibit.

The German law also compels a detailed exposition of all payments and under the head of legal expenses and the names of persons to whom such payments are made. In the sphere of real estate investments the German law prohibits loans at any terms upon theatres, hotels and manufacturing property. With a detailed gain and loss account, it is said the evils of excessive "profit" commissions and under cost of new business at the expense of the policy holders already enrolled would soon become self-corrective.

Rufus Weeks actuary of the New York Life, admitted that $12,000,000 more than one-fifth of the company's surplus belonging to the old policy holders was utilized to put up as the necessary legal reserve against newly written insurance. Hence the deferred dividend policy holders had to sacrifice their prospective shares in the company's accumulations to facilitate the expansion.

One of the best provisions of the German law is concededly that which compels separate annual accountings of dividends earned upon all classes of policies. There is little doubt this feature of the German law will find favor in Albany unless the writing of deferred dividend policies should be prohibited altogether.

BRILLIANT FETE

The Roosevelts Entertain Diplomats

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5.—The reception of the season in social Washington has always been that given by the president to the members of the diplomatic corps. It is considered the most brilliant event of the year, and quite justly so. Last night's reception in the White House, given by the president and Mrs. Roosevelt, was perfect, one of the most brilliant affairs the historic mansion has ever known.

The diplomatic corps, which now numbers nearly 50 members, was present in gorgeous regalia. Flowers, magnificent foliage plants and music by the Marine band made the occasion a fitting environment for the illustrious guests. Mrs. Roosevelt, in compliment to the occasion, wore her magnificent Inaugural gown for the first time since March 4.

Miss Roosevelt, again the centre of attraction in the blue room and the east room, as on New Year's day, appeared in a handsome pale blue satin, which she wore at her father's inaugural ball, and which is familiar to the American public from the fact that her favorite photograph was taken in it. The ladies of the cabinet all wore rich and elegant gowns, and the company in the state rooms was select in a special compliment to the foreign corps.

Ambassador Whitelaw Reid of London and their fellow ambassadors, Jusserand, Herbert Pierce, Wayne MacVeagh and William F. Draper, aided in entertaining the Washington corps. There were present many other distinguished Americans, former officials and prominent men of affairs.

The display of gowns and jewels was in accordance with the traditions which hold at this reception.

Prior to the reception the president and Mrs. Roosevelt announced that the wedding of Miss Roosevelt and Mr. Longworth would occur in the east room of the White House on Saturday, Feb. 17, at noon. The ceremony will be performed by the Bishop of Washington, assisted by the Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, rector of St. John's, the church which Mr. and Miss Roosevelt attend. The ceremony will be followed by a breakfast to be served in the state dining room.

Mrs. Fairbanks, wife of the vice president, was the guest of honor for whom Mrs. Southerland, wife of Commander W. H. Southerland, entertained at luncheon yesterday.

FINE BOWLING

B. & N. CHAMPIONS DEFEATED AT DUCK PINS.

An exciting game of duck pins was rolled on the Bowladway last night between James Quinlan and Mr. Malone, Boston & Northern champions and Patrick Watson and Joseph Dawson, the leaders of the Colonials.

The challenge was issued by the B. & N. men and the losers were to settle for the suppers. At the close of the third string it was found that the score was a tie at 475 for each team and an extra string was ordered. In this the Colonial men scored sixteen points more than their rivals. Whalen kept up his reputation as a speedy one and Dawson surprised the large audience by his clever work. The losers are after another game with the winning team but the latter are looking for a harder game now.

INSURANCE LAW

German Plan May be Proposed

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Persons in close touch with the sentiment prevailing among members of the Armstrong committee are confident that as soon as possible a radical revision of the New York life insurance code will be undertaken. Comparatively few of the best features of the German insurance statutes, under which insurance companies are absolutely prohibited from investing the funds of policy holders in the stocks of any corporation.

Under such a law it would not only be impossible to insurance companies to hold controlling interest in subsidiary banks and trust companies but they would be cut off from the holding of any proprietary interest in them and thus allied trust companies could no longer be made the tools for speculative investment and financial trickery on the part of insurance officials.

With such a law the Equitable's enormous investments in Mr. Harriman's $70,000,000 holding pool in Union Pacific preferred would have been impossible.

The German law also compels a detailed exposition of all payments and under the head of legal expenses and the names of persons to whom such payments are made. In the sphere of real estate investments the German law prohibits loans at any terms upon theatres, hotels and manufacturing property. TRIPLETS BORN

AND THEY ARE BOYS IN THE BARGAIN.

BOSTON, Jan. 5. Receiving the attentions of a corps of physicians, guarded by a band of nurses and protected from the slightest draft, three baby boys, helpless, little more than 6 hours old, are huddled together in a cradle in the lying in department of the Massachusetts Homeopathic hospital. In the same room, on the mother, Mrs. Everett Bingham of 53 Seaward avenue, confined to a cot, is closely watching their every move.

The triplets were born Wednesday morning, between 1 and 1:28 o'clock. All are perfectly formed, healthy, and according to the doctors will probably live. The first weighed three pounds and eight ounces, the second three pounds and five ounces, and the last three pounds and eight ounces.

The birth of three boys at the same time is an unusual occurrence, and happens only at about once in 8000 cases.

The father is Everett Bingham, 22 years old. He looks by his teens. Mrs. Bingham is also 22 years old. She weighs about 125 pounds. The couple had one previous child, which died.

Mrs. Bingham is of Scotch parentage. Both she and her husband formerly lived in Gloucester.

FOR HAZING

MIDSHIPMAN MARZONI PLACED ON TRIAL.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 5.—The trial of Midshipman Petersen B. Marzoni of Pensacola, a member of the first class on the charge of hazing Midshipman Chester S. Roberts of Joliet, Ill., a member of the fourth class, began today after the record of yesterday's proceedings had been adopted. The charge is supported by five specifications, each alleging a separate incident of hazing in which Roberts was the victim. Roberts was also the principal sufferer in the incidents upon which are based all four of the specifications in Foster's case, the trial of which was completed yesterday. Marzoni is being defended by George H. Mann, attorney of New York city, who was a member of the class of 1855, naval academy.

No charge against any other midshipman has been filed as yet but the academy authorities state that the court will be kept supplied with charges at the termination of each case for an indefinite period.

$4000 LOSS

HOUSE IN WAKEFIELD WAS DESTROYED BY FIRE.

WAKEFIELD, R. I., Jan. 5.—Loss estimated at between $3,000 and $4,000 was caused by a fire of unknown origin in an unoccupied house here today, the structure being almost a total loss. The loss is probably covered by insurance. The house is the property of Walter I. Watson of Providence.

LIQUOR OFFICERS' REPORT.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 5.—The first report submitted by the liquor enforcement commissioners of Maine shows the total expenses for the nine months the commission has been in existence to be $10,524. The amount received in fines and fees of officers was $1936, making the cost to the state $8,956. The appropriation was $7500 per annum. The salary of each of the three commissioners is $1070.

SPECIAL SESSION

Juvenile Cases Heard in Library

Immediately after the adjournment of the criminal session of the police court this morning Judge Hadley took up the hearing of complaints against juvenile offenders. This session was held in the court library and was not strictly open to the public. Formerly these young people were heard before the general session, but better results are being achieved by the holding of the special session.

This morning there were four boys in, charged with being stubborn children. They were allowed to go on probation, after receiving some good advice from the judge.

WILL STUDY

MINISTERS TRYING TO SOLVE MORAL PROBLEMS OF CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5. Four Chicago ministers of four different denominations have completed plans to preach and study on a cooperative basis during the next four weeks for the purpose of solving, if possible, the five moral problems of the city.

Sectarian peculiarities are to be forgotten and the same sermons on the same topics are to be preached simultaneously in the four churches. The ministers have agreed to meet together in one study room and work out the important thoughts to be used in each discourse.

The four ministers who will try the experiment are the Rev. E. P. Tuller of Memorial Baptist church, the Rev. Willard B. Thorp of South Congregational church, the Rev. J. H. MacDonald of Oakland Methodist church and Jenkin Lloyd Jones of All Souls' (Unitarian church.)

HELD AS THIEF

RICH YOUNG QUAKER IS UNDER ARREST.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—According to police inspectors from New York who arrived in this city late yesterday afternoon with the necessary requisition papers for the return of an alleged fugitive from justice, they have in "Alexander B. Noyes," wanted in that city on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, a scion of one of Pennsylvania's wealthiest and most respected families.

The prisoner was extradited on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, but the New York police say that they have evidence that the young man "beat" he Waldorf-Astoria and the Marlboro out of large amounts and that by his winning manner and stylish appearance he captivated the heart of a fair New York maiden, and as a result obtained a valuable diamond ring.

In supporting their case against "Noyes," who it is also thought goes under the name of John P. Kelker, the police state that they have evidence in their possession that he sole a check book from the office of the Saturday Evening Post, the same being the property of Phillip E. Allen, managing editor.

SEYMOUR GOURLEY DEAD.

TRURO, N. S., Jan. 5. Seymour E. Gourley, a former member of parliament for Colchester county, died here today. He represented the county in the Dominion house until the last election, when running as a conservative, he was defeated. Mr. Gourley's speeches in the house with reference to Canada's independence and his references of the United States brought him into considerable notice.

APPRAISAL OFF

The Committee Chosen Gave Up the Job

Messrs. Daniel H. Varnum, George L. Fowler and John J. Burns, who were appointed to appraise the property at the city farm, have given up the idea of continuing the work.

As stated in yesterday's issue of The Sun, the appraisers threatened to make matters hot and were going to appraise the property no matter what objections were offered. Yesterday they grew very hot and oratorical, but a good night's rest last night served to cool their ambition for the work.

Upon leaving the farm last night Chairman Varnum inquired if it would be possible to start work at 8:30 o'clock this morning. He was informed by Clerk Mahoney that he could commence operations any time after 6 o'clock in the morning.

George L. Fowler stated to a representative of The Sun that the committee had decided not to tackle the work, as after a careful survey of the work to be performed, they would not have time to complete the work and submit a report before the overseers of the poor's terms of office closed.

IN POLICE COURT

Fred M. Haskell Was Fined $25

FOR PEDDLING WITHOUT LICENSE

Gravel Sent to Jail for Larceny

Fred M. Haskell, charged with illegally peddling jewelry, inasmuch as he had no license so to do, pleaded guilty and was fined $25. Haskell hails from the Pine Tree state and had only been in this state two days and in Lowell about two hours when he was arrested.

When Haskell was taken to the police station it was found that he had enough cheap jewelry upon his person to supply half the establishments of Lowell.

When he wanted to sell a ring he put it on his finger and then representing himself as "broke" offered it for a dollar to take him out of town. He said he was from Bangor, Me., and was fined $25.

John F. Byrne was fined $2 for drunkenness.

Patrick Monyhan said he had a few drinks but was not drunk. Patrolman Joseph Noye testified that both he and Lieutenant Brosnahan were called to the house of the defendant on Union street. The defendant was very drunk, and his wife was all covered with blood. Monyhan had been assaulting his wife.

His wife testified that he was very drunk and had abused her repeatedly.

Monyhan was placed under bonds to keep the peace for six months.

Michael Sweeney, a chum of Monyhan, was arrested at the same time. He pleaded not guilty, but it did not go and Michael will be found at the state farm for some time to come.

William Black was up for the third offence and sentenced to two months in jail.

Patrick McDermott was fined $6.

GRAVEL SENT TO JAIL.

Alfred C. Gravel pleaded guilty this morning in police court of the larceny of two coats, two vests, three pairs of pants, a pair of shoes and a watch chain, the property of James L. Wentworth of Queen street, and received a sentence of six months in the Lowell jail. All the stuff with the exception of the watch chain has been recovered. This, Gravel said, he gave to his brother in Somerville.

CITY HALL NOTES

HEARING ORDER SIGNED BY THE MAYOR.

The petition of Paul Butler, Butler Ames, Charles F. Remington and Alfred Adamson, Jr., a majority of the directors of the Boston & Lowell Interurban Street Railway Co., for a hearing before the board of aldermen, was signed by Mayor Casey this morning.

The purpose of the company in asking for the hearing before the board of aldermen is for the purpose of securing a franchise to locate tracks in this city.

The hearing will be held in the aldermen's chamber on Tuesday night, January 23d, at eight o'clock.

CITY CLERK SWORN IN.

Mayor Casey this morning swore in Girard P. Dadman as city clerk for the ensuing year. City Clerk Dadman will later swear in the other heads of departments at city hall.

ACCOUNTS COMMITTEE

The committee on accounts, consisting of Alderman Crosby, chairman; Councilmen Cheney and Hogan, will meet this evening at eight o'clock at city hall for the purpose of organizing.

The principal business of the meeting will be the appointing of an auditor to examine the books of the city treasurer, and all the books of other departments which receive money including those of the city clerk's office, city cemeteries, board of health, police department, sealer of weights and measures and city weigher.

The auditor will begin his duties as soon as possible after his appointment and it will take about two months to go through the books in that office. The examination of the books in the other departments is not such a long task.

IT'S SPOTTED FEVER.

Roy Martin, of 14 Whipple street, whose case was diagnosed by one doctor as that of cerebro-spinal meningitis, while another physician stated the boy was suffering from a cold, has been removed to the Lowell hospital.

The board of health authorities feel positive that he is suffering from spotted fever.

Both Martin and the Mahoney boy, who was also removed to the hospital, are resting comfortable.

DID YOU HEAR ABOUT THE WAIST SALE?

Come to the Merrimack today if you want to get in on that sale of Women's White Waists, when $3, $4 and $5 waists are offered at 95c—Don't take too long to think it over. Act quickly.

AGAINST HARPER

A VERDICT OF $5,250,343 IS AFFIRMED.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5—A verdict for $5,250,343 against Edward L. Harper, once vice-president of the Fidelity National bank of Cincinnati, was affirmed yesterday by Judge Cox in the United States circuit court. Eighteen years ago Mr. Harper was convicted of causing the failure of the Fidelity bank, and served six years in prison. Today's verdict grew out of this failure. The amount sued for in 1885 was $3,500,00, to which was added interest which has accrued to it. Mr. Harper is at present vice president and general manager of the United Iron & Steel company, with offices in this city.

PURE FOOD FAIR

More Firms Have Engaged Floor Space

The work of setting up the Merchants and Manufacturers' Exposition, Pure Food Fair and Military Carnival is well under way at the armory. A force of electricians, carpenters and decorators have started to work and will work from January 3d until the opening of the fair, the 11th at 1 p. m. Several more large firms have closed contracts for space in the last few days. One of the largest of these is the local firm of George F. Putnam & Son, who will have one of the most beautifully decorated booths in the armory, occupying a floor space of about 50 square feet where they will exhibit and demonstrate Occident Flour with an electric oven made of glass so that the public can look into it and see the biscuit or cake going through the process of baking. This booth will be on the right hand side of the armory going in. It will be decorated with red, white and black bunting and will be one of the most attractive booths in the armory. Free samples and souvenirs will be given away at the booth. Another local firm that has taken a large space is the Thompson Hardware Co., who will demonstrate a line of patent cooking, house paints and hardware. All of the grange societies from the surrounding towns have been invited to attend and most of them will visit the exposition on Friday afternoon and evening, January the 12th, which is Grange Day. The New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. have started to set up their exhibit and the same will be in readiness for the free long distance service when the fair opens. Following is a list of some of the exhibitors that have signed to exhibit up to January 1st: New England Telephone and Telegraph Co., Genesee Pure Food Co., H. H. Barker Co., Becker Jones Jewell Milling Co., Tucke & Parker Co., Northwestern Milling Co., Salt-O-Nut Co., Smith & Lawrence Co., Dwinnel-Wright Co., Williams Furniture Co., Allen Bros. Glass Manufacturers, Sulpho Naphtol Co., D-Zerta Food Co., Jersey Ice Cream Co., Armour Co., Sterling Range, Cereosta Flour, Simpson & Rowland, Woodward Novelty Co., Duffy's Non-Alcoholic Cider, Occident Flour, Hires Golden Cream, Jell-O, Welch Grape Juice Co., Worcester Salt, Egg-O-See, Rumford Baking Powder, Mansfield & Whitam, and the Fattest Babies in the whole world. The management reports to the executive committee that there are four more desirable spaces for exhibitors and the prospects are that Lowell will have a very grand industrial exposition and pure food fair from January 11th to the 21st, 1906.

CYCLE NOTES

Some of the English prints speak rather mournfully of the future of motorcycles. While there are more of them in use than of automobiles, the progress has not been all that fancy painted. Fancy ever was a fickle jade, but if the motor bicycle has halted in the "tight little isle," it is not at all surprising.

Viewed from this distance, the average foreign motor bicycle is, if not a monstrosity, at least, close to it. It is not unlike the types that were in favor in this country three years ago. They repel rather than attract the eye. They are big, heavy, ungainly appearing creations that fairly bristle with little levers. Some of the English critics themselves admit that the machines have been overweighted and overpowered, and point to France also as an indication that too much power has had a deterring effect. They think that from four to six horsepower is amply sufficient and should be the limits of the future, but if to develop that power it will still require the big, bulky motors in common use, and also the abundance of machinery and operating levers, it is doubtful if the British trade or the French trade will show very marked improvement.

It is the clean-cut simplicity of the pedal propelled bicycle that is one of its chief attractions and the popularity of the motor bicycle will be measured not a little by its approach to that simplicity. The more it is loaded with levers and paraphernalia and made to look like a miniature automobile or a machine shop on wheels, the less it will attract and interest the public. To American eyes, the average foreign motor bicycle appears a shop of that sort.

Happily, the American makers, generally speaking, seem to have grasped these facts, and the good results are plainly apparent. Instead of motorcycles being in the "doldrums," they are but just entering on their era of prosperity.

The Europeans pointed the way to these good results by adopting a record weight limit of 110 pounds. Except in England, it served to keep weights within reasonable bounds. But the foreigners overlooked the limitation of power, and the result was a crop of impractical and repelling and dangerous monstrosities that it is now freely admitted have done more harm than good. They are now endeavoring to repair the damage, but it is proving no easy task.

Whatever may be said, the Federation of American Motorcyclists served the American industry and the American public a good turn when it adopted not only the 110-pound weight limit for record performances, but set a limit of 5 horsepower on such machines as may be used in competitions of whatever sort. It discouraged the "freak" just as it encouraged the practical machine. Its effect is well illustrated in the case of the most vociferous and rampant opponent of the 110-pound rule. The remark of a rider when he viewed the new model of this concern exactly stated the case: "Well, at last they've commenced to build a decent machine!"

GOING TO GIBRALTAR.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The announcement that the second squadron of the North Atlantic fleet in command of Rear Admiral Charles D. Sigsbee will be at Gibraltar which is near Algeciras, at about the time when the Moroccan conference will assemble has aroused interest here in diplomatic circles.

BOSTON COPPER MARKET.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—The local copper market opened firm and turned strong under the lead of North Butte and Utah. North Butte on the purchase of 1500 shares advanced to $6 up 4, while Utah sold at 61, ¼ up 2¼. The new orders in the market which were well scattered throughout the list were largely to buy.

GOING TO GREECE

GREEKS TO GIVE $150 TO AMERICAN TEAM.

D. N. Botassi, the Greek consul-general, notified James J. Sullivan, secretary-treasurer of the A. A. U. yesterday that the committee of the Olympic games at Athens next spring would contribute the sum of 7500 francs, or about $1500, toward defraying the expenses of an American team of athletes to Athens. It is stipulated that the team shall consist of about twenty men, and they will leave here early in March and have a full month in the Greek capital to prepare for the contests which are scheduled from April 22 to May 2 inclusive. A meeting of the American committee has been called for the Waldorf-Astoria on January 15 on the strength of the contribution, when the details of the trip will be outlined.

In connection with the representation of American athletes at Greece a finance committee has been appointed, of which Julian W. Curtis of Yale has been selected chairman. This committee will receive extra contributions for the sum donated by the Greeks will not be sufficient for the full cost of the team. In writing to Mr. Sullivan, Consul Botassi says:

"I have the pleasure to inform you that the committee of the Olympic games at Athens, taking into consideration the very heavy expenses which will be incurred by the athletes who propose to take part in the said games, has decided to come partly to their assistance by disposing a certain amount of money to each of the foreign committees. To this effect I am instructed to inform you that the Greek committee places at the disposition of the American committee the sum of 7500 francs, about $1500.

"Besides this the Greek committee offers its brotherly hospitality to twenty of the American athletes during their stay in Athens, and moreover, being desirous to facilitate the athletes and also to encourage a greater number of American athletes or visitors to the games, the committee offers to provide board and lodging to the American visitors, who may so desire, at the rate of 7 francs and upward per diem, provided due notice is given in advance, of such purpose to the committee.

"In bringing to your knowledge the above decisions of the Greek committee, I beg you to communicate them to our president, Mr. Caspar Whitney, and to the other members of the American committee, and to express the hope that, having received such a handsome start from Athens, they will now proceed vigorously to work and make the American representation to the games a brilliant success."

It has been stated that at the Waldorf-Astoria meeting the team for Greece will be selected, but it is not generally known what lines will be pursued in picking the men, but it was unofficially learned yesterday that holders of national championships, that is, the winners at the A. A. U. meet at Portland, Ore., last August, would have pride of place. After that list has been exhausted the crack men of the eastern college and a couple of first rate clubs like the New York A. C. and Irish A. A. C., would be considered. The swimmers, gymnasts, shooters, fencers, oarsmen and cyclists will be selected in pretty much the same style.

The program is not a very extensive one, but it embraces a lot of popular events. The flat racing events are five in number, 100, 400, 800, 1500 metres and the race of 42 kilometres from Marathon to Athens, and contestants in this latter event must have attained the age of 21 years. Only one hurdle race is included, and that is 110 metres, high obstacles. There are five jumping events, standing and running long jumps, running high jump, hop, step and jump and pole vault. Weight throwers will be rather limited. The discus will be thrown both in Grecian and free styles, the latter meaning from a seven foot circle. Putting the 42 pound stone, one of the oldest forms of heavy weight exercise, will be introduced, and the later day form of putting the 16 pound shot will be used. An all round program of five events entitled the Pentathlum has been arranged, the events being 192 metres, broad jump, discus, Greek style hurling the javelin and wrestling. Besides these there will be tug-of-war, walking 1500 metres and rope climbing. Odd events will consist of lawn tennis, association football and diving.

To help out the fund Joseph B. Maccabe, president of the A. A. U., has stated that every associate member of the national body will be asked for a contribution, and as several have already signified their intention of subscribing there is no doubt a large sum will be collected.

GUARDED BY POLICE

Coroner Orders That Hiller be Detained

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Jan. 5.—Closely guarded by a police officer, A. Maxey Hiller, a witness held in the case of the murder of his brother-in-law, Charles Edwards of New York, is spending the day at his residence on Temple street. He may be under close surveillance for a number of days to come if there is significance in the statement of Coroner Mix, made at noon that he expected to detain Mr Hiller "much longer than 24 hours." The inquest which was opened on Wednesday noon does not appear to be anywhere near completed and additional witnesses may be called in an effort to throw more light on this mysterious case.

The striking incident of the coroner's conference with Deputy Pond and Medical Examiner Bartlett today was the exchange of communications and what appeared to be copies of some of the inquest testimony between the coroner's office and the office of State Attorney Williams. The fact that the attention of the state attorney's office is called to the case at this stage of the inquest is considered to be of importance and is thought to indicate the early application for the granting of a bench warrant for an arrest in the case. The coroner's examiner's report of the autopsy [illegible] is not ready [illegible] to the coroner.

The police, while not abandoning the search for the weapon used in the tragedy are convinced that it was not left in the Hiller homestead.

Mrs Maxey Hiller in an interview today expressed absolute confidence in the innocence of her husband. Mr Alvine, counsel for Mr. Hiller, said that no writ of habeas corpus would be asked for while his client was in detention under the coroner's orders. He said further that Mr. Hiller could have no motive for killing Mr. Edwards as the latter was not an heir to the property of his mother.

MORE REFUGEES

Have Decided to Leave the City of Riga

RIGA, Livonia, Jan. 5.—The energetic manner in which General Sollogub has inaugurated his governor generalship is reassuring the German residents somewhat and there is less talk of abandoning their property interests in the Baltic provinces. Nevertheless another German steamer will leave Riga tomorrow with 400 refugees of foreign nationalities.

A gradual resumption of railroad traffic is in progress. Two trains are sent from Riga daily. Governor General Sollogub has announced that he is willing to accede to the economic demands of the railroad men but refuses to consider any political demands. The railroad men who have been obstructing traffic are being arrested as fast as found. Among them is the assistant station master.

The revolutionists today killed two more policemen here in broad daylight, making the number for the last three months 28.

The devastation of estates by the peasants in Esthonia proceeds furiously. The authorities are dispatching military expeditions with artillery in all directions.

In Courland no mercy is shown where revolutionary bands refuse to surrender. The troops shell the towns and villages. Several of the latter have been set on fire and completely destroyed.

BOTH SIDES

CLAIM A VICTORY IN THE PRINTERS' STRIKE.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5.—Master printers and their striking employes both claim an advantage in the present strike. Officials of Typographical Union No. 2 say that 27 firms have signed the agreement for an eight-hour day although they refused to give the names of the establishments. George McBride for the Typothetae today denied that any member of the Typothetae had yielded to the union.

BIG ORDERS

RAILWAY COMPANIES WANT MORE CARS.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Startling totals are in the figures which the Railway Age prints in its issue of today, showing its annual statistics of the car and locomotive business. The figures show that in the twelve months just closed the railways of the country have ordered 341,315 freight cars, 6365 locomotives and 3289 passenger cars.

In 1904 the figures were:

Locomotives, 2538; passenger cars, 2213; freight cars, 136,561.

In commenting upon the matter the Railway Age says:

"The aggregate capacity of the car and locomotive plants and the railway shops which build new equipment is not sufficient to produce in a twelve month the large results represented in the footings. It therefore follows that the orders here recorded will in many cases carry the builders far into the present year, and possibly in some cases beyond the end of 1906 before deliveries are completed. It is not likely in view of this condition of affairs that the orders for 1906 will reach the high level of the year just closed."

SLOT MACHINES

Move Made to Have Them Abolished

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—The abolition of slot machines is asked for in a petition filed with the clerk of the senate today, signed by Rev. Frederick E. Allen, secretary of the New England Watch and Ward society and Chief Joseph E. Shaw of the district police. The first section of the bill accompanying the petition provides that any slot machine or other device kept, used or maintained for the purpose of determining by chance or hazard the right to money or the property or any interest therein, is hereby declared to be a gambling implement and subject to all laws relating to unlawful gambling. Section 2 provides that all money and property forfeited shall go to the treasury of the county where seized and section 3 provides a penalty of a fine from $50 to $100 for a first offense and a three months' imprisonment for a second offense.

BOTH GARROTED

Men Accused of Murdering a Baby

HAVANA, Jan. 5.—Domingo Bocourt, an old negro, and Victor Molina, a mulatto, were garrotted at the prison here today. Both men were regarded as "witches" by their associates. Their crime was the hideous murder of a white baby for the purpose of procuring the heart of a white female child which the "witches" prescribed as a poultice for a certain woman as a cure for barrenness.

ALARM CLOCK

SAVED LIVES OF MOTHER AND FOUR CHILDREN.

BRUNSWICK, Me., Jan. 5.—Mrs. Mary Britt and her four daughters, ranging in age from 10 to 22 years, owe their lives to the fact that the mother set her alarm clock one hour earlier than usual yesterday morning. In half an hour more all would have been suffocated by coal gas, and as it is Mrs. Britt and her daughter Mary, aged 12, may not survive.

Mrs. Britt and her children all sleep in the same room of their little tenement on lower Main street. Some time during the night the funnel on the big stove fell apart and the room, which was tightly closed, was soon filled with coal gas.

The oldest daughter is a saleslady in a local shop. She usually arises at 6 o'clock and her mother sets the alarm for this hour, but yesterday morning she was obliged to be at the store earlier than usual on account of January stock taking. Accordingly Mrs. Britt set the alarm at 5 and hung the clock close by the bedside of her daughter. The long ring awoke the girl out of a stupor, and instinctively realizing danger she crawled to the window, opened it and attracted the attention of neighbors.

THOMAS TALBOT

Re-elected Head of State Committee

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—The republican state committee, yesterday afternoon threw open its handsome new apartments on the fourth floor of the Kimball building, and the headquarters, which have been substantially furnished, were much admired. The housewarming took the form of a luncheon by the old members of the committee to the new, and for two hours there was a pleasant interchange of opinion, after which the new committee adjourned to the large room below to organize and talk politics.

William M. Flanders, secretary of the retiring committee, called the meeting to order, and Herman Hentel of ward 11 was chosen temporary secretary. A permanent organization was then effected by the choice of these officers for the year 1906: Chairman, Thomas Talbot of Billerica, secretary, William M. Flanders of Newton, assistant secretary, George H. Doty of Waltham; treasurer Joseph N. Peterson of Salem; chairman of the executive committee, Alfred S. Pinkerton of Worcester, chairman of the finance committee, H. Clifford Gallagher of Milton.

A committee of seven, including the chairman and secretary, was appointed to meet and recommend such changes in the rules of the committee as may be deemed advisable.

The committee is much gratified by the election of Mr. Gallagher in place of Wilmot Evans, chairman of the finance committee. Mr. Evans is not a member of the committee this year.

MARKET STRONG

Weakness of Thursday Has Disappeared

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The excitement and weakness in the stock market yesterday afternoon caused by Jacob H. Schiff's speech on the currency seemed to have disappeared entirely when the stock exchange opened today. First prices showed mixed gains and losses but almost immediately the speculation developed a strong tone and an advancing tendency. Anaconda, ex-dividend opened 2½ lower but rallied quickly 13 points to 263. Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and Reading also were strong.

The rate of interest for call money opened at 9 per cent, which is the lowest point at which it has opened in several weeks.

MATHEWS' FAIR

Drew Banner Crowd Last Evening

The biggest crowd of the week attended the bazaar of the Mathews last evening and it included a large number from the surrounding towns who came to inspect the new building. Billerica, Chelmsford and Tewksbury [illegible] well represented. The good natured rivalry among the different tables has grown to that [illegible] where [illegible] all sorts of devices to attract the crowds. Thus last evening there was a constant din from bells, horns, megaphones and similar noise provoking instruments and [illegible] that they [illegible] effectively.

The [illegible] of the candy table had its attraction for the crowd last evening.

The entertainment last evening was furnished by the Flower table and the program was most pleasing. The ice cream table made a hit with its new system of serving ice cream [illegible] during the [illegible] serving [illegible] that walked. After the entertainment there was dancing with [illegible] as the [illegible]. The bazaar will [illegible] tonight and tomorrow [illegible] special matinee attraction tomorrow afternoon for the children.

FIRE IN HOTEL

Excitement Caused by Fire at the Brunswick

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—Some excitement was caused in the Hotel Brunswick on Boylston street today by fire which broke out in a sub-basement in the building. The fire started in a manner unknown in an unused section of the basement and had acquired considerable headway before it was discovered. Suddenly great volumes of smoke escaped and passed upward through the hotel elevator wells and stairways. Bell boys were sent hastily around to give the alarm in every room and such guests and employes as were on the upper floors hurried down to the lobby and then into the street. The fire appeared worse than it actually was however, and was extinguished after the firemen had ripped up several floorings to the basement. The damage was not heavy.

SUED KUBELIK

DUTCH IMPRESARIO GETS DAMAGES FROM VIOLINIST.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—M. Schurman, Dutch impresario, has won a suit against Jan Kubelik, the violinist, from whom he claimed 8000 francs damages for not fulfilling engagements at Madrid and Barcelona.

Schurman asserted that he paid 6200 francs for rentals of theatres. The balance of the claim was for damages arising from breach of contract.

Kubelik's counsel pleaded that the court had no jurisdiction, both litigants being foreigners and that the alleged arrangement had nothing to do with France. Evidence was produced showing that Schurman had been legally domiciled in Paris since 1890. The court accepted this, held that Kubelik's allegation that he was legally domiciled at Kolin, Bohemia, was not proved positively, and gave judgment in favor of the plaintiff.

NORTH COMMON

IN BAD SHAPE AFTER YESTERDAY'S STORM.

The storm of yesterday put the North Common paths in a state that was unfit for travel, and hundreds of women who pass through the common to and from their work were eloquent in their complaints of the condition of affairs there. In some cases they went over their shoetops in water under a deceiving surface of snow. For several years past there is an annual complaint registered against the North Common in winter and several residents of that section of the city have written or telephoned The Sun to register a complaint in their behalf to the park department.

FIRES OF REVOLT

Not Yet Extinguished in Russia

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 5.—The government's victory over the revolutionists has been quite decisive although open revolt continues in many places in the interior. But the military are employed mercilessly and gradually the movement is being stifled. The fires of revolt, however, are smothered but are not extinguished and the main fear is that the government, encouraged by success, will fall into the very error of which the revolutionists are guilty and attempt to press its advantages too far. Already there are signs that the policy of repression may be carried to a point which is sure to again arouse the resentment and discontent of the classes which shrank from the violent program of the "Reds." In St. Petersburg, for instance, the wholesale persecutions have been succeeded by an offensive measure of the prefect of police which practically gives the Dvorniks or house porters a free hand to search private lodgings for arms and suspicious persons for documents, offering them a premium of 50 cents for the discovery of every revolver or bomb and 25 cents for a knife. Such a measure naturally will arouse the cupidity of the house porters and restore the intolerable system of personal espionage which was in vogue at the time of the late Interior Minister Von Plehve. Thirty-five arrests were made last night including four Moscow revolutionists who came here to consult their comrades in the city. The latter were captured on their arrival at the railroad station, after a desperate struggle with the police.

The program for the demonstrations of Jan. 22, the anniversary of "Red Sunday" includes services for the "martyrs" at the various places the troops fired on the workmen and also at the cemetery of the Transfiguration where the majority of the victims were buried.

MACHINE UPSET

Expert Machinist Met With Death

QUIDNICK, R. I., Jan. 5.—George Young, an expert machinist employed by the Howard and Bullough company of Pawtucket, was killed in the carding room of the Quidnick company's mill here today while engaged with other men in moving a heavy drawing frame. The machine suddenly tipped over while being moved, the upper part falling upon Young's chest and crushing him so badly that he died within a few minutes. Young lived in Attleboro, where he leaves a widow and three children. He was 29 years old.

HAIR SWITCHES
We have added to our large stock of Ladies' Furnishing Goods a fine line of Hair Switches at about one half price you have been paying the so-called hair store. We have knocked the prices down so low that they will never rise again as long as we are in the business. We buy direct from the largest importers in New York, which enables us with our small profit to sell all kinds of hair goods at about one-half you've been paying. Also orders taken for all kinds of hair work, made to order by the most experienced hair worker in Lowell.

ANNEX THE TOWN OF TEWKSBURY

THE MUTUAL INTERESTS OF TEWKSBURY AND LOWELL DEMAND THE ANNEXATION OF THE ENTIRE TOWN OF TEWKSBURY. THE TOWN WANTS CITY PRIVILEGES AND LOWELL WANTS ROOM FOR FUTURE EXPANSION. WE HAVE BUILT UP TO THE TEWKSBURY LINE SO THAT OUR GROWTH IN THAT DIRECTION MUST STOP UNLESS WE ANNEX NEW TERRITORY. WITHOUT NEW TERRITORY CONGESTION WILL FOLLOW TO THE INJURY OF OUR CITY AND OUR PEOPLE.

ANNEXATION WOULD START A BOOM THAT WOULD GREATLY ADVANCE THE PRICE OF REAL ESTATE IN TEWKSBURY AND IN TIME FORM A SOURCE OF REVENUE THAT WOULD FULLY COMPENSATE US FOR SUPPLYING THE TOWN WITH OUR WATER SERVICE, WITH POLICE AND FIRE PROTECTION. SCHOOLS, SEWERS AND STREET IMPROVEMENTS. WERE TEWKSBURY ANNEXED THE GROWTH IN THAT DIRECTION WOULD BE SO RAPID THAT ATHERTON AND WIGGINVILLE WOULD SOON BE THE CENTRES OF THRIVING RESIDENTIAL DISTRICTS IN WHICH NEW INDUSTRIES WOULD RISE TO GIVE READY EMPLOYMENT TO THE PEOPLE IN THE VICINITY. IT SEEMS, THEREFORE, THAT THE PUBLIC SPIRITED MEN OF BOTH CITY AND TOWN SHOULD PUSH THE MOVEMENT TO MAKE TEWKSBURY PART AND PARCEL OF OUR CITY.

The Boston Herald decides against Justice Gaynor of New York in the Royal Arcanum rate controversy but it remains to be seen whether the supreme court will express a like opinion.

The National League of Women's clubs has resumed its crusade against the presence of Senator Reed Smoot in the senate on the ground that he is still a Mormon, that he practises polygamy in violation of the law and the covenants given when statehood was granted to Utah. The Women League appeals to interested citizens to write letters to the senators appealing to them to vote for the exclusion of Reed Smoot from the senate. The women are right but congress will not view the matter in that light.

THE BUILDING OUTLOOK.

The prospects for extensive building operations in Lowell this year are very encouraging. The contractors fear but one obstacle—strikes. It would be well for the contractors to reach agreements so far as they can in advance with the building trades so that there may be no strike to hold up the operations upon any building.

NEW SCHOOL LAW USELESS.

Judging from the effects of the new school law regarding minors, we believe it will do more harm than good in Lowell at least. About 200 boys between 14 and 16 have dropped out of the evening schools as a result of the new law, but they have not applied for admission to the day schools. Many of them were born in Canada and have gone back to their homes while others have gone to New Hampshire, New York or other states where the laws will not operate against their getting employment. It was supposed that when the new law drove them out of the mills it would drive them into the schools, but it has done nothing of the kind, only a very small number of those who left the mills having applied for admission to the day schools.

MILKING BILLS AND THE LOBBY

The governor of Ohio in his inaugural message has called attention to a species of legislative tactics which it appears have been resorted to in Ohio as a means of extorting money from corporations.

It is that of introducing what is known as "milking bills," or measures threatening established interests with detrimental changes and therefore inducing them to employ lobbyists and distribute enough money to secure the defeat of the objectionable measures.

This is certainly a very grave abuse of the legislative power and one which cannot be too severely condemned. That it has been practised in Ohio appears quite certain from the governor's condemnation of the evil and there is no doubt whatever that it has been resorted to by some unscrupulous members of other legislatures, including that of Massachusetts.

It has to do with railroads, and other quasi public bodies which, when threatened with inimical legislation, hasten to the legislature to secure a majority to defeat the measures. To do this may cost money but rather than take the chances of letting the measures become law, the corporations interested naturally agree to pay.

It usually happens that the promoters of such measures are able to muster considerable support for these "milking" measures. Whether they give any inkling of the real intent of the bills is not known, or it may be the other members lend their support instinctively through the expectation of being "seen" or "fixed," as the term goes, by the agents of the corporation affected. Occasionally honest men are unwittingly led to support such measures, and even newspapers are gulled by the slick promoters of the "milking" bills. Of course the press has great power to spread alarm among the affected interests and sometimes, unfortunately, it is too easily gulled.

While milking bills are to be condemned in the most emphatic manner, it is just possible that this same epithet may be thrown in the face of honest men who initiate necessary reforms.

It is a well-known fact that corporations are frequently the instigators of legislative measures and that they use the lobby to secure the passage of such measures. In this way, perhaps, they, themselves, may have suggested the "milking" bills, and if so, they are not deserving of much sympathy.

Hence, it is, that the "milking" bills are but one of several abuses that may be found in connection with various state legislatures in this country. All are alike deserving of public condemnation and the guilty parties should be punished whenever and wherever they can be convicted of such an abuse of power.

UNIQUE MEETING.

The Sam Walter Foss club held a rubric meeting on Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs W H Hatch of South Tenth street. The subject being "Home Cooking Recipes and Recipes." The members each brought samples of cooking to be tested by the club, giving recipes for the same, proving that there were good cooks in the club. The recipes are to be typewritten and given as souvenirs to those present. The hostess gave a talk on modern improvements in comparison with the olden time and there were other papers on the food question. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Van Hise, 105 Gates street.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

Orville H Fuller observed his 84th birthday anniversary yesterday, at her home in Hale street. Though there was no formal reception, friends were received throughout the day, many of them from the High street church, of which Mrs Fuller is one of the oldest members. Plants and a wealth of flowers and other thoughtful tokens will remain as reminders of the happy day. Miss Emma J. Fuller, her daughter, and her granddaughter, Mrs. S. G. Mack, assisted the hostess in receiving her many callers. Tea was served in the afternoon.

GOLD SHIPMENT

$1,500,000 to be Exported This Week

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The first gold shipment of the year will be made this week, but the coin will not go to Europe. In the first week in January, 1905, $1,474,806 in gold bars and $250,000 in gold coin were sent to Europe from New York, our gold being needed over there because of the exigencies created by the war between Russia and Japan. France had just drawn large sums from London, having loaned an immense amount of money to the government of the czar, which had enormous expenses to meet.

At this time the gold is going south to Mexico and Argentina. There has been withdrawn from the United States sub treasury here $1,500,000 in gold coin; $1,000,000 of which is known to be for Argentina. It is thought the remaining $500,000 is for Mexico. George O. Gordon, agent of the London & River Plate bank, will ship $500,000 to Buenos Ayres tomorrow, and it was stated that another bank withdrew the same amount for shipment to South America.

It is said that three private banking houses are largely interested in the present movement, and had to do with the negotiations for the coming shipment. None of the interests referred to was willing to give out any information in connection with the destination of the $1,500,000, but in banking circles the report was current that at least some of the gold had been taken to Mexico, and would be sent at once to the capital of that republic.

Some banking interests in Wall street which have been in close touch with the financial plans of the Mexican government and the negotiations previously made for the shipment of gold to that country said that so far as they knew, very little of the gold taken yesterday would go to Mexico, as the bankers there did not at present favor the movement. In fact, one particular which has a great deal to do with the movement of Mexican exchange, declared yesterday that only a comparatively small portion of the $1,500,000 shipment was intended for Mexico.

The last gold shipments from New York in 1905 were during the first week in December, when $1,750,000 was sent to Mexico. This movement was attributed solely to the sharp rise in silver, which reached 65¾ here. With silver at this price the Mexican bankers bought gold here, shipped its equivalent to China by way of San Francisco and made a reasonable profit, although not by any means a large one, when all the trouble in connection with the transaction was taken into consideration.

It was said yesterday that the Merchants National bank had drawn $500,000 in gold coin for shipment to South America, and a cablegram from London stated that gold was going from there to Argentina and perhaps to Mexico. It was also averred that Germany had lent Peru £3,000,000–$15,000,000—sterling. London reported that soon it would have £370,000 in gold available. Money rates are expected to harden there next week.

HE FAVORS BLACK

ROOSEVELT OUT FOR NEW YORKER.

TROY, N. Y., Jan. 5.—Ex-Gov. Black has the indorsement of President Roosevelt for the presidential nomination in 1908. This is the gist of an interesting announcement by Mr. Black's close friends.

President Roosevelt is quoted as saying that he considers Mr. Black the most available man, that he would unite the discordant elements in New York state and be acceptable to republicans in other states, and that without harmony in New York state the national republican party cannot win.

A MAN'S WILL

IS HIS OWN, SAYS THE SUPREME COURT.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The appellate division of the supreme court has reversed the verdict of a jury upsetting the will of Charles H. Heyzer, a custom house employe, who died in February, 1904. By that will, which was drawn by his friend, Magistrate Ommen, Mrs. Ann Morris, known as Polly Heyzer, who had lived with him as his wife for many years in his flat on Sixth avenue, while his actual wife, Elizabeth H. Heyzer, and his children, who were all grown up, lived a few blocks up the avenue.

It was contended at the trial before Justice [illegible] that Heyzer was not in his right mind when he made his will a couple of days before his death. The jury so found.

Justice [illegible], writing the unanimous opinion of the appellate division says that nowhere in the record is there any proof that Heyzer's mind was affected for the century. He says, much evidence that he preserved his faculties to the last. The opinion continues:

"Nor do the provisions of the will itself show the mind so as to lend color to the suggestion of mental infirmity. The will, while it diverts the property from what may be called its natural channel, his lawful family, and bestows it upon the woman with whom for many years he had been living without the sanction of law, yet cannot be said to be unreasonable.

"He had been entirely separated from his wife for many years. The youngest of his children was 20 years of age. His daughter he never saw, his sons but seldom. This woman had been recognized by his world as his wife; she had been true and loyal, he said, for 31 years; she had devoted her life to him and had been accepted by his parents. His last care was for his life companion, illicit though the relation was.

"We are not called upon to approve his morals or sanction his mode of life. The law, which alone we are to expound, is that a man, irrespective of his moral character, being of sound and disposing mind, not moved by undue influence and not under restraint, may, if he observes the formalities of the law governing the execution of a last will and testament, dispose of his property as he will."

A new trial is ordered on the ground that the verdict is against the weight of evidence.

GRACE CHURCH

HELD ITS MONTHLY COFFEE PARTY.

The regular monthly coffee party at the Grace Universalist church in Princeton street was held last night and the entertainment which followed the supper consisted of a three-act drama entitled "Between the Acts," which was given by the Merry Septet of Chelmsford Centre. Among those in the cast were Miss Rachel Marshall, Roland Black, Stuart Redmond, Miss Madeline Wehr, Sidney Dupee and Mrs. A. A. Stewart.

At the supper tables everything went off fine, every table receiving its share of the large number of hungry folks present. The matrons were: Mrs. W. R. Kew, Mrs. L. D. Knowlton, assisted by a large number of the ladies of the church. The dining room was ably directed by Mrs. Chas. E. Frost, who was assisted by many of the charming young ladies connected with the church. The candy table was well taken care of by Mrs. Laport, Miss Addie Howes, and Miss Ivy Kew, and the sales table was in charge of Mrs. Buckminster and Mrs. Eliza Connor.

FAMILY REUNION.

A delightful family reunion was that which occurred at the home of Mr. Noe Brunelle, 27 Pond st., last evening.

Those present were, besides Mr. and Mrs. Noe Brunelle and their children, Dr. and Mrs. Pierre Brunelle, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harvey, Miss Malvina Brunelle, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Richard, Mr. A. Brunelle, Miss Eugenie Brunelle and Miss A. Mercure. A charming program of music was given by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Richard and Mr. A. Brunelle.

HOW TO SUCCEED

First Requirement of College Graduate

The [illegible] of the college [illegible] got matter [illegible] how much [illegible] not trained [illegible] growth of power [illegible]. This is a very [illegible] commencement [illegible] world [illegible] you know, but "W[illegible] can you make [illegible]" It wants [illegible] things, not [illegible] them. [illegible] in place [illegible] your college [illegible] edge to your [illegible] your mental powers. [illegible] it an a gymnasium [illegible] may carry away [illegible] pulleys and other [illegible] develop your native [illegible] has been a [illegible] of the forces within [illegible] a mere stuffing [illegible] process, the world will [illegible] you waiting for a place. [illegible] has increased your power [illegible] and not merely [illegible] little, you will have no difficulty in winning your way. The [illegible] action, men who can [illegible] the crowd and lead instead of following.

The first years after graduation mark the dangerous period in a young man's life. In the majority of cases the graduate is openhearted, generous and susceptible. He has faith in men and institutions, he is optimistic, and does not realize how quickly contact with hard facts and actual conditions will tend to harden him, to lower his standard, to dwarf his ideal. He does not appreciate the demoralizing, brutalizing influence of a mere money-making career, which strangles all the finer instincts for the good, the beautiful and the true, dries up the sympathies and dwarfs the growth of the higher self, marbleizes the affections and crushes out all that makes life strong, serene, sweet and noble. He does not realize that the highest character cannot be developed under a low, sordid aim.

The young man leaving college feels that he has spent a great deal of time in preparation, that his education has been expensive and he is anxious to get into something as quickly as possible that will give him the best return in money, says Success. And so, unconsciously, he often chooses an occupation which calls into play his inferior qualities, which develops cunning, shrewdness, reception, and, for want of activity, permits his finer instincts to shrivel and die.

One of the greatest questions a human being is ever called upon to decide is the choice of a career. It affects one's entire character and destiny. No graduate can afford to choose an occupation merely because there is money in it, and he must learn that to look upon a vocation as only a means of getting a living is contemptible. He must learn that the highest success is not living-making, money-making or fame-making, but man-making, woman-making, character-making. Manhood and womanhood overtop position, wealth, vocations and titles, and are grander than any career.

Don't go out in life with false standards of success, but whatever you decide to do choose upward. There is no more pitiable sight in the world than that of a promising young graduate selecting a career simply because there is money or possible fame in it. Don't measure everything by the standard of wealth or fame. Don't start out with the idea that poor or obscure men or women are necessarily failures. The brother or sister or mother who remained at home to earn money to send you to college that you might have a career, and who may never be heard from, while your name is blazoned over the earth, may, in reality, be a far greater success than you can possibly be considered.

If you look upon your college course as simply a means of raising your commercial value, it will not help you to real success. To have one's mentality stirred by the passion for expansion, to be dragged out of the narrow rut of ignorance, to feel one's life grow larger, wider and fuller, this is success. Whatever you do choose an occupation that has expansiveness in it, which will keep you out of a rut, which will develop you along your higher manhood, which will call out your highest and noblest qualities. In other words, select a vocation which will make you more of a man or woman, whether there is money in it or not.

SEIZE OPPORTUNITY.

How can we cast out the ill spirit which renders so many lives ineffective? The obvious answer is, Cultivate an interest in other lives than your own. It tends to keep alive and responsive the sympathies of the heart; it detaches some part of time and thought from the pursuit of self-interest. Care in the formation of habits is a powerful engine of self-cultivation. We become what we make ourselves. But more potent than merely watching habits is the direction of the disposition. If the evil spirit be in us we must to get rid of the spirit which directs our dispositions. Whatever can be done by habit, desires and dispositions will be powerful in the choice, which, being repeated, forms habits. It is the change of the will which is the hope and the despair of philosophers. The hope, because if that were accomplished all else would follow; the despair, because, though we can do all else, the change of the desire and of the disposition eludes us.—Bishop of Ripon.

GENIUSES DON'T COUNT.

It is not spectacular achievement that tells; the work of the world is done by tedious plodding. Geniuses, in the ordinarily accepted sense of the term, are so rare that it is safe to eliminate them as factors in human progress; the men that do things are those that have a genius for work.

CAPT. HURLEY

HAS NOT RECOVERED FROM HIS INJURY.

CAMBRIDGE, Jan. 5.—Captain Daniel J. Hurley of the Harvard 'varsity eleven has returned to his home from his sojourn in the mountains. Captain Hurley is not a well man by any means, and it looks now as though he would have to give up his cherished ambition to become a surgeon, owing to the severity of the injury received on the gridiron. He has failed to recover his old time strength and must exercise the greatest of care in the future to prevent insanity. His family has been very anxious to put Dan through the Harvard medical school, but the surgeons at the hospital will not consent to his returning to the medical school until a more complete examination is made of his injury.

The [illegible] opened for her coming teeth.

The petals moved that she might thence alight

What blossom is so beautiful as she?
What duck more downy than her face could be?

At nightfall on the hills, so is her hair,
Her skin as bright as diamond's brilliancy.

So full of health, no sickness can come nigh.

And yet so light, so graceful, that I fear

And tremble at the breeze, lest the south wind
Or evening breath should waft away my dear.

Her robes are rich of silk, with golden fein;
Fine gold her armlets; and a precious gem

Wears she to deck each lovely ear; but ah!
Her eyes, what jewels can compare with them?

Proud is my mistress, proud as she is fair.
Men tremble at her pride and beauty rare.

Nowhere in all the wide world can it be

ANNUAL CLEARANCE SALE.

George H. Wood has started his clearance sale, which he holds annually to get rid of his surplus stock left over from Christmas. The prices have been cut on every line of surplus left in the store. Watches, diamonds, clocks, umbrellas, bric-a-brac are all included in the sale. A good idea of the bargains may be gained from a glance at the windows. See adv.

CANTON PAWTUCKET.

Canton Pawtucket, No. 9, P. M., I. O. O. F., held its monthly meeting last evening at their headquarters in Centralville, which was well attended. The installation ceremonies were deferred until the first meeting in February. A committee reported that the next whist party would occur on the 19th of January. Major George H. Stevens, the commandant-elect, will entertain the Canton members at his home some evening of the present month, and will be assisted by the officers and by Col. M. D. Brown.

A collation will be served at the next regular meeting in February.

Commandant C. J. Willstead was given a vote of thanks for services rendered during his term of office.

Speeches were made by Major Stevens, Col. M. D. Brown, Capt. T. E. Boucher, Capt. A. E. Leford, Lieuts. E. G. Baldwin, Elliott Morgan, F. H. Gauther, Chevaliers, Chas. A. Parker, Chas. J. Morse and others.

LIST OF LOSSES

Turkish Officers Report 1032 Casualties

SALONICA, European Turkey, Jan. 5.—A return issued by the Turkish authorities shows that 1012 casualties resulted from the fighting in Macedonia between Turkish troops and Bulgarian, Greek and Servian revolutionary bands during 1905. Altogether 119 encounters took place in the Vilayets of Salonica, Monastir and Uskub, in which the insurgents lost 520 men killed and 20 wounded. In addition the troops captured 225 prisoners. The troops lost 122 killed and 145 wounded. A comparison of the number of men killed with the number wounded shows that no quarter was given.

Clean Talk No. 3

After telling you what we have, in our last talk, you ask if EASY WASH COMPOUND will wash woolens without shrinking them. It will, and that is only one of its many good qualities. The only kind of washing preparations you ever heard of were either in powder or liquid condition. EASY WASH is vastly more convenient than either of these other forms. It comes in a white, clean cake. Costs ten cents per cake and contains enough for three washings. Ask your grocer.

CITY COMMITTEE

Elected New Officers for the Year

The democratic city committee for the year 1906 met in Wyman's Exchange last evening, and organized by the choice of the following officers: President, Thomas J. Mulligan of ward [illegible]; vice president, Michael J. [illegible], ward [illegible]; 2nd vice president, Henry [illegible], ward 7; secretary, William J. McCluskey, ward [illegible]; treasurer, Owen J. McArdle, ward [illegible]. The meeting was largely attended and extremely harmonious in every respect.

Outside the election of officers perhaps the most important business transacted was the passing of a motion to the effect that the secretary and treasurer each after furnish bonds to the amount of [illegible]. J. Edward Gallagher of ward [illegible] proposed the motion and after a spirited debate the motion prevailed, and the [illegible] committee has put itself on record as being strictly in favor of business principles in the transaction of its business. Mr. Gallagher in proposing the motion said he had every confidence in the honesty and integrity of the secretary and treasurer but he wanted the city committee to start right and to keep right. Mr. McCluskey, the newly elected secretary, also favored the motion. Several other gentlemen thought the amount of the bond too large, but thought the idea a very good one.

The candidates for chairman were Thomas J. Mulligan of ward [illegible] and Peter F. Brady of ward [illegible]. Mr. Mulligan received 28 votes to 17 for Mr. Brady. The real contest of the evening was for the office of secretary. Under the [illegible] law this is a very important position, hence the contest. The vote was: Wm. J. McCluskey 30, John B. Riggins [illegible]. The other positions were uncontested and the meeting at 9.15 p. m. adjourned to the call of the new chairman.

LINCOLN CLUB

At a meeting of the house committee of the Lincoln club held last night, it was voted to hold a series of smoke talks, the first to be held on Saturday night. It was also voted to get up a bowling team with Fred N. Tilton as manager. The committee intends to keep things lively during the remainder of the winter.

IT WAS LOADED

Boy Dropped Cruller and It Exploded

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—When Antonio Castigno, the [illegible]-year-old son of a baker of the same name living in East 115th street, dropped a cruller which he had been playing with in his father's shop yesterday, there was a loud explosion and the boy fell to the floor writhing in pain. It is supposed that a cartridge of large calibre had been baked in the cruller, which exploded when it was dropped to the floor.

Antonio is in the Harlem hospital with the bullet in his stomach and his condition is serious. Carmelo Castigno, 18 years old, assistant baker, is locked up pending an investigation of the accident.

A BONFIRE

WEAK-MINDED WOMAN MADE ONE OUT OF HERSELF

PORTLAND, Me., Jan. 5.—Mary Narsley, a weak minded woman, who had been an inmate of the almshouse for two years, poured the contents of an oil stove over her head last night and set fire to herself with a match. When discovered by her keeper, a young woman, she was enveloped in flames. The [illegible] wrapped her in a blanket and attempted to extinguish the flames but she died soon after in terrible agony.

GRAND JURY

TWO FORMER SENATORS CALLED TO TESTIFY.

[illegible], Jan. 5.—Former State Senator Harry [illegible] Foster of Gloucester and Wm. A. [illegible] of the Cape district, testified yesterday afternoon before the Suffolk county grand jury. They had been summoned by District Attorney John B. Moran and it was understood that their testimony related to the charges which had been made against Mayor Fitzgerald by Congressman Wm. S. McNary previous to the last municipal election.

GEN'L JIMINEZ

CAPE HAYTIEN, Jan. 5.—[illegible] today from the [illegible] between the troops [illegible] of Santo Domingo [illegible] and the forces [illegible] General Morales, [illegible] of the latter before [illegible] during which [illegible] the Morales [illegible] was complete. [illegible] were killed or wounded. [illegible] of Morales' followers [illegible] the gunboat Independencia [illegible] off Puerto Plata after which [illegible] for Monte Cristi.

[illegible] the former governor [illegible] who with his troops had [illegible] in favor of Morales on [illegible] of the death of [illegible] decided to set up his own [illegible] and is preparing to attack Santiago, [illegible] of Puerto Plata.

[illegible] Jiminez, the former president of [illegible] has left Puerto Plata for Monte Cristi and it is understood will with the assistance of Morales compete for the presidency of the republic against the other candidates for that office. According to reports brought here by messengers a large part of the population of Northern Santo Domingo is in favor of Gen. Jiminez.

WEDS DIVORCEE

AGED CLERGYMAN TAKES A SECOND WIFE.

RUTLAND, Vt., Jan. 5.—The Rev. Dr. Norman Seaver of this city, aged 71, one of the most influential clergymen in Vermont, and Mrs. Ellen S. Pond, 53, divorced, were married yesterday afternoon by the Rev. George W. Phillips on the first anniversary of the clergyman's first wife's death.

Dr. Seaver was born in Boston April [illegible], 1834, and graduated from Williams college. He was ordained at the Congregational church in this city Aug. [illegible], 1869, and was its pastor for eight years. He afterwards held pastorates in other parts of Vermont and in the west but is now retired. Mrs. Seaver has three sons and a daughter.

NEW CARS

HAVE BEEN ORDERED BY B. & M. ROAD.

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 5.—The Boston & Maine will make an addition to the equipment of its trains to the summer resorts of New Hampshire and Maine in the shape of a baggage car, especially designed for the accommodation of horses, carriages and automobiles.

Doors of the cars heretofore in use were not large enough for the admission of automobiles. Inside the new cars will be stalls for 16 horses. An employe of the railroad will travel with the car, and a private coachman or chauffeur for each vehicle will have access to it.

SARAH ROBINSON

The Noted Female Convict is Dead

WAS 18 YEARS IN SOLITARY

Committed Murder for Insurance Money

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—Mrs. Sarah J. Robinson, one of the most noted female convicts in the country, died in the Middlesex county jail in East Cambridge last night. Recently Mrs. Robinson had a serious attack of heart failure and her condition continued weak up to the time of her death. Mrs. Robinson was 6[illegible] years of age and had been in solitary confinement for 18 years. The arrest and conviction of Mrs. Robinson, following an investigation by the authorities into the mysterious deaths of five persons in Somerville where she lived, were the most sensational developments in many years in connection with crime in this state.

THE LATE MRS. SARAH JANE ROBINSON.

She was convicted in 1887 of the murder of Prince Arthur Freeman, her brother-in-law, but it was established at the trial that she had also murdered her son William, 23 years of age; her daughter Elizabeth, 22 years of age, her husband, and her nephew, Thomas Arthur Freeman.

The victims were all killed by poison. It was disclosed that the object of the murders was the possession of money on insurance policies on their lives.

Mrs. Robinson was sentenced to be hanged, but recognizing the widespread clamor against the execution of a woman, Gov. George D. Robinson commuted the sentence to life imprisonment.

Mrs. Robinson was the only woman in solitary confinement in a Massachusetts prison. With the exception of Jane Toppan, the Lowell poisoner, she had the worst record of any woman prisoner in the commonwealth.

From one year's end to another she was not allowed to speak to any person except the prison attendants, the prison chaplain and her only surviving son was permitted to visit her once a month.

Mrs. Robinson was allowed to walk in the prison yards occasionally for exercise after the other prisoners had retired. She was well educated and spent much of her time in reading magazines and books.

FOUGHT DUEL

MAJOR DRIANT TWICE WOUNDED GENERAL PEROIN.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—During a duel with swords yesterday Major Driant twice wounded General Peroin, disabling his right arm. The duel lasted for an hour and consisted of thirteen bouts.

The combat was brought about by an article published by Major Driant condemning General Peroin who was chief of staff under former Minister of War Andre for connection with the secret reports made against army officers during Andre's ministry.

Peroin is the general whose salute General Brugere, former commander of the army recently refused to acknowledge in the Bois De Boulogne. Explanations before the minister of war led to an adjustment of this incident, but Gen. Brugere made public the details of his conference with the minister regarding it and was sentenced by the council of ministers to fifteen days arrest.

FATAL FALL

MAN FELL DOWN AN ELEVATOR WELL.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—Found lying at the bottom of the freight elevator well of the Trade building, 77-79 Washington street north, where he had probably lain for some time, Edmond Sisk of 38 Tremont street, Charlestown, died at the relief hospital last evening without regaining consciousness.

How Sisk met with the accident is a mystery. The building had been closed some time when Engineer Hadlock heard groans, and, upon investigating, discovered him.

At the hospital it was found that he was suffering from a compound fracture of the right leg, lacerated wound of the left leg and a fractured skull, from the effects of which he died about three hours later.

FRENCH PASTOR

REV. T. S. ST. AUBIN TO RETIRE

The members of the French Congregational church on [illegible] street are to lose their pastor, the Rev. T. S. St. Aubin. Last Sunday he delivered his farewell sermon. Mr. St. Aubin has been pastor of the church for the past 15 months.

At the annual meeting the following officers were chosen: Secretary, Paul Mertrud; treasurer, A. [illegible]nette; church committee, Albert Mertrud, president; Paul Mertrud, A. [illegible], Emile Palgnon, Frank Tucker, Rev. T. G. A. Cote, J. C. Martel. The deacons chosen were Messrs. A. Mertrud, E. Palgnon, Poullot and J. C. Martel.

NO MORE SMOKING

Cigarettes Barred by Cigarmaker's Union

WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 5—An unprecedented stand in the matter of smoking was taken last night by the local cigar makers' union. According to a vote passed by the union last night any member of the organization found guilty of smoking a cigarette will be fined $5 for each offense.

The new rule of the union was taken, it was said, to protect the sick benefit fund.

An investigation by the sick committee showed that of the members who drew sick benefits the cigarette smokers were found to be in the majority, and it was also argued that more death claims were paid to the families of cigarette smokers than to the families of men who had not been addicted to the habit.

The members of the union are permitted to smoke pipes or cigars, the rule applying only to paper cigarettes.

WOULD KILL THEM

Dr. Norton Would Help Insane and Diseased to Die

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5—Dr. Charles E. S. Norton of Cambridge has joined forces with Miss Anne S. Hall of Cincinnati, and with Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth, their campaign for the killing off of the hopelessly insane, hopelessly diseased and victims of accidents. His views are expressed in a letter written to Miss Hall and made public here today.

Dr. Norton was formerly professor of literature at Harvard. He was a friend of Longfellow and Low and with them made the famous translation of the "Divine comedy." He heads his letter "An appeal to reason and to compassion", addresses Miss Hall and writes:

The principle that it is a duty to prolong every human life as long as possible, at whatever cost, has hitherto been generally accepted.

"Its main support has been the doctrine of the sacredness of human life.

"The doctrine and the practice have not been pressed too far.

"There is no ground to hold every human life as inviolably sacred and to be preserved no matter with what results to its individual or to others. On the contrary there are cases to which every reasonable consideration urges that the end should be put to it, setting aside all doubtful cases, no right thinking man would hesitate to give a dose of [illegible] sent to end suffering and life to [illegible] to the victim of an accident from [illegible] effects of which recovery was impossible, however many hours of misery might be added to existence by ultimately unsuccessful [illegible].

"Nor should a reasonable man hesitate to hasten death in the case of a mortal disease such for example, as cancer when it has reached the stage of incessant severe pain and when the patient wishes to die.

"The prolongation of life in such a case by whatever means is mere criminal cruelty.

"Or take another instance, that of an old person whose mind has become a chaos of wild imaginings productive of constant distress not only to the sufferer but to all who live with and attend him. The plain duty in such a case is not to prolong but to shorten life.

"It is not to be hoped that a superstition so deeply rooted in tradition as that of the duty of prolonging life at any cost will readily yield to the arguments of reason or the pleadings of compassion but the discussion of the subject in its various aspects may lead gradually to a more enlightened public opinion and to the consequent relief of much misery."

REFUSE HEARING

Derby Audience Turned Down Chamberlain

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The political campaign is now warming up. Already a number of disorderly meetings have been reported and last night when Joseph Chamberlain attempted to address a mass meeting at Derby in support of the unionist candidates, he was howled down and was unable to secure a hearing.

Sir Henry Bellrose, a prominent citizen of Derby, appealed to the audience to give Mr. Chamberlain an opportunity to outline his views. Mr. Chamberlain, who was evidently enraged, again arose and said he was mistaken in appealing to the intelligence of the people of Derby. This caused renewed uproar and though Mr Chamberlain fought hard he was unable to overcome the opposition and he retired amid continued uproar.

Winston Spencer Churchill, speaking at Manchester last night, said that the first act of the liberal government, should it be returned to power, would be to notify the colonial government that no conference could consider a preferential scheme based on the protective taxation of foodstuffs, and that as soon as possible the government would give the Transvaal a representative democratic demonstration.

Herbert Henry Asquith, chancellor of the exchequer, speaking at Sheffield, said that no attempt to utilize a majority obtained on the free trade issue to pass a home rule bill would be dishonest.

Gerald Balfour, president of the board of trade in the Balfour cabinet, addressing a meeting in the Jewish quarter of Leeds, which he represents in parliament, faced a storm of opposition and was roughly questioned regarding the aliens' act. After two stormy hours a proposition to give him a vote of confidence was negatived by a large majority.

MAY BE TROUBLE

Senator McLaurin Gets After Governor

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 5.—A dispatch from Jackson, Miss., says:

In a statement given out last night by Senator A. J. MacLaurin, Governor Vardaman is handled in rather sanguinous language, being denounced as a "vile slanderer and despicable creature."

It is feared the senator's statement will lead to trouble between the two men.

DR. LOEB

HAS MADE A NEW DISCOVERY.

BERKLEY, Calif., Jan. 5.—That the phenomena underlying the electrotonic effects of the galvanic current upon the nerve and muscle tissues of animal matter are due to physical causes is the latest discovery of Dr. Jacques Loeb. In previous researches Dr. Loeb found that sodium and potassium ions in solution stimulated tissue and nerve fibres and that calcium and magnesium ions acted antagonistically to the sodium and potassium ions. In his last set of experiments Dr. Loeb has found that this phenomenon is due to the migration and concentration in the region of the electrodes of chemical substances contained in the tissues.

He has found that oleates, palmitates and stearates, all of which are found in the tissues concerned precipitate calcium and that it is in this way got out of the solution preventing its inhibitory effect upon the sodium and potassium ions of which are left free to act.

ARRESTS MADE

Several Offenders Were Taken by Police

Patrolman Peter Cawley arrested Fred Haskell at the northern station yesterday afternoon. Haskell at the time of his arrest was loaded down with jewelry of all kinds. The man was placed under arrest on suspicion, and the matter will be investigated today by the police.

CHARGE OF LARCENY.

George Anagoustopulos was arrested last night charged with the larceny of $50 from George Paulakos. The arrest was made by Warrant Officer William G. Bumps and Special Officer Regis. It seems the two Georges were great friends until Sunday afternoon, when the first George, it is alleged by Paulakos, astutely separated him from an even half hundred dollars. George the first indignantly denies the allegation.

The charge of larceny against George Anagoustopulos was continued until next Tuesday, Judge Hadley ordered the defendant in $250 bonds.

HARRY POORE ASSAULTED.

Harry Poore came down to the police station last night and said he had been assaulted by two men. According to Harry who resides on Smith street, he was going home last evening when he was attacked by two men, and had one eye closed. He says that the only reason for the assault was that he formerly kept company with the sister of one of the fellows who hit him. He was advised to see Judge Hadley.

TWO MISSING

Explosion on Board a British Steamer

SAIGON, French Indo China, Jan. 5.—The British steamer Carlisle sank in the Saigon river yesterday after a conflagration on board, following an explosion of powder, due to spontaneous combustion. Two of her crew, an engineer and a tailor, are missing. Many physicians were injured during the excitement attending the rescue of the remainder of the crew.

TO BE DEPORTED

Woman Had Suffered From Seasickness

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The after effect of seasickness was the unusual cause for a sentence of deportation which the immigration authorities imposed today. Mrs. Lydia M. Thompson, wife of an English country gentleman and cabin passenger on the steamer Minneapolis, was the sufferer from this sentence. She was deathly seasick in the storm during the Minneapolis' passage to this country and this illness left her mind temporarily deranged. Although her friends in this country have offered to deposit a large sum of money as a guarantee to the immigration authorities that she will not be left to become a dependent charge in the care of the United States during her contemplated visit here, Immigration Commissioner Watchorn has ruled that as an insane alien she must be deported.

Mrs. Thompson arrived here last Tuesday to visit a cousin. Her visit was planned partly as a rest after the illness of her husband, whom she nursed to recovery. She is 66 years old and the strain which she has previously been under, together with the storm at sea made her very ill. Although not delirious she is still extremely weak and her mind is subject to queer fancies.

ACTION DELAYED

On the Question of Bank Receivership

BOSTON, Jan. 5. Action upon the receivership petition brought by the savings banks examiners against the Provident and Banking Company of Lawrence and his request for a postponement was based on his desire to consult authorities on this point.

The office of the bank on Franklin street was closed today. There was no note or announcement in sight to satisfy the anxiety of a score or more of depositors who were in the corridors at the bank's usual opening hour. The doors were locked. After waiting a while most of the depositors withdrew though some remained for nearly an hour.

In connection with the case before Judge Hadley, Asst. Atty. General Dolbeare is critical the information that the company had total assets of a par value of $[illegible], of which about $200 or $300 was in cash, and the remainder securities of doubtful value. The company has between 800 and 900 depositors he said who had placed with the company cash to the amount of about $[illegible].

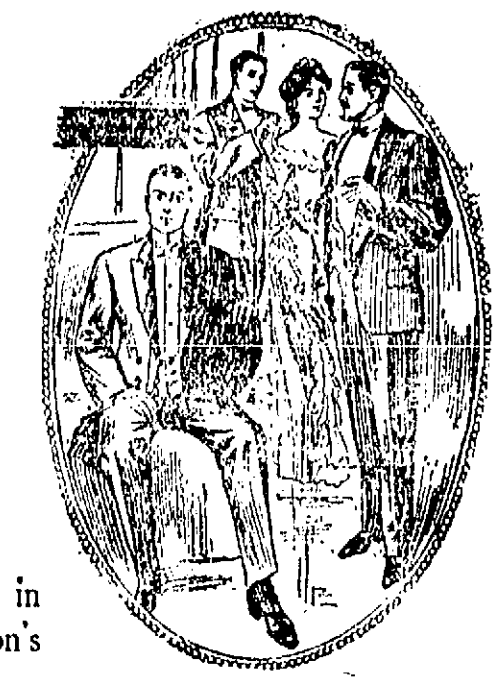
No Wrinkles on "Tailorville" Dress Clothes.

MEN'S EVENING DRESS CLOTHES



There have been such radical changes in the cut of Evening Clothes that last season's suit is conspicuously old.

We have recognized this condition by providing new full lines of Dress Suits and Tuxedos, Dress Vests, Etc., which constitute a feature of our new "Tailorville" Department of Fine Clothes.

Are you acquainted with "Tailorville"? Every coat is kept hung up, pressed, ready for immediate service — custom tailor results embodied in ready-for-service clothes.

"Tailorville" Dress Coats will appeal to the most critical. The country's best designing skill and highest paid tailors have contributed to their construction. Few tailors in the country can equal them—You'll see nothing like them ready-to-wear outside this store.

There is a full complement of sizes for regular, stout or very tall men. Should any alteration be necessary our "jour" tailors attend to it promptly and guarantee perfect satisfaction.

"Tailorville" Suits and Overcoats Reduced to $17.50

A special grouping of high grade garments which is the week's feature of our January Sale.

The Suits are fancy worsteds, unfinished worsteds and cheviots—in single and double breasted sacks.

Action Against Provident Banking Co.

Question of Receiver Taken Up

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—The savings bank commissioners of Massachusetts yesterday afternoon secured an injunction from Judge Lathrop of the supreme court restraining the Provident securities and banking company of 100 Franklin street from doing further business until the court decides at a hearing to be held this morning whether a receiver shall be appointed for the concern and the injunction continued.

The attorney general's office presented the petition for the injunction on the strength of an investigation made into the books and affairs of the company by H. A. Wyman of 53 State street, on behalf of the commissioners of savings banks.

It was on the complaint of F. H. C. Reynolds, a broker in the State Mutual insurance building, that the bank commissioners undertook the investigation.

The worst feature of the trouble is that the small savings of some 5000 depositors, amounting to about $150,000 are involved and tied up, with little hope for them in future, whichever way the court may decide to act. Besides these there are other investors in the stock of the company who will get a bad shock when they learn the present state of affairs.

This is the company which for the past few years has been receiving deposits in little metal banks, which were sold to the depositors for the sum of $1 by canvassers, with the understanding that the purchase of the bank was practically the opening of a savings bank account with the "auxiliary department" of the Provident securities and banking company.

The depositor kept the little metal bank and put whatever amount he desired into it day by day or week by week, then took it to the bank office, where the key to it was held. Here the little metal box was unlocked and the amount it contained entered as a deposit to the credit of the depositor and also an account book, which was given the depositor.

The box was then locked up and returned to the depositor, who took it home, saved more pennies and dimes for 60 days, when he was called upon again to bring the box and its contents to the bank, where the same performance was gone through with again—and again.

The depositors were assured that if at any time they wished to deliver up the little metal box to the auxiliary department of the company and close the account, the original dollar which the box cost would be paid back with the amount deposited, if so desired.

About 5000 persons purchased the metal box and opened accounts with the company, where they were assured their money would draw 3½ per cent. interest.

It is important to notice that the words "savings" or "savings bank" are not used in connection with the company. The concern accepted savings deposits, but did not advertise itself as a savings bank, otherwise it might have been amenable to the laws of the state which are very particular in regard to the character of investments made by such a bank.

The concern was organized under the laws of South Dakota and received a charter to do all kinds of business, including a sort of savings bank business. This latter feature was not developed, however, until about three years ago.

$50,000 ESTATE

HAS BEEN ATTACHED BY THE HEIRS.

BOSTON, Jan. 5.—Two attachments, one for $50,000 in a bill of equity and the other for $20,000 in an action of contract, have been filed in the Middlesex registry of deeds by Phebe H. Slocum of New Bedford, Alice C. H. Judkins of New York city, Nathan Hayward of Brockton and Walter S. Hayward of Rochester, N. H. against Malcolm McLeod, a conveyancer of this city, and Charles D. Lafollet of Watertown, as trustees of the Hayward trust.

The plaintiffs are the heirs of Phebe Hayward, who died several years ago, leaving an estate of considerable value, including a number of parcels of Newton and Boston real estate.

Both parties to the suit maintain the utmost secrecy as to the purpose of the attachments, but it is known that the differences between the heirs and the trustees centre about one of these parcels of real estate situated near the Chestnut Hill reservoir.

The land in question is one of the most valuable assets of the estate, according to one of the heirs, and they desire to retain it. The trustees have had numerous opportunities to dispose of it, and it is to stay the transfer of the property by the trustees against the wishes of the heirs that the attachments have been filed.

TEXTILE GOSSIP

News Gathered From Mill Centers

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Jan. 5.—The Magnolia mills of Concord are receiving an equipment of 40 Jacquard looms for weaving quilts, and the Kerr Bleaching & Finishing Works, also of Concord, will finish the goods. This latter concern is receiving large quantities of goods from Fall River mills to be finished.

GOOD PROFITS MADE.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Jan. 5.—The statistics for the year just closed show remarkable prosperity of New Bedford's fine goods cotton mills, and at the present time practically every corporation making fine goods is running to its capacity. The dividend showing of the corporations that have been established and in operation for more than two years all paid dividends better than a 6 per cent. basis. Three new corporations are not in the dividend paying column as yet, but the fact that there is demand for the stock of these corporations is indication that investors in local cotton mill stocks are aware of the promising conditions. The average rate of dividends is larger than in 1904. Excluding the three that have not been in operation two years the average rate is 6.6 per cent. as against 5.2 per cent. a year ago.

SPINNING MILL ADDITION.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Jan. 5.—The new spinning mill which the Graniteville hosiery mills have recently built and equipped is now in operation. The mill contains 7000 spindles, and the recently increased knitting plant has a capacity of 1,400 dozen pairs daily. The capital stock has been increased from $75,000 to $170,000.

WILL BUILD NEXT YEAR.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 5.—The Windsor Silk Co., manufacturers of broad silk goods, will shortly commission an architect to prepare plans for a large factory building which the company will erect in the spring. While the concern has not yet decided on details, it has asked for sketches for a brick building, 80x300, two stories high.

WILL RESUME DIVIDENDS.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 5. The executive committee of the Olympia cotton mills of Richland has decided to resume regular dividends next July. The mill has been running successfully for some time, and its financial condition will permit dividends now, but it is thought best to defer payment until July.

ADD TO CAPACITY.

EPHRATA, Pa., Jan. 5.—Twenty thousand dollars has been subscribed to add to the capacity of the Ephrata hosiery mill which is being conducted by F. S. Weaver East Locust street. The following board of directors has been elected, with a view to organizing a stock company to further equip the plant with new and up-to-date machinery: F. S. Weaver, H. W. Muser, M. L. Weidman, Henry Westerhoff, and Charles S. Yeager, all of Ephrata, William H. Berry of New York city, and Peter Westerhoff of Paterson, N. J. The following officers have been chosen: President, Henry Westerhoff; vice-president, William H. Berry; secretary, Charles S. Yeager; treasurer, F. S. Weaver.

NEW KNITTING MACHINES

YORK, Pa., Jan. 5.—Improvements which it is stated will nearly double the capacity are being made at the York Knitting company's mills at Norway Park. Labor saving devices the machines of the latest type are being installed. Lack of labor, it is said by members of the firm, greatly reduced the output of the mills for the past year, when approximately 144,000 dozen pairs of hose were turned out, whereas the product in former years was greater.

Eight new machines for closing the toes of stockings and one automatic top-cutter will be introduced. The last mentioned machine will do the work now done by three girls. In the seamless department, 30 new seamless machines will be set up. A machine of this type automatically makes a stocking throughout, and when it is finished throws it off, ready to begin another.

SOCIETY BELLE

PUT TWO YOUNG THUGS TO ROUT.

NEWTON, Jan. 5.—Miss Katherine Emery of 15 Ivanhoe street, one of the most prominent young society belles of the city and a member of a wealthy family, was held up by a pair of young thugs on Sargent street yesterday afternoon. After an encounter in which she struck, scratched and clawed her assailants, she prevented them from securing her pocketbook, containing a large amount of money, and in putting them to flight.

PELHAM

Alfred Duscharme is a happy man this weather. It is a baby girl, and mother and the baby are doing nicely.

The sympathy of the town goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Bouchesne, because their home has been visited for the second time within a few days by grim death. Yesterday their eight-months-old son Henry died.

More than 100 tickets have been sold for the entertainment to be given this evening in the town hall. The proceeds will be devoted to furnishing the new school.

The officers of the Pelham Grange have been installed as follows—Worthy master, Howard H. Chase; overseer, Arthur P. Atwood; lecturer, Miss M. A. Cloyd; steward, S. H. Lyon; assistant steward, Roy Jones; chaplain, Miss Susan Smith; treasurer, Charles W. Hobbs; secretary, Miss Mary E. Hobbs; gate-keeper, James Macaldin; Pomona, Miss Philena A. Cloyd; Flora, Miss Jennie R. Stickney; Ceres, Mrs. Nellie Chase; lady assistant steward, Miss H. B. Hayes.

FOUGHT A DRAW.

MARLBORO, Mass., Jan. 5.—Peter Sullivan, of Fall River, and Charles Sieger of New York fought fifteen rounds to a draw at the Highland Athletic club last night. By agreement, if both men were on their feet at the end of the bout, the result was to be declared drawn. Sullivan, however, had a bit the better of the contest.

SUIT IS SETTLED

Damon Patents Have Been Purchased

Among the cases recently settled in the United States circuit court is one which has interest for Lowell people. The case arose over patents taken out in 1890 by George H. Damon, who will be remembered by many as the constructing engineer of the Lowell & Nashua street railroad at that time. These patents were upon an air brake for electric cars which was afterwards manufactured in large numbers by the Christensen Engineering Company of Milwaukee, Wis. The brake with which the company equipped almost every electric railroad in the United States, was claimed to be a direct infringement of the Damon patents. Some two years ago suit was brought in the United States Circuit court against the Boston & Northern Street Railway company for infringement of the Damon patents by Fisher H. and Gardner W. Pearson of this city, associated with whom were Phillips, Van Everen & Fish of Boston. While the Boston & Northern were the nominal defendants, the Christensen Engineering company were the real defendants and were represented by Wetmore and Jenner of New York, Joseph C. Livermore of Boston and Winkler, Flanders, Smith, Bottum & Vilas of Milwaukee, Wis. After taking voluminous testimony and the usual preliminaries of a law suit, the matter was finally compromised by the payment of what is said to be a very large sum of money for the purchase of the Damon patents by the Christensen company.

BOXING GOSSIP

Ring followers are at a loss to know why Abe Attell, who says he is the featherweight champion, does not consent to a match with Harry Harris, one of the best boys of his weight in the profession. Harris has made numerous attempts to get on a match with Attell, but in each instance the latter has turned him down. Harris says he does not want to meet Attell in a six round bout over in Philadelphia but prefers a fifteen round or a twenty round affair on the Coast, where there can be no interference from the authorities. He is doing some boxing at local clubs just now and is in fine trim. It was in 1898 that Harris met Charley Roden, a tough customer, in the preliminary bout the night Corbett met Sharkey at the Lenox A. C. in New York. Harris outpointed the man from Jersey with straight left hand jabs until finally he had a chance to throw over his right. The blow was so powerful that Roden was not only knocked out but had his jaw broken. This was sufficient proof of Harris's punching ability, which he still possesses. Later Harris defeated Pedlar Palmer in England when the latter was good, which was further evidence of his skill. He can fight at 116 pounds if necessary, and Attell cannot afford to dodge him much longer, so the ring experts say.

Many persons who saw the Tucker-Murphy battle on New Year's day say that if a decision had been rendered it would have been in favor of Tucker, as he had all the better of two and a half rounds. A fighter who does the bulk of the work in a short bout of this kind cannot lose a pronounced advantage if his opponent finally succeeds in scoring a majority of the points in the last half of the third round. To have pronounced such a onesided contest a draw would have been manifestly unfair to Tucker when he clearly earned a decision if it had been legal to give one.

Bob Fitzsimmons says now that he was not the inventor of the famous "left shift," with which he dropped Corbett, Ruhlin and others. But he declares that he improved upon it to a marked degree. "It was the most effective blow I ever delivered," said Fitz the other day, "and it took the experts a long time to get onto it. I had Corbett completely baffled when I landed the 'shift' at Carson City, and it was a long time before he found out just how I got to his solar plexus. If I had been myself in the fight with O'Brien I would have got the blow home, but I had no speed and that proved too great a handicap for me."

charge whereupon he raised his hand as if to strike her. The frightened woman then has the little Federoen holding her infant tightly toward her breast. The infuriated husband [illegible] and as he did his eye lighted on a big flatiron on the stove, one of the pointed variety with a wooden handle.

Czigl[is] grasped the flatiron by the handle and strode into the bedroom. His wife flew to the window overlooking an alley or backyard [illegible] it but it was [illegible] she dropped into the [illegible] her motherly instinct [illegible] some such a position [illegible] between her and [illegible] hidden from the [illegible] view of the demoniacal father.

Down with fatal force descended the deadly [illegible], a crushing blow on the left [illegible]. She fell against the wall with the baby under her. She turned slightly and again the flatiron descended this time striking her behind the left ear, crushing the head at the base of the skull. The effect of the blows were too gruesome for description, suffice to state that either would have produced death.

After the second blow the unfortunate woman rolled over slightly disclosing the infant which had escaped without injury.

Czigl[is] stood gazing at his wife and then realizing what he had done lifted her onto the bed nearby, placed the infant beside her and went out of the house.

MAMIE CANDIA'S AWFUL DISCOVERY.

The murder was committed in a minute's time and not a word above the drunken mutterings of the murderer was spoken. The two children asleep in the next room were not disturbed in their slumbers and continued to sleep after their father had left the house. It was then about five o'clock as he had been seen to enter the house shortly before that hour. In leaving the house Czigl[is] forgot to lock the door of the tenement after him and hence the discovery of the murder shortly afterward. About 5.15 o'clock the infant lying beside the unconscious woman began to wail but there was no one to answer its cry. The baby continued wailing until it awakened the sickly child which also began to cry. Finally the oldest child awoke and becoming frightened in the darkness began to call lustily for her mother. Receiving no answer she too began to cry.

In the tenement above lives a Portuguese family named Candia and the only one at home was little Mamie Candia, aged 10 years, a bright, pretty little girl. There had never been any intercourse between the two families and when Mamie first heard the cries through the open door she paid no attention to them. But as they continued her sympathetic little heart was touched and she quietly stole down stairs to see what the matter might be. She peered into the darkness of the room but was unable to see any signs of life and she heard no noise except the cryig of the children. Being afraid to enter the room alone she went into the court and there met Mrs. Susan Marshall, who lives in the lower half of the house down stairs. In broken English she told Mrs. Marshall about the children, expressing the fear that something was wrong in the tenement.

THE POLICE ARRIVE.

Mrs. Marshall entered the darkened tenement and called out, only to hear the cries of the children in response to her call. She then entered the bedroom and there was just light enough through the window for her to discern the outlines of a human form on the bed. Going over she placed her hand on the woman's shoulder to awaken her and quickly withdrew it. The upper part of the woman's body was soaking wet. She then called aloud: "Are you sick?" but the form on the bed never moved.

A great fear then took possession of her and she called to the little girl to get a match. Little Mamie, who had followed her into the tenement, ran upstairs and procured a light. The sight that met their eyes as they stood in the dim light of that little room completely unnerved both of them. The unfortunate woman, just barely alive, lay bathed in blood on the bed with the infant also completely besmeared with blood, at her side. On the floor was a great pool of blood in the corner where the crime was committed, while nearby a blood-covered flatiron told the remainder of the tragic story. To add to the horror of the scene the children wailed at the tops of their voices.

Dropping the light on the table Mrs. Marshall ran screaming from the house, followed by the little girl.

THE POLICE ARRIVE.

Mrs. Marshall ran to Gorham street where she pointed to the house and cried: "Murder" to every one she met. She ran into Marren's saloon and told them in an incoherent manner what she had seen, and a telephone message was immediately sent to the police station. Meanwhile the Candia girl had told another girl who ran to the store of Bornstein & Quinn nearby and another telephone message was sent to the police station.

William Harrigan of the Harvard brewery who was driving down Gorahm street at the time heard of the tragedy and started off in his team to find a policeman. In a few minutes he returned with Sergt. Martin Connors and Officer William J. O'Brien, and they were closely followed by Warrant Officer Bumps, Inspectors Laflamme and Maher and Officer Wesley Wilson.

The ambulance meanwhile had been summoned and the dying woman was hurried to St. John's hospital. The three children who kept up a pitiful crying were taken temporarily in charge by a Polish woman living in the neighborhood and later were taken to the Day Nursery.

The husband was well known to several of the officers, having been in court on several occasions for drunkenness. At roll call a description of the murderer was given out and Inspectors Laflamme, Maher and Walsh were detailed on the case while Officers Dooley, O'Brien, Cawley, Flenagan and Breault who knew Czigl[is] were detailed on the case in plain clothes.

AT THE HOSPITAL.

Upon the arrival of the ambulance at the hospital the unfortunate woman was placed on the operating table and an examination of her wounds made by Drs. J. F. Loughran and Frank O'Sullivan. It was found that she had a compound fracture at the base of the skull which in itself was sufficient to cause death. The cheek bone on the left side was fractured while the small bones under the eye were broken. The woman had lost a great amount of blood during the time she had lain unattended and the surgeons pronounced her case fatal although an operation was performed in the hope of saving her. She died at 7.15 and was unconscious most of the time.

CZIGLIS CAPTURED.

A description of Czigl[is] was given to every officer on a beat and one point about the description by which the police were confident that they would get the man was the fact that he is unusually tall for one of his nationality. Shortly after seven o'clock, or just about the time that his wife passed away, C[zigl]is was placed under arrest at the corner of Chelmsford at [illegible] by Patrolman Patrick Sullivan [illegible] who though with out at [illegible] as an officer proved just [illegible] to be made of the right material [illegible] was walking [illegible] in the direction of Chelmsford [illegible] passed along Chelmsford [illegible] in the direction of [illegible] somewhat under the influence of liquor. Officer Sullivan [illegible] mind noted that the man [illegible] and intoxicated. He then [illegible] to see if he was a foreigner [illegible] up with him he placed [illegible] his shoulder and turned [illegible] to the light. He saw that the stranger answered the description [illegible] started to question him. Czigl[is] [illegible] saying that the officer knew him [illegible] something about leaving [illegible] the officer asked him if [illegible] his wife and he replied that they had quarreled. The officer then [illegible] to the box and telephoned [illegible] of the capture to the police station.

At the police station Czigl[is] was put through a [illegible] examination by Deputy Welch and Captain Kew. He appeared [illegible] accused his wife of unfaithfulness stating that she had been with another man on Wednesday and he [illegible] "I like to kill both of them [illegible]"

When questioned as to the assault he admitted having struck his wife saying, "I say something to her; she say something to me, I take iron and hit her."

Czigl[is] then told the story of the assault as given above except that he says he doesn't remember whether he placed his wife on the bed or whether she crawled there herself after he went out. It is most improbable that she got there any other way than with his assistance. He did not seem to realize that his assault was anything out of the ordinary and refused to believe that she was dead.

THE HUSBAND'S RECORD

It is passing strange, yet a matter of police records that the conditions which existed between husband and wife in this case are not even unusual except in the fatal result which followed in this particular case. Every time Czigl[is] got drunk he would abuse his wife frightfully and yet every time he has been arrested his wife has appeared in court in his behalf and has complained of the action of the police in arresting him, and hardly a week passes but some similar case is heard in police court.

On May 13 last, Czigl[is] was taken from his tenement for drunkenness by Officers Dooley and Dwyer while in a drunken rage he was beating his wife, whose screams disturbed the neighborhood. The following day in court Mrs. Czigl[is] appeared and asked that he be let go, stating that he was a good man when not drinking and her sole support. He was placed on probation. On June 24 last he was arrested, this time by Officers Dooley and Flanagan from a tenement in Middlesex street where the screams of his wife, whom he was beating, and his own drunken outcries, had been making the night hideous. The next day the wife appeared in court again and begged that he be let off, using a similar story as before and even denying that he was as abusive as the officers said he was. He received a suspended sentence of five months.

On July 29th, his last appearance in court, having been arrested under similar conditions by Officer Breault, the wife appeared in court carrying her two children. Once more she pleaded that he was a good man when not drinking, and asked that he be let go in order to provide support for her and her children. On this occasion Deputy Welch cried out: "This man will kill this little woman, yet, your honor." The court seemed impressed with the earnestness of the prosecuting officer, and instead of immediately placing Czigl[is] on probation again sent him to jail for ten days to get him thoroughly sobered up.

The next appearance of Czigl[is] at the police station was last Sunday night when somewhat the worse for liquor he appeared with a relative and accused one Simon Koslosky with having stolen a ring while a guest at the christening above referred to. Koslosky was arrested Monday and fined $10 for the theft.

In the neighborhood the murdered woman bore a good reputation and the [illegible] jealousy of her husband was unfounded. It is believed that he was subject to insane periods and some time ago was sent to the city farm. Here again his faithful wife went to his assistance and secured his release only to take up a life of fear and anguish culminating in the tragic fate recorded above.

CLIGLIS IN COURT

ADMITTED GUILT AND WAS SENT TO JAIL.

"I am guilty, I hit her twice," was the awful admission made by Czigl[is], in police court this morning, when the complaint charging him with the murder of his wife was read to him.

With a bar filled with lawyers and the gallery thronged with spectators, all anxious to get a look at the murderer who occupied a seat in the dock, Judge Hadley opened the police court session.

Lawrence Czigl[is] was called upon to plead to a complaint charging him with murder. Through his counsel, Dennis J. Murphy, Esq., he waived the reading of the complaint, but Judge Hadley thought it was necessary to read the entire complaint and it was read by Clerk Savage. At the conclusion of this reading of the complaint the entire document was explained to the defendant by Interpreter Stein.

At the conclusion of this explanation Czigl[is] was asked: "Are you guilty or not guilty?"

In a firm voice Czigl[is] replied, "I am guilty. I hit her twice."

Of course the court could not receive this plea [illegible] it was ordered to [illegible] Judge Hadley [illegible] be fully [illegible] his attorney [illegible] court on [illegible] and Czigl[is] was [illegible] the [illegible] not guilty.

Woman Says That She Stole Diamonds

MAN ACCUSED OF SMUGGLING

Will Go Free on That Charge

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—Through the timely arrest of [illegible] a woman of many aliases and self-confessed diamond thief, Hans Hoffman, reputed burglar and diamond smuggler of international fame, may escape punishment in the United States court for a crime which he is said to have confessed to agents [illegible] and Webb of the secret service. Hoffman will try to show that the diamonds were stolen from a house in New York. Hoffman, who stood accused of smuggling two hundred diamonds through the port of Boston, was arrested while disposing of gems in Chicago. The government detective say that Hoffman confessed to smuggling. When arraigned before Judge [illegible] yesterday the prisoner entered a plea of not guilty. He looks for the plea to [illegible] the recent arrest of [illegible] as an accomplice. The woman confessed that she robbed a house in New York of diamonds. She said Hoffman merely met her some distance from the house and helped to carry the booty. If Hoffman can show that the woman's story is true he will escape punishment here and it is believed that he will [illegible] escape punishment if tried for robbery in New York.

MONEY MATTERS

Caused the Trouble in the Hiller Family

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 5.- With a uniformed officer of the police force on duty at his house, A. Maxcy Hiller, who was detained temporarily as a witness last evening during the coroner's investigation of the death of his brother-in-law, Charles A. Edwards of New York, was allowed to pass the night at his own residence on Temple street. The long examination to which both Mr. Hiller and his brother, Judge Charles A. Hiller, were subjected by the coroner yesterday, told on both men, but was particularly evident in the case of A. Maxcy Hiller. When early in the evening the coroner ordered an adjournment of the inquest for dinner, Judge Hiller was permitted to return to the family homestead on College street, where the tragedy occurred, while A. Maxcy Hiller was sent to police headquarters. The latter then nearly broke down from nervous excitement but two hours later had recovered his composure to a great extent.

The detention of Mr. Hiller was followed by an explanation from Coroner Mix to the effect that the former was only held as a witness and that there was no charge against him. When about midnight Mr. Hiller was sent home accompanied by two detectives and a policeman, Coroner Mix again declared that he was not under arrest.

It was expected this morning that the inquest would be resumed today.

The coroner refused to give any information as to what evidence developed during yesterday's proceedings, but it is understood that the inquiry was largely into the family financial affairs and the relations existing between A. Maxcy Hiller and his brother-in-law.

The reported desire of Mr. Hiller to be administrator of the estate of his mother, the late Mrs. Abigail Hiller, and the alleged opposition of Charles Hiller and of Mr. and Mrs. Edwards to his appointment were especially touched upon, it is said.

A. Maxcy Hiller acted as legal and financial adviser of his mother. He said yesterday that he believed that she left a will but he declared that he did not draw up the document. Mr. Hiller expressed the opinion that the will would be found in an old safe at the Hiller homestead. The key of this safe he said had been missing since the death of his mother two months ago, but as it was thought very probable that it might be found any day no attempt had been made to open the safe by other means. Judge Charles A. Hiller, who lives at the Hiller homestead is a resident of Kansas where his wife and children now are, but he has been here for more than a year, having remained at his brother's side during the closing days of her life.

Although the report of the medical examiner, Dr. C. I. Bartlett, who conducted the autopsy yesterday has not been given out, it is understood that the examination of the body did not in itself throw light upon the question whether the case was one of murder or suicide. The course of the bullet which entered the head through the upper part of the left ear and stopped just beneath the top of the skull, showed that it was fired at an angle, and from a point near the shoulder, probably. It was possible, it was said, for a man to have inflicted such a wound upon himself but the continued failure to find the weapon with which the shooting was done, seems to do away with the suicide theory. The doors of the Hiller homestead have been ripped up, the drainage pipes examined and the ground under and around the house dug up without shedding any results in the hope of finding the pistol. The autopsy developed that it was a 22-calibre weapon. Shortly after nine o'clock this morning Coroner Mix arrived at his office and announced that he would immediately resume the inquest.

A BIG SENSATION.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 5.- Allan Maxcy Hiller, brother-in-law of Charles A. Edwards, the New York man who was shot to death in a mysterious manner Tuesday night, while at the home of Charles A. Hiller, another brother-in-law, at 117 College street, last night for a short time was locked up at police headquarters by order of Coroner Mix. It was later explained by the latter official that he wished to have Mr. Hiller handy on the resumption of the inquest later in the evening and that Mr. Hiller was simply held as a witness and at the time in no other connection with the case.

This action was taken at the end of a sitting of the coroner's inquest of about five hours. Mr. Hiller was in the coroner's office when the order was given and Detective Ward at once conducted him to the station house. At the same time Charles Hiller, the brother was allowed to go home for supper. Maxcy Hiller had a telephone message sent to his counsel, E. P. Arvine, and the latter quickly responded and accompanied Mr. Hiller to the station house.

The news of the coroner's action spread like wildfire and the general opposition was reached that Mr. Hiller had been placed under arrest. For this reason Coroner Mix made the definite announcement that Maxcy Hiller's detention was simply temporary so far as he could determine at the time and it was also stated that after in the evening the inquest would be resumed in the coroner's office. This proved to be the case for at nine o'clock the inquest was resumed and among the witnesses called were Mrs. Maxcy Hiller, Charles Hiller and Maxcy Hiller, the latter being conducted from the station house about 10.30 o'clock.

Among those who were with the coroner at the time was Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Hoyt of the city court. The examination of Mrs. Hiller proved a somewhat difficult task owing to the fact that she is extremely hard of hearing. Maxcy Hiller was also further examined. It is understood that the examination of witnesses did not develop any special features. The questioning was mostly as to family affairs of the Hillers, and it is understood that admissions were made that the disagreements between Maxcy Hiller and his sister, Mrs. Edwards, were very bitter and that the alleged enmity of the former extended to Mr. Edwards. It is understood that the coroner in the course of his all-day inquiry has found that Mr. Edwards had often told his friends that Maxcy Hiller had made threats against him.

No little sensation was created by the detention of Maxcy Hiller as a witness at this stage of the inquiry, while his brother was permitted to return home. The inquest was opened shortly after the noon hour and was a resumption of that opened Wednesday by Deputy Coroner Pond in the absence of Mr. Mix. Another long drawn out proceeding was the autopsy on the body of M. Edwards, which was begun at ten o'clock yesterday morning and completed at 11 o'clock last night. Medical Examiner Bartlett, who was in charge, then began the preparation of his report which will go to the coroner.

It is stated that the report will show that Mr. Edwards was killed by a ball of 22-calibre, which entered the left side of the head behind the ear and ranged upwards until it almost protruded on the top of the cranium. The weapon used must have been held very close to the head. The point whether the pistol was held by Mr. Edwards or by another person is not yet made clear, as the coroner has not announced the medical examiner's verbal report, but it is understood that an opinion has been expressed that such a wound might have been self-inflicted but in this instance it was unlikely.

A PANEL WORKER

Ollie Roberts Has Made a Confession

ABOUT $1,000,000 WAS STOLEN

Police Got Big End, She Says

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan 4--Police Commissioner Andrew C. Maroney of St. Louis, formerly assistant district attorney under Folk, yesterday related to the most astounding tale of police corruption and graft that probably ever was told in America.

Ollie Roberts, a notorious panel worker of St. Louis, who is serving a sentence of 10 years for killing John Kelley in one of her Chestnut street houses, made a full confession to Maroney of all her crimes and gave in detail the history of the police graft that proceeded uninterruptedly for five years to her knowledge, during which time $1,000,000 was stolen from men who frequented the three houses run by the Roberts women, and a few other houses run by other women, also engaged in the panel working business.

Of this $1,000,000 Ollie Roberts says two-thirds went to the police. She gave from memory dates, names and amounts, but for positive details she referred Maroney to her now famous book on "Graft," which is now in St. Louis, and which Maroney will secure immediately on his return from Jefferson City.

This little book, of which so much has been written during the last two weeks, is a complete, lawyer like record of all the crimes committed by the Roberts woman and her associates and the amounts paid for police protection.

The confession made by the Roberts woman implicates 91 women, 6 police sergeants, 25 uniformed patrolmen, 10 special policemen and 8 detectives of Chief Desmond's staff. The incidents she relates cover a period of five years from 1899.

As to the police share of the plunder she is corroborated by Sam Lears, who is now telling the grand jury all he knows of police graft in the Red Lands.

Ollie Roberts will tell her story in detail to the grand jury next week.

BOY MURDERED

His Body Found on Railroad Tracks

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.--The apparent murder of a boy stirred the Grand Crossing police into sharp action last night. The body of Robert Collier, 17 years old was found on the Nickel Plate railroad tracks with the head lying across the tracks. No train had passed over the spot after the body was placed there and before it was removed.

It is the belief of the police that Collier had been murdered while in the rear of a barn belonging to John Swaggert, a neighbor, and that the body had been carried to the tracks.

The Collier boy lived with his parents and was employed in the Pullman car shops.

The boy evidently had been struck on the back of the head with a club. The skull was found to have been fractured by the blow. The theory of the police that a murder had been committed was further strengthened by signs of a struggle at the rear of Swaggert's barn.

Heel marks were plainly visible in the soft earth for several feet. The police found blood spots in places about the spot and from the varying size of the foot prints made they believe two persons were implicated in the crime. One may have been a woman because of the small imprint of the shoes.

TWO INJURED

BOSTON MEN VICTIMS OF STRANGE ACCIDENT.

BOSTON, Jan. 5--Two men were knocked down about 2.30 yesterday afternoon on Washington street in a very peculiar accident, which further resulted in the breaking of a large plate-glass window in the store of Browning, King & Co., numbered 405 and 411.

A two-horse tipcart heavily loaded and driven by John McKinnon of 117 Union park street, was proceeding up Washington street, and when in front of the Browning, King & Co. store the pole of the cart broke, putting it out of commission.

The driver stepped from his seat, and after waiting for a time decided he couldn't make repairs, so he detached the horses and left them standing by the sidewalk. Then he climbed onto the seat to get blankets for the animals. He [illegible] somewhat at one of the blankets, which became caught, and in doing so jolted the cart just enough to cause the body of it to settle. The weight of the load fell on the front truck, causing the [illegible] to first ascend and then swing [illegible] with a bang, knocking two [illegible] and crashing into the glass. [illegible] injured were C. C. Halliday, [illegible] old, of 43 Hewins street, [illegible], and Thomas Sydney, 25 years [illegible] of 29 Worcester square. An [illegible] was called, but neither would go to [illegible] hospital.

HEALTH BOARD

MAY COLLECT OFFAL FROM MEAT MARKETS.

The board of health held a meeting at city hall yesterday afternoon with all members present.

The butchers' request of some months ago that the board of health collect the refuse from their stores was brought up. It was stated that it would mean an expense of about $15 a week.

Mr. Doherty made a motion to the effect that the agent be instructed to make out an estimate of the cost of the work for the year, and it was voted. This will be included in the estimates to be submitted to the committee on appropriations.

On motion of Dr. Jackson it was voted to adopt the Bertillon system of classification of diseases for the present year.

Owen Quinnen of 27 Merrill street expressed a willingness to build a cellar and make sewer connections satisfactory to the board at his barn in Merrill street. The board voted to view the premises this afternoon after 4 o'clock.

PARK COMMISSION MET.

The members of the park commission met at city hall last night and voted to award the contract for painting the annual report to the Butterfield Co. Routine matters were acted upon.
